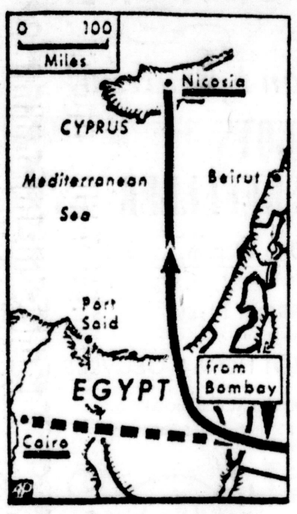
Four Survive Swiss Tourist Plane Crash

Worst-Ever Air Disaster For Mediterranean Isle



ILL-FATED JOURNEY
Plane tried to duck storm

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—All but four of the 130 persons aboard a chartered Swiss airliner on an economy vacation flight were killed today when the plane was hit by lightning and crashed while trying to land in a rain and hail storm.

It was the worst air disaster ever to occur on this Mediterranean island and one of the worst in civil aviation history. (See photo page 3.)

The four-engine turbo-prop, carrying 120 passengers and a crew of 10, slammed into a hill in flames and disintegrated, authorities said. The plane, returning vacationers from a cut-rate trip to Asia, was operated by Globe Air Charter of Basel, Switzerland.

Of the four survivors, three were critically injured. But one man, identified as Nicholas Pulver of Switzerland, escaped with only minor injuries and was able to talk with rescue workers.

No Americans were aboard the ill-fated airliner, authorities said.

THREE MILES AWAY

The crash occurred on a hillside three miles from Cyprus International Airport in the predawn hours. The area was strewn with battered toys and other souvenirs of the vacation trip to the Far East.

Cypriot National Guardsmen slogging through the blood-streaked mire found the body of a little girl clutching a tiny doll and a red umbrella. Tears poured down their faces along with the driving rain as they lugged scorched bodies away from the battered and tattered momentos of what was a honeymoon for some, a vacation in fabled lands for others.

The gray dawn revealed remnants of colorful Indian saris, children's toys, a two-foot-high gold statue of Buddha carefully swathed in white cloth.

The blanket-wrapped bodies were put aboard four army trucks.

WORST DISASTER

The ill-fated Bangkok to Zurich flight was Switzerland's worst aviation disaster. Only five other air accidents in history have caused greater loss of life. In Zurich, groups of friends and relatives waiting at the airport were led into a private office and told of the disaster. Many were sobbing as they were ushered out through a back door.

Airport officials said the four-engine, British-built Britannia turbo-prop slammed into a hill about three miles south of the runway where it was to make an emergency landing.

They said it circled twice and was trying a third approach in the blinding storm when it lost contact with the control tower and crashed.

Civil aviation authorities said the British pilot radioed Nicosia that the plane was struck by lightning while about six miles away. He was ordered to make an emergency landing on a closer runway than the one assigned originally. The flight had been diverted by weather from Cairo to Cyprus for its refueling stop.

Surveyor 3 Lands Safely, Sends Photos

The gallant little space geologist made a dramatic soft-landing in the moon's Ocean of Storms last night, but immediately signaled it was having power problems.

Controllers at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory at first believed the three-legged spacecraft was drawing too much power from its batteries. Later, however, scientists determined the problem lay in Surveyor 3's telemetry system and would not affect its ability to return photographs or operate a small power shovel designed to test the strength and composition of the lunar crust.

An initial series of 54 photos—returned on a medium quality, 200-line screen, proved virtually worthless because of the extreme glare from the sun. However, by 12:45 a.m. PST today, the spacecraft has responded to commands from earth to erect its solar panel and point its high-gain antenna toward earth to allow transmission of television pictures in a high quality, 600-line mode.

A JPL official said Surveyor 3 then proceeded to take photographs for more than an hour, both with wide and narrow angle lenses. He said the pictures were panoramas of the immediate terrain around the spacecraft and were "interesting and of high quality."

It was believed that the spacecraft would be asked sometime today to use its 18-inch metal claw digger to begin sampling the nearby terrain.

Surveyor 3's mission to sample the moon's crust is expected to tell scientists if an Apollo spaceship can land safely on the moon by 1970.

Castor Bean Gives Tot Upset Tummy

Little Lisa Sternberger, aged 2, played with almost certain death yesterday — and excaped with little more than injured curiosity and a very upset tummy.

She was playing with a necklace at her home at 2066 Huckleberry Road, Marinwood when curiosity got the better of her and she broke open a bead and began to eat it.

It was a castor bean — highly toxic and fatal to a child who eats more than three.

Lisa was rushed by United Ambulance to Marin General Hospital where the emergency staff worked frantically to save her life. Today she was out of danger and listed in fair condition.

Her father, Peter C. Sternberger, said today: "The necklace was bought in Mexico and given us by a friend. We had no idea it contained several castor beans."

Said Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer: "If the bean is swallowed whole there is less danger than if it is broken open. They are particular attractive to children as playthings. As few as six can be fatal for an adult."

County Agricultural Commissioner Richard T. Straw warned Marin residents who cultivate the beans for ornamental purposes. "The beans have no useful purpose in gardens and are a potential danger," he said.

MANY CHARGES, HIGH BAIL

A Doggy Evening And Wild Chase

An alleged dognaper and her five auto passengers — all dogs — gave a caravan of pursuing police cars a wild chase resulting in three damaged vehicles yesterday evening before she was halted in heavy Highway 101 traffic.

Booked at Marin County Jail on a Nevada County grand theft arrest warrant — plus a battery of new charges involving the chase — was Lorraine Gunnar of 31 Manzanita Avenue, San Rafael.

She was then released on a total of $15,011 bail pending arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Sheriff's officers said they had been seeking Mrs. Gunnar, alias Edna Louise Croce and Lura Elizabeth Mitchell, for several weeks on the warranty alleging she stole a valuable dog in Nevada County.

At 5:20 p.m. yesterday, they said, an informant telephoned that she was parked in her 1963 white Cadillac in the 300 block of Canal Street, San Rafael. Inspectors Harold V. Sleezer and William Bradford approached her in an unmarked patrol car, but she saw them and drove off.

With her, they said, were the dogs — two Pekingese, two poodles, and one mongrel.

The officers, with red light and siren on, gave chase. Their quarry halted, but then backed her car into the sheriff's right side. The damage was only minor, the officers said. But she again drove off.

This time, she was not stopped so easily.

Inspectors Sleezer and Bradford chased her to Francisco Boulevard, and southbound onto Highway 101. There they were joined by another sheriff's car driven by Deputy W. G. Donovan, a Larkspur police car driven by Officer Raymond L. DeLeon, and a Corte Madera police car driven by Officer William Reed.

Despite heavy commuter-hour traffic, officers said, Mrs. Gunnar attained speeds up to 85 miles an hour. Her erratic, evasive route included all three traffic lanes, they claimed, forcing at least eight motorists off the road.

LIGHTS ON

The four police cars, all with red lights flashing and sirens screaming, attempted several times to box the Gunnar car in, they said. Once Officer Reed said, the woman veered at him, almost striking his car.

Deputy Donovan finally got ahead of Mrs. Gunnar, then slowed his vehicle to force her to halt.

Instead, he said, her car hit his in the rear, knocking it into a broadside skid. She then veered around his skidding auto and continued flight.

Officer DeLeon's pursuing car struck Donovan's auto. Again, only minor damage resulted, they said.

BOOKED AT JAIL

Mrs. Gunnar, hand-cuffed, was booked at jail for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon in the alleged auto assault on Officer Reed, with driving without a driver's license, reckless driving, failure to heed the red lights and sirens, hit-and-run property damage on the sheriff's cars, and avoiding arrest.

The five dogs were taken to Marin County Humane Society pound. The car was towed to a garage.

A humane society spokesman said Mrs. Gunnar recovered the dogs this morning, however.

None of them was the valuable Nevada County canine, officers said. It was still missing.

Sausalitans Launch Drive For Library Referendum

Thirty-two petitions seeking a referendum on Sausalito City Council's decision to finance a waterfront library through lease-purchase plan were circulated last night at the first meeting of Sausalito Voters League, a new organization formed to put the plan to the voters.

W. Bruce Shafer was elected chairman and George C. Carney, treasurer. Shafer was chairman of a citizen committee studying the library which last week recommended it be built on Bridgeway, north of Bank of America.

Fifty petitions are expected to be in circulation by tonight, Shafer said. Twenty persons attended the meeting last night in Campbell Hall, he said, and a second meeting will be held late next week.

The voters league has until May 10 to collect signatures of 10 per cent of the registered voters in the city, or about 300 signatures, to force a referendum.

Mayor Mel Wax argued last week that since 56 per cent voted for the waterfront site in last month's defeated $250,000 library bond measure, the waterfront site was the choice of the majority.

U.S. Raids Inside Haiphong Limits

Reds Hit 'Serious' Step-Up

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. Navy jets flew through missiles, antiaircraft fire and aerial mines today and bombed the North Vietnamese port city of Haiphong for the first time. The raid knocked out both of the city's power plants and plunged the port into darkness.

A spokesman said all raids within 10 miles of the cities of the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi and its port of Haiphong must have White House approval and that today's raid, half a mile from downtown Haiphong and carried out in two waves, had President Johnson's approval.

REDS UNHAPPY

Hanoi Radio called the attack an "extremely serious step of war escalation" and said five U.S. planes were shot down. A U.S. spokesman said no planes were shot down and that only one was damaged. He said it had nine holes in it from one of the surface-to-air (SAM) missiles fired at the raiders.

Although it was the first time the Americans have actually hit inside Haiphong, Adm. Roy Johnson, commander of the Pacific Fleet, said he did not consider it an escalation of the war.

"I don't consider this an escalation in any sense because we have hit power plants before," Johnson said.

The first raid on a power plant came last June 29 when U.S. Navy jets hit a plant two miles from the heart of Haiphong.

MILEAGES TOLD

Military headquarters in Saigon issued a terse communique which said the power plants were 1.1 miles northwest and 2.1 miles northeast of Haiphong. A military spokesman said the distance measured from the center of the city.

Hanoi Radio said residential as well as industrial sections of the city were struck and that American bombs fell inside and on the outskirts of the city. An earlier report told of dogfights over the city but the latest Hanoi charge said only that intense and accurate ground fire shot down five U.S. aircraft and damaged many others.

"The U.S. aggressors took a new, extremely serious step of war escalation by sending many waves of aircraft to make frenzied raids on a number of densely populated quarters and industrial establishments inside and on the outskirts of the Haiphong Port City," the broadcast said.

An American spokesman said the raid was carried out in clear flying weather and that

Soviet Pledges Help For Hanoi

BERLIN (UPI)— Soviet Communist Party Leader Leonid Brezhnev today promise Vietnamese Communists "direct and active political, economic and military help."

In a speech at the Carl Zeiss factory in Jena, Brezhnev accused American leaders of lying about their efforts to make peace in Vietnam.

"Food, fuel, raw materials, vehicles, munitions and arms of all kinds are flowing in an unbroken stream to Vietnam from the Soviet Union, the German Democratic Republic (East Germany) and other socialist states" he said.

Strawberry Annex In Motion Again

Tiburon's all-peninsula annexation proposal (also known as the "Strawberry pie") came to life again today with announcement by an Eagle Rock resident that an annexation petition will be presented to the Tiburon City Council Monday night.

David M. Dooley of 27 Eagle Rock Road said he is chairman of the Eagle Rock Committee of Ten, formed to push the annexation.

The area proposed to be added to Marin's newest city would include all land on the Tiburon Peninsula east of Highway 101 and south of Corte Madera.

This totals approximately 3.6 square miles. It would thus double the present land area of the City of Tiburon, which has an area of 13.8 square miles but with 10.2 square miles under water, said City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose.

Included would be the Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center, the sales tax plum (or strawberry) which brought rival annexation petitions last year from Tiburon and Mill Valley and a short-lived Strawberry incorporation move.

The annexation idea has lain dormant since the Marin County Local Agency Commission last Nov. 10 gave Tiburon the go-ahead. Mill Valley had earlier withdrawn its petition in the face of opposition from residents of the area.

Dooley said the petition would call for annexation of all of the Tiburon peninsula not now within the city limits of Tiburon or Belvedere.

"We are supporting this move because we feel there will be no change of the tax situation and we will be closer to services such as police protection and planning, now provided by the county," he said.

There are 2,095 registered voters in the area, so an election would be required for the annexation.

When the Local Agency Formation Commission (with County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen dissenting) approved Tiburon's bid last November, it gave the city a year to complete the pro-

Adenauer's Mourners May Hold Summit

BONN (UPI) — President Johnson, French President Charles de Gaulle and other Western leaders who will attend Tuesday's funeral rites for former chancellor Konrad Adenauer will meet in an informal summit conference, West German government sources said today.

The funeral will bring together the greatest assemblage of world leaders since the November, 1963, funeral of President John F. Kennedy. It will be the first Johnson-de Gaulle meeting since that time. British Prime Minister Harold Wilson also will be here for the Adenauer rites.

They were expected to meet while atttending Bundestag memorial services here and the funeral at Cologne.

Their talks here were expected to deal with the troubled Western alliance which formed the final concern and political testament of Adenauer, West Germany's post-war leader who died Wednesday at 91.

There was no announced

No One Injured In Crash Landing

MANSTON, England (UPI)— A British Britannia airliner with 64 persons aboard crashlanded safely today at the end of a five-hour drama caused by a jammed undercarriage. A small fire broke out but was quickly extinguished.

The undercarriage of the turbo-prop airliner collapsed when the plane carrying important government scientists and workers came down on a foam-covered runway at Manston, a former U.S. Air Force base. The plane's landing gear had jammed on takeoff from London for Australia five hours earlier.

All the passengers and crew got off safely, a spokesman for the owners, British Eagle, reported.

Sun's Comeback In Marin Having Rain Competition

That lucky ol' sun is about to make a comeback, but it first may have to face stiff competition from a few scattered showers.

The Weather Bureau expects the showers — accompanied by a thunderstorm or two — will arrive over Marin tonight, dwindling away early tomorrow.

Skies tomorrow will be partly cloudy with temperatures expected to remain on the low side for this time of year, said the bureau.

San Rafael really played it cool overnight, with a low temperature reading of 38, about 10 degrees colder than the night before.

Looking at the rainy side, San Rafael had .06 of an inch in the 24 hours up to noon today, while other parts of the county reported light to moderate readings at 8 a.m.

Santa Venetia had .2 of an inch; Bolinas .19; Terra Linda .15; Sausalito .06, and Tamalpais Valley .02. Hamilton Air Force Base had a reading of .15 of an inch, bringing the total there so far this season to 43.43 inches.

Purge Fears Prod Fund Repeal Try

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shadow of suspicion that President Johnson might be tempted to try to purge some of his congressional critics in 1968 apparently is bolstering efforts to repeal the presidential election campaign financing law.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., trying to reverse the Senate's 48-42 vote for repeal a week ago, has come up with revisions of the act which permits citizens to check off $1 of their income taxes to be divided between the major parties.

ADDED TO BILL

The repealer was added to a tax bill which has been before the Senate nearly three weeks and must go back to the House — which hasn't voted on the campaign finance issue — before it can become law.

One of Long's new proposals would turn over control of the $30 million that could be raised for each party to the presidential nominee or to his agent instead of to the party organization.

Since Johnson can have the 1968 Democratic nomination for the asking, some opponents say privately the President would have the promise of funds, available after Sept. 1, 1968, with which to influence the earlier nomination of senatorial candidates.

FDR CITED

Some critics of Johnson's Vietnam policies fear the President might try, as Franklin D. Roosevelt did in 1938, to purge dissenters in party primaries.

Roosevelt didn't have much luck. But he didn't have the prospect of a $30-million campaign fund to help him oust his critics.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who managed his brother's presidential campaign in 1960, already has outlined to the Senate — without specifically mentioning the possibility of a presidential purge — how it could be done.

Kennedy agreed with Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., author of the repealer, that it was "extremely possible" that promises of future reimbursements could be used to defeat a senator who was "uncooperative."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said his GOP colleagues, who voted solidly for repeal, are not weakening. Gore said he had the promise of at least one Democratic switch for repeal.

Welfare Roll Hard To Cut, Aide Explains

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A new federal study of the 7.3 million Americans on welfare shows that only 50,000 stand any chance of becoming self-supporting within the next few years.

Joseph A. Califano, a top White House aide, told a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society, last night that "the question is no longer whether there should be handouts to the poor, but how to break the poverty cycle."

Califano said the survey, conducted to find out how many persons capable of working are on welfare, showed that only 50,000 males could possibly get off the roles "even if every program, public and private, were adequately staffed and efficiently run."

The study found that of the 7.3 million Americans on welfare, 2.1 million are over 65 with a median age of 72.

An additional 700,000 are either blind or so severely handicapped that they either can't work or their work potential is "extremely limited."

Some 3.5 million receiving welfare benefits are childran whose parents cannot support them. The remaining 1 million are the parents of these children, and only about 150,000 of the parents are fathers.

School Faces General Strike Over Firing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Catholic University of America today faced a general strike by students and faculty members in protest against the dismissal of a young theological professor who advocated liberalization of the church's stand on birth control.

The strike had already closed down the university's famed school of theology, and walkout sentiment was spreading rapidly across the rest of the sprawling campus of America's only national Catholic university.

It was triggered by the ouster of Rev. Charles E. Curran, 33, an assistant professor of moral theology. Fr. Curran told reporters that he was given no statement of the charges against him but was simply called into the rector's office Monday and told that the board of trustees had ordered him fired.

The board of trustees is headed by Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, and includes 33 ranking members of the U.S. hierarchy and 11 laymen. It met last week in Chicago.

Father Curran said his "doctrinal orthodoxy and personal integrity" had been endorsed by his faculty colleagues, who only recently unanimously approved his promotion to associate professor.

Dean Walter Schmitz and the 21 other members of the theology faculty unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that "We cannot and will not function unless and until Fr. Curran is reinstated.

"The academic freedom and security of every professor of this university is jeopardized," they said.

The 360 students of the theological school, including many priests and nuns, had walked out of classes early yesterday, several hours before the faculty went on strike.

The theological faculty appealed to teachers in other schools of the university to join the strike.

Newsmen Rap LBJ Tendency Of Managing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors said today that President Johnson was continuing "to hurt his image and his credibility by consistently trying to make the news sound or seem better than it is."

The committee made the charge in a report presented to the ASNE's annual convention, a three-day affair which opened here today with more than 500 of journalism's big names in attendance.

The report said that despite some "slight improvement in recent months," Johnson's news managing tendency was still apparent. "This tendency, although evident with respect to many kinds of news, is most damaging in connection with Vietnam," the committee said.

Pentagon Kills Navy 'Big Brother' Advice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has killed a Navy "big brother" directive, it was learned today.

The directive advised civilian employes to seek "wise and mature counsel" before linking up with persons or organizations of a political or civic nature.

A Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee became interested in the directive weeks ago, and raised questions about it.

The document was issued under the Navy's security program and was headed "suggested counsel to employes."

It said: "A number of our citizens unwittingly expose themselves to unfavorable or suspicious appraisal which they can and should avoid.

"This may take the form of an indiscreet remark; an unwise selection of friends or associates; membership in an organization whose true objectives are concealed behind a popular and innocuous title; attendance at and participation in the meetings and functions of such organizations even though not an official member; or any of numerous other clever means designed to attract support under false colors or serving to impress an individual with his own importance."

The Navy document did not specify to whom the employes should turn for the "wise and mature counsel." Presumably, such counsel was available from the Navy.

When asked what action it was taking, the Pentagon issued this terse statement: "The Department of Defense has taken action to cancel the directive, effective immediately."

$500 Fine On Quarters Theft

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Lee Bedgood, 32, of Pacifica, was fined $500 and placed on two years probation yesterday for smuggling $94 in quarters out of the U.S Mint here.

The sentence was imposed by U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter who said Bedgood had "an otherwise unblemished background" and was "hard-working."

The mint employe was accused of stealing the money by taping some of the quarters to his legs and hiding the rest in a tobacco pouch. He was arrested in February and pleaded guilty to theft charges.

Real Drinkers Cause Accidents

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Dr. Julian Walker of the California State Department of Public Health told a highway safety symposium yesterday that drunks, not social drinkers, cause most alcohol-aggravated traffic accidents.

He said "moral responsibility" campaigns typified by the "if you drive, don't drink" slogan, have little effect. The public should realize most wrecks involving alcohol are caused by alcoholics, he said.

Bernard H. Fox of the U.S. Public Health Service suggested a special license plate marker or window sticker be used to identify cars driven by convicted drunk drivers.

The private passenger car is used in 90 per cent of all vacation and recreation trips in the U.S.

California Doctors Again Urge New Abortion Law

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Legislation which would liberalize laws affecting therapeutic abortion received renewed support yesterday from the 23,000-member California Medical Association.

The group's new president, Dr. John G. Morrison of San Leandro, said the CMA has been urging broadened abortion laws since 1962.

"We believe the law should be broadened, taking into consideration the health of both the mother and the produce of conception," he told the CMA's 96th annual meeting at the Biltmore Hotel.

Dr. Morrison urged new legislation to "provide for proper medical control through established hospital staffs or component medical society committies."

Outgoing president James C. MacLaggen of San Diego said liberalized abortion laws were still "a highly emotional issue." But, the physician added, there is evidence "that for the good of the patient, existing laws are being broken daily."

Dr. MacLaggen agreed with Morrison that under broadened abortion laws, "no patient, no hospital or no physician would, or could, be pressured into such a therapeutic abortion."

Later, Paul D. Ward, executive director of the California Committee on Regional Medical Programs, announced a federally-financed program to give improved and more rapid medical treatment to persons suffering from heart diseases, cancer and strokes.

Ward said a supplementary grant of $1,099,968 had been announcee in Washington, D.C., Wednesday to begin the program, which is a joint venture of the CMA and the California Hospital Association.

Not Much Harmony

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (UPI)—The Liquor Control Board voted unanimously last night to close the Harmony Room, a nightclub, until April 30 because of an unharmonious brawl that hospitalized two of 13 policemen sent to break it up.

Truck Strike Tension Up In Chicago

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The threat of a nationwide trucking shutdown loomed anew today as negotiations deteriorated on a keystone Teamsters contract in the Chicago area.

The new crisis followed nightlong talks shepherded by federal mediators in an effort to solve the Chicago dispute, which could trigger a blowup of the new nationwide Teamster contract agreed to early last week.

The separate Chicago contracts, covering 56,000 Teamster workers and 6,000 members of an independent drivers union, have become the key to final agreement on the national contract.

International leaders of the Teamsters have held off approval of the national agreement for fear the Chicago settlement would be higher, making the national package unacceptable to the half million union members it would cover.

ceedings. Filing of a petition will be the first step.

Part of the area, including the shopping center, was sought by Mill Valley in an annexation petition filed last year. Then a group of Strawberry residents filed for incorporation, and Tiburon filed its bid to expand its boundaries to cover the whole peninsula. Mill Valley withdrew its application, however, and the incorporation move collapsed; so by the time the LAFC heard the matter, only the Tiburon application remained.

The Hanoi broadcast said three other American aircraft were shot down in other parts of North Vietnam but gave no details. It claimed two were shot down Wednesday in a series of dogfights in which the Americans reported downing one MIG and possibly destroying four others.

Other major Vietnam developments:

A military spokesman reported 147 Americans killed and 1,142 wounded in combat last week, a drop from the week before. The South Vietnamese lost 287 killed and 14 missing and other allies 21 killed and 91 wounded. Communist losses were 1,511 killed.

The Saigon government asked the International Control Commission (ICC) made up of Canada, India and Poland to return to the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and set up inspection stations to check reports of intensified aggressive activities by the Communists.

Ground fighting tapered off but 3 marines were killed and 22 wounded in a series of brief skirmishes below the DMZ. Two U.S. helicopters were shot down with a loss of five Americans killed and one injured.

SEATO Favors U.S. Bombing Halt Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — The SEATO Foreign Ministers Council today supported the U.S. refusal to end the bombing of North Vietnam unless there is also a scaling down of military action by the Communist side in the Vietnamese war.

A communique issued by the council, concluding its 12th annual meeting, declared that "reciprocity is an essential element of any acceptable proposal for reduction in the fighting."

The seven-nation group — making up SEATO — the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization — France boycotted the conference — also issued a new warning against Communist dangers in the general area of Southeast Asia, saying:

"Communist aggression, both overt and by subversion, infiltration and terrorism, accompanied by vicious propaganda, remains a major threat to the peace and security of the area."

Three Youths Take Purse From Woman

Three youths — the youngest 12 years old — Tuesday knocked down a woman visiting in Sausalito, took her purse containing $3, then successfully evaded a passerby who chased them, sheriff's officers disclosed today.

Deputies said Bernice M Jurus, 28, of Chicago, told them she got off a bus on Bridgeway in Sausalito about 5:35 p.m. She was walking toward an apartment house on Ebbtide Avenue, she said, when the trio confronted her.

One, described as about 12 years old and of slim build, grabbed for her purse, she said. Miss Jurus scuffled with him, the purse's handle broke, and she fell to the ground.

Her screams attracted a passer-by, who pursued the trio without success. The purse, minus the money, was later found in Marin City and turned over to officers by Nathaniel Coleman of 79 Cole Drive, Marin City, they said.

The other two youths were believed in their early teens.

Rec Directors Approve Senior Citizen Program

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District last night voted to launch a senior citizen program next month, prior to any assurance of county assistance.

The vote to start the $600 a year program the third week in May was 3-1, with Austin Gibbon dissenting and Anthony Marcelli absent.

Gibbon argued that the district would be committing itself to costs and a program that might have to be stopped in county supervisors do not agree to support the district in June, board chairman Norman Gurin reported.

Directors authorized hiring seven more part-time pool attendants, bringing to total summer staff to 12; voted free pool passes from Terra Linda firemen in good standing, and received 75 free passes to Candlestick Park for a June 19 Giants' Day game.

Old Film Points Up Many Issues

Members of the planning committee of the Marin Council of Civic Affairs last night saw a 10-year-old slide show entitled "Crisis in Marin," prepared by the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, and found that many of the housing problems highlighted then are still with us.

"It still seemed pretty current," MCCA Dir. Edward J. Neumeier Jr. declared.

The planning committee also received a report on the controversy last year over a proposed elderly housing development in Homestead Valley.

schedule for a summit meeting. But the opportunity was there. And West German Chancellor Kurt-Georg Giesinger said last night he accepted an obligation to carry on Adenauer's work toward Western unity in a final deathbed meeting with "Der Alte."

Summit topics could include Johnson and Wilson's push for a treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons opposed by De Gaulle, Britain's bid for Common Market membership clouded by the Frenchman's past veto, the fate of the Kennedy round of tariff-cutting talks and the future of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) following French military withdrawal.

According to Kiesinger, Adenauer saw these and other problems endangering the Western unity he helped create. His political testament was a warning to his successors not to let disunity sweep away all that had been gained.

Adenauer warned repeatedly of the growing gulf between Europe and America and the weakening of European unity. Kiesinger said in a television tribute last night the topic came up during their last talk April 3 in Adenauer's hillside home four miles down the Rhine from the capital.

"In the last few days of his life, he was almost overwhelmed by his concern for the unity of Europe. He called me to his sickbed and once again most emphatically urged on me this great concern of his life."

Four days after the meeting, doctors put Adenauer in a bed he never left in life. After a week of fighting a condition described as "critical," he died peacefully in his sleep of grippe, bronchitis and the complications they wrought in his tough old system.

For Adenauer, the West Germans he led to prosperity from ruins and to world respect from international shame were doing the best they could. It was a Germanic version of the funeral given his friend Sir Winston Churchill.

Until Saturday his body was remaining in the three-storied Rhoendorf village house where he sought refuge when the Nazis drove him from his hometown of Cologne. Saturday his body will be laid in state in the chancellory where he reigned for 14 years.

Sunday night the body will be taken to Cologne's soaring Roman Catholic Cathedral, built to house the bones of the three Wise Men who searched out the Christ Child. After Tuesday's rites, a naval launch will carry him back up the Rhine to Rhoendorf for a final resting place beside his mother, father and two wives.

Library Committee Asks Larger Area For Service

If a new library is built in the Larkspur-Corte Madera area, it should be equipped to serve not only Larkspur and Corte Madera but also Kentfield, Kent Woodlands, Greenbrae and Ross.

That was the basis on which Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher, Larkspur librarian Helen S. Wilson, county librarian Virginia Keating and Mrs. Arthur M. Sestak of the Friends of the Larkspur Library agreed yesterday to discuss the service level of a library sponsored by the twin cities.

Usher suggested the service area, and the subcommittee of the committee to study joint library facilities for the two cities agreed to plan for an area population of 25,000.

They agreed the library should have two books for every person in the service area, and that films, records and microfilm would be considered only after the library has a full stock of books.

They agreed the book collection should include 35,000 titles, and that the library should try to acquire a minimum of 2,500 new titles each year, weeding about one per cent of its books each year. The also felt the library should subscribe to at least 150 periodicals, and should maintain a section of local history.

The library should be open 60 hours a week, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday, they decided.

Another meeting of the subcommittee was set for Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Cort Madera town hall.

Firemen Pull Crash Victim From Wreck

The northbound car skidded off a curve, knocked down a direction sign, jumped a cement island, crashed into the guard rail and flipped over, the California Highway Patrol reported. Larkspur firemen were called when patrolmen were unable to extricate Harvey. They used crowbars to force open the smashed door on the driver's side of the vehicle.

Harvey suffered face cuts and extensive head injuries. He was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital.

Town Meeting Leader Named

Mrs. John Barrows of the Central Marin League of Women Voters will be chairman of a panel discussion on city government and taxes at San Anselmo's town meeting April 29.

Other panelists will be Ralph Anderson, assistant to the director of the League of California Cities; Michael Wornum, Mill Valley city councilman, and Robert Heyer, vice president of Field Research Corp. and former chairman of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs.

Other panels will be held on schools, traffic, downtown, and recreation and parks. The meeting will be at Sir Francis Drake High School from 1 to 5 p.m.

Students Will Hear About Law Careers

Officers from various Marin County cities and the sheriff's department will present the story of law enforcement as a career next week at the Sonoma-Marin County Fairgrounds in Petaluma, sponsored by the Marin-Sonoma Guidance Center.

The project is aimed at showing high school and junior high school students of the two counties the aspects of various careers. There will be about 50 such booths, with the police booth under direction of Novato Police Chief Robert DiGrazia.

Health Center Joint Planning Held Necessary

The Marin Hospital District Board and county supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Thomas T. Storer agreed last night that joint meetings of the hospital board and supervisors are needed to decide on administration of the Community Mental Health Center.

Psychiatrists W. Reed Brockbank, Warren Vaughn and J. M. Stubblebine spoke on the trends in mental health centers across the nation. They noted that the centers aid community in treatment of patients.

They favored organization of centers under the auspices of a general hospital, but said such arrangements should not affect other mental health services already offered by the community.

Employees' Cars Looted Of Stereos

Two employees of Montgomery Ward and Co. in the Corte Madera Shopping Center reported auto stereos stolen from their cars, parked in the west shopping center parking lot between 5 and 9 p.m. yesterday, according to Corte Madera police.

Richard E. Karjewski of 1308 Leafwood Drive, Novato, reported a $40 stereo stolen and Elseiv Skarr of 71 Greenwood Way, Mill Valley, reported a $60 stereo stolen, police said.

Hub Home Looted Of Several Items

Irene Conriche of 153 Redwood Road, San Anselmo, told police yesterday that a television, a stereo, and some jewelry and liquor were taken from her home Wednesday night.

She found all doors and windows locked when she arrived home, so police felt the burglar may have had a key to her house.

Tam Unification Plan Meets Delay

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization Committee held off last night on calling another election on unification of the Tamalpais High School District area.

Members were faced with an opinion from the state attorney general's office that there must be an election by July 18, 1967, or five school districts will lost their unification bonus monies.

Committee members agreed, however, to have the deadline extended.

Not wanting to jeopardize the bonus monies, they agreed to hold a special meeting within two weeks if delaying tactics fail.

DEADLINE VIEW

Asst. County Supt. Robert Stannard said the board could meet the deadline if it calls the election within two weeks.

Districts where voters favored unification receive $15 per child per year as a bonus.

Stannard reported that bonus funds to the five districts for the 1967-68 school year will total $119,655. Mill Valley School District is to get $51,480; San Anselmo, $31,680; Fairfax, $15,630; Sausalito, $13,425 and Lagunitas, $7,440.

Mrs. John V. Binckley said "one way or another the bonus will be saved."

County counsels have differing interpretations of whether the two-year section of the law means an election must be held within two years of the previous election or within a two-year block of time. The Orange County School District Organization Committee has filed a suit in Superior Court for declaratory relief to get a clarification of the law. The Marin committee agreed to join the suit as a friend of the court.

The committee concurred with a proposal by the Sonoma County Committee on School District Organization for unification of school districts in the Petaluma High School District, including Laguna, Lincoln and Union School Districts which extend into Marin County. The Petaluma unification proposal was approved by the State Board of Education last Friday. Sonoma and Marin committee have agreed that if the unification passes residents of the old Burdell School portion of the Lincoln School District will have a chance to vote for unification with Novato Unified School District.

Committee members also agreed to discuss of seeking special legislation to maintain the status quo in Tomales High School District. The State Board of Education has consistently rejected proposals for overall unification of schools in the district.

Committee member Floyd D. Fisher was absent.

Bagley Calls Veneman Bill A Salvation

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman John G. Veneman's tax package, including withholding may be the basis for the fiscal salvation of the state and the new administration, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, declared last night at a Sacremento dinner.

He spoke at the Dante Club at a dinner sponsored by the Sacramento County Republican Central Committee.

"The Democratic controlled legislature is not above playing fiscal footsie with the governor's tax program," said Bagley. "It is for this reason that the Veneman package becomes important. . .

"Veneman's measure provides Governor Reagan with insurance against possible insolvency that could occur if an adequate, and legislatively acceptable, tax program cannot otherwise be put together."

A. F. Marcelli Takes Post With Board

A. F. Marcelli of 285 Orange Blossom Lane, Terra Linda, was elected to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night to succeed Dr. John Hamren of San Rafael, who resigned last month.

Marcelli, a member of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District Board, was elected by a 6-3 vote over John V. Holm of 10 Idlewood Drive, San Anselmo, who was nominated by the San Anselmo School District Board and supported by the Fairfax School District Board.

Marcelli is a past president of the Teacher-Parent Group at Bernard Hoffman School and a former member of the Finance Study Group in the Dixie School District. His name was submitted by Dorothy Brown, a member of the Dixie Board.

Marcelii will fill Hamren's unexpired term which will end November, 1968. He will be the second member of the 11-member committee from the First Supervisorial District, whereas Holm would have been the fourth member from the Second Supervisorial District.

A third nominee, Mrs. Samuel Crowell of 10 Dunfries Terrace, San Rafael, received no votes.

Two Marin Mayors On Defense Tour

Two Marin mayors, C. Paul Bettini of San Rafael and J. Wayne Womack of Novato, and Novato City Councilman Harley McAskill are on a four-day tour of Army Air Defense Command and North American Air Defense Command posts.

They were among a group of 12 civic leaders from the Bay Area who left from Hamilton Air Force Base Tuesday to visit Fort Bliss at El Paso, Tex., White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico, and Combat Operations Center of North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo. They are scheduled to return Saturday.

High School Students More 'Aware' Today

High school students of today are more aware of issues and events than those of a decade ago, according to Donald Kreps, Redwood High School principal.

While reporting on the school's educational program to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night, Kreps touched upon student awareness.

They are interested in civil rights, capital punishment and the viet Nam, "and much more aware of real problems" than students of a few years ago, he said. They are "very questioning, much more conscious of their rights, more militant and much more stimulating," he declared.

EXECUTION TALK

During last week's execution at San Quentin Prison, students didn't have their minds "on much else" so teachers used the occasion to discuss capital punishment, he reported.

During the Cuban missile crisis, "you could feel the tension at the school," Kreps said.

A committee member asked Kreps if he had a theory that would account for the "change in students."

Students now have more information available from press, radio and television and "this increase in communication has been a stimulus," he replied.

Kreps also noted that "teachers have changed, are much more militant and far better prepared," and that students entering high school are better prepared than they were 10 years ago.

SEX EDUCATION

On sex education, Kreps reported that Redwood High School will have an elective course in family life education this fall for seniors which will cover the field.

The school has touched upon sex education "as it relates to society" but has "no overall instructional program for all students," he said.

The problem is that very few teachers are qualified to handle such courses, he said.

On the use of narcotics the school has an instructional program including speakers and films and close liaison with doctors and law enforcement officers, he said. "We get the facts out."

GOP Fete Long On Decor, But Short On Profit

OAKLAND (UPI) — A spectacular Mardi Gras ball in Oakland last year for the Republican party grossed $58,000 but netted somewhere between $600 and minus $18,000, according to figures released this week.

The $150-a-couple fiasco has at least brought some benefit to the GOP, however. The party's central committee has put down new ground rules for such events as a result.

The ball was held in February, 1966, at the historic Hotel Oakland. The ball room was elaborately decorated and society bandleader Peter Duchin imported from New York.

But the figures announced this week that the decorations alone for the one-night event cost $37,000 and that the event yielded $600 with the books still not closed.

Funnel-Shaped Clouds A Rarity

The clouds, which had the appearance of a tornado, were well above the ground. One was over Travis Air Force Base 45 miles northeast of San Francisco.

German Language School Organized

A German language school for children 3 to 14 years old, conducted entirely in German, is being organized in Marin with classes scheduled to start in September.

Mrs. William E. Brennan of 21 Idalia Court, San Rafael, said classes will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturdays at Gallinas School with instruction by teachers from Marin schools.

Orchid Film Slated

A film on collecting orchids in Mexico, taken and narrated by David Alan Welisch of San Francisco, will be presented at today's public meeting of the Marin Orchid Society at 8 p.m. at Crocker-Citizens National Bank, Fairfax.

Plenty Of Shelled Peas Take A Spill

MELBOURNE (AP) — Five tons of shelled peas spilled from an overturned truck and spread 18 inches deep across the main Melbourne-Gee long road.

Traffic was blocked briefly.

Doubtful Fate Ahead For Record Tax Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The biggest tax increase in California history — $1.52 billion — faces a doubtful future today despite quick approval by an Assembly committee.

Endorsement by the Revenue and Taxation Committee yesterday was just a first step for the bill, opposed by Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan because it provides for withholding of state personal income taxes.

If the bill by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R - Modesto, becomes law, it would mean higher income, sales cigarette and corporation taxes for the state's 19 million residents.

Income taxes would go up $540 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Starting Oct. 1, personal income taxes would be deducted from paychecks.

The sales tax would rise from four cents to five cents, bringing in $325 million. Cigarette taxes, now three cents a pack, would go up a nickel, a $125 million money-maker for the state. Bank and corporation taxes would be increased by one per cent, raising another $92 million.

But big amounts of the new taxes would be funneled back to local governments. In the fiscal year beginning July 1, school district property taxes would be lowered $300 million.

In the following fiscal year, there would be another $300 million school tax cut, along with repeal of the tax which businessmen pay on their inventories and accounts receivable; an end to the property tax on house hold goods; and property tax refunds for the low-income elderly.

It all would amount to as much as $685 million in relief a year.

The net effect for an average married couple with two children owning a $20,000 home and making $10,000 a year would be a $32.20 tax increase. If the same couple's income was only $5,000, and their home worth $12,500 they would get a $10.67 tax cut. But if it were $25,000 a year and they lived in a $40,000 home they would have a $265.58 yearly tax increase.

Next stop for the bill is the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, where Chairman Robert W. Crown, D- Alameda, promised to take a long and cautious look.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, urged approval of the Veneman bill because it "is the only one movable — the only one alive." Democrats, he warned, might try to "short circuit" Reagan's bill.

Nationalism Held Strongest

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI)— Nationalism is the strongest force in Southeast Asia today and communism a mere technique, according to former U.S. Ambassador to Japan Edwin O. Reischauer.

In the first of two Edward Hanify Memorial Lectures at Holy Cross College last night, Reischauer characterized communism as "merely a technique by which some nationalists attempt to control a country."

Reischauer, said "Much greater dangers lie beyond Vietnam rather than in Vietnam itself."

Joint Rec Proposal Asked By Directors

The San Anselmo and Fairfax Recreation Commissions Tuesday night asked the two department directors and one commissioner from each city to prepare a proposal for combining some of the programs and facilities of the two departments.

After the proposal is approved by both commissions it will be submitted to the city council, according to Paul Brand, San Anselmo Commission chairman.

Chapter Hit By National

STANFORD (AP)—The Stanford University chapter of Kappa Sigma said today it has been suspended by the national fraternity.

Daniel Kirby, 20, chapter president, said tension has been building between the chapter and the national since a Negro student, Rafael B. Palacio, a junior history major from Los Angeles, was pledged two years ago.

Kirby, a junior from Sioux Falls, S.D., majoring in political science, said he was informed verbally of the suspension by Howard M. Leggett of Alamo, Contra Costa County, district grand master for Northern California.

LESLIE ALLEN MIZE
'Man of the Year'

Private Is Jaycee's Man Of Year

Mize, 21, a 1963 graduate of Tamalpais High School, received the eighth annual distinguished service award for his activities in the junior chamber, Mill Valley Lions Club and Mill Valley Youth Council. He also ran teen-age dances for several years to raise money to rebuild the community and youth center, site of last night's award dinner.

Mize, now a private in the Army, was honored in absentia because he is studying in the cooks' school at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The award is given a young man in Southern Marin "Who has demonstrated outstanding community service, leadership and business in the past year." Other nominees were Lanny Berry, special assistant to Tamalpais High School District, and Peter Tibbetts, manager of Southern Marin office of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Patrick declared that to be successful, "a man has to stand up and stick his neck out." Every man, he said, "wants to be a millionaire, and every man wants a Cadillac, not a Ford."

"The lamp of freedom burns low," he cautioned the audience of 40 men, "And it's up to each of us to see that it burns bright again."

Unruh Attacks Finance Office

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh attacked the State Finance Department last night, calling it a propaganda agency in Gov. Ronald Reagan's objection to withholding taxes.

Said Unruh to the California League of Women Voters:

"The administration suddenly found $63 million that it can lay its hands on. Now it says it won't have to go for withholding."

The powerful Democrat asserted that the money was found in "little cookie tins" by the same men who, he said, gave slanted advice to former Gov. Pat Brown's administration.

Beach Protection Bills Introduced

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., is backing two bills aimed at preventing a Torrey Canyon-like oil disaster from staining U.S. beaches.

One measure would permit the President to take action immediately, including destruction of the vessel, if a wreck threatened the navigational safety, marine resources or economy of a coastal area. The other would make shipowners criminally liable for negligence or accidental discharge of oil from their vessels.

No Opposition To Milk Price Boost

Marin County housewives will be paying more for milk in 45 days if requests for a hike in prices made yesterday by milk dealers in Santa Rosa are granted by the state.

The dealers asked a half-cent per quart, and a one-and-a-half-cent per half-gallon increase in the price of home deliveries at a hearing conducted by the Milk Stabilization Bureau of the State Department of Agriculture.

It would be the second increase since a similar raise was granted in January and would bring the base price for home deliveries to 27 and a half cents a quart, 54 cents a half-gallon, according to Louis C. Shafer, bureau chief.

Lawrence A. Maes, manager of the Northern California Milk Dealers Association, spoke in favor of the increase at the hearing in the Sonoma County supervisors' chamber. Also urging the increase were individual retail grocery store operators.

There was no representative of the State Office of Consumer Counsel, nor any private group speaking for consumers, reported Shafer. He said no opposition to the increase was offered at the hearing.

Maes also asked the bureau to grant retailers an added one per cent discount, bringing to a maximum 16 per cent the wholesale discount allowed grocery stores on orders of $120 or more.

The association manager also urged reducing the four zones in the Redwood District to three by combining Sonoma and Marin counties in one. Marin at present is a zone by itself.

Shafer said Maes argued that similarity in producing and marketing conditions favored administering the two as a single zone.

The bureau chief said a ruling on the requests could be expected in about 45 days.

County's Plan For A Morgue Still Indefinite

Marin County is seriously considering the establishment of a county morgue, but the former Mission City Meat Co. building on Irwin Street in San Rafael is just one possibility.

Supervisors might decide instead to build a structure, or they could work out a lease, County Administrator Alan Bruce said today.

San Rafael city councilmen Monday said they would hold a hearing on the Irwin Street proposal on May 1 if the county is serious.

Purchase of the building for $125,000 plus $15,000 to convert it to a morgue was proposed to supervisors by Coroner Donovan O. Cooke several weeks ago.

Supervisor were not overly enthusiastic, but asked Bruce to investigate the need for a morgue, find out how big a building would be needed and what it would cost. Meanwhile, they asked for the San Rafael City Council's opinion of the meat plant proposal.

Bruce said the earliest the board of supervisors could make a decision on any morgue proposal would be in mid-June, during budget sessions. His recommended budget includes $15,000 to cover a lease arrangement or hire an architect.

The unadopted capital improvement program released by county officials this week shows $130,000 for a morgue in fiscal 1969.

Park Bid Servicing Contract Is Delayed

Directors of Gallinas Village Community Services District Tuesday night received two informal bids on manitenance of the Descanso Way Park, but deferred action until May 11.

Garden Service of San Anselmo offered to maintain the park for $295 a month, and Santa Venetia Nurseryman Robert Tanem offered to do the job for $270 a month, Director John Miller reported.

School Question Night Is Slated

A "public information night" will be held May 1 at 8 p.m. by the Tamalpais High School District Board.

The meeting will be held in the Redwood High School Little Theater, Larkspur. Purpose is to answer questions about the district operation and about Redwood, Drake and Tam high schools, chairman William B. Lewis said.

Advance questions have been solicited by a postcard mailing from parents of students now enrolled. Others may send in advance questions by 5 p.m., April 26, to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle at the district office in Larkspur.

Quick Recovery Of Stolen Auto Made

Larry Leroy Behrens of 131 Birch Way, Santa Venetia, got his car back at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, a half-hour after reporting to San Rafael police that it had been stolen from in front of 706 Woodland Avenue.

Sheriff's deputies found the car abandoned in a driveway at 260 Tiburon Boulevard in Tiburon, its ignition wires ripped out and the air cleaner tossed on the ground.

MARCIA THURSTON
Study in Indonesia

Tam Senior Will Pioneer Indonesia Exchange Plan

Marcia Thurston, Tamalpais High School senior, has been selected by the International Christian Youth Exchange student program to study for a year in Indonesia.

Marcia, 17-year-oid daughter of Mrs. Doris T. Thurston, 25 Lincoln Avenue, Mill Valley, will be the first exchange student to go to Indonesia under the program.

To prepare for the year, she is studying Indonesian culture. A former neighbor who lectured there for a year is teaching her the official language, Bahasa Indonesian.

An "A" student at school, she was nominated for the program by Mill Valley Community Church, which will sponsor her trip. She is active in the Ad Hoc Committee of Concerned Students, which recently staged "Breakthrough Day."

Marcia was honored recently by El Marinero chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which awarded her a pin as an outstanding citizen.

She expects to leave for Indonesia in July.

Welfare, Government Fate To Be Discussed

Discussion of new trends in welfare and a talk on the future of county government are slated before members of the North Coast Counties Supervisors Association in Tiburon tomorrow.

The meeting, to begin at Tiburon Lodge at 9 a.m., will not be all business. The evening will be devoted to a boat trip to Candlestick Park to watch the Giant-Dodger baseball game.

Marin Supervisor William A. Gnoss, president of the North Coast Counties group, reported a panel discussion on new trends in welfare will begin at 10 a.m.

The panel includes Janice Gates, associate consultant on welfare with the state supervisors association, Ronald Barnes, director of social welfare in San Francisco, David Sweeney, director for Sonoma County, and Betty L. Presley, director for Marin.

Luncheon speaker will be Allan Temko, University of California professor, who will talk on "Will the County Government Last Much Longer?"

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, is slated to speak at 3 p.m.

Highway Needs Luncheon Slated

The California State Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a luncheon meeting to discuss highway needs in Marin County on May 12 at 12:15 p.m. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

Recommendations for highway development in the county formulated at the meeting will be forwarded to the State Division of Highways for consideration in the 1968-69 highway budget, according to the co-sponsoring San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

State public works and highway officials will report on highway projects in Marin. Reservations for the meeting, limited to 50 persons, are being taken through May 3 by Jack Alvarado, manager of the San Rafael chamber, 824 Fifth Avenue.

Skid Injures Driver

Judi Carlene Selby, 20, of 284 Devon Drive, San Rafael, suffered head bruises at 9:30 p.m. yesterday when her car skidded into a guard rail on the North San Pedro Road off-ramp from Highway 101, California Highway Patrol reported. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Treasurers—'From Way Back When'

The Sunny Hills Bargain Box held a Silent Auction of treasures from "Way Back When."

Mrs. Alexander McAndrew, president of the board of directors of Sunny Hills, has donated the articles which date from early to middle of the 19th Century. These are from the collection of Mrs. McAndrew's aunt, Mrs. Spencer Brush of San Francisco, and consist of dresses, linens, beaded bags, sheet music, Chinese silk shawls, lingerie, trunks, originally the property of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank Brush, whose husband was Dr. Frank Brush, pastor of the Alameda Presbyterian Church. Dr. Brush was a member of the original board of advisers of Sunny Hills, from its founding until 1922.

Also in the collection are several fur coats and jackets and elaborate dresses which belonged to Mrs. Mary Cone Wheeler, and old-time Californian. Mrs. Wheeler's father was Joseph Cone, the uncle of Dr. Brush. Mr. Cone founded the town of Red Bluff in Tehama County, and erected there the hotel and bank, and also gave to the city its city park. Mr. Cone's biography was written by George Bancroft, noted California historian.

ALL DRESSED up in a gown of green brocade silk is Mrs. Boero. The gown was worn at the inauguration of President Rutherford B. Hayes in Washington in 1876. It has handmade buttons and a vest effect blouse of apricot colored satin.

ADMIRING ANOTHER ensemble from the trunk is Mrs. McAndrew who was given the collection by her aunt, Mrs. Spencer Brush of San Francisco. The collection also included linens, beaded bags, sheet music, Chinese silk shawls, lingerie.

California Rains Threaten Fruit And Vegetable Crops

Rains finally have fallen in the wheat belt. Wheat prices have dropped, easing the threat of higher prices for flour and bread this summer.

Rains also have fallen in California, and there the effects haven't been entirely helpful.

They have kept the bees from pollinating fruit trees, slowed the asparagus cutting, damaged the sweet cherries in San Joaquin Valley, washed away tomato seedings, and—a bit of cheer perhaps for small boys—interrupted the spinach harvest. A freeze caused heavy damage to apricots.

As the weather improves, there should be bigger supplies —and lower prices — for fresh fruits and vegetables. The outlook is good for celery, lettuce, snap beans, carrots, sweet corn, green peppers and green onions.

Bananas, apples, grapefruit and oranges are plentiful.

In the meat department, ham and beef prices have dropped again. Big supplies of other meats have helped keep beef prices down. There are much bigger supplies of pork, chickens and turkeys than last year.

Egg prices have dropped another 2 to 4 cents a dozen.

Nuptials Tomorrow For Nancy Majors

By MOLLY MARIN

A small family wedding at the bride's home in Belvedere is planned by Nancy Majors and Philip Stanley Voorheis. The ceremony will take place at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening with the Rev. Carl Howie of Calvary Presbyterian Church officiating.

Nancy is the daughter of Mrs. O. Cort Majors and the late Mr. Majors of Belvedere. Her future husband is the son of Mrs. I. W. Voorheis of Oakland and the late Mr. Voorheis.

Nancy was formerly married to Robert Gros, and resumed her maiden name when the marriage was dissolved.

The bride's close friend, Mrs. Richard McConnell of Tiburon, will be matron of honor. Russell B. Williams, the bridegroom's brother-in-law will be best man. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are coming from Palos Verde for the wedding.

Nancy was graduated from Pine Manor Junior College and attended the University of California, where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. She later received B.A. and M.A. degrees from San Francisco State College. She is doing practice teaching at Reed School in Tiburon and directs the Easter Seal Society recreation program for mentally and physically handicapped children in Marin.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Washington and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is division manager of Owens Glass Co. of Illinois with offices in San Mateo.

The couple will live in Nancy's home on the Belvedere Lagoon.

AMONG THE MARINITES on hand for the annual KQED black tie dinner telecast last night were the E. W. Bullards Jr. of Ross and Mrs. and Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of San Rafael.

Paul Y. Dunn Is Awarded Volunteer Of Year Honors

Mr. Dunn's volunteer work included membership on the board of the Marin Mental Health foundation, being treasurer of the Ross Psychiatric Clinic, on the executive board of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, and vice chairman of the special events committee of the United Bay Area Crudade.

He also served as training officer of the Camp Fire Girls in Marin and was an elder and Sunday School teacher in the Latter-Day Saints Church.

There are many examples of the type of unasked-for assistance that "Torchy," as he was called by his friends, often rendered. The staff at Boyd Museum like to remember him is his carpenter's apron with hammer and nails doing odd jobs that he observed needed doing, or bringing in a group of Boy Scouts to help him redecorate and panel the office. This type of personal giving was typical of his approach combined with his leadership and organizational abilities to make him so vital to Marin activities.

The Volnteer Bureau at the annual meeting traditionally honors its entire volunteer staff, this year numbering 18. The occasion also marked the bureau's third anniversary, the end of three years of service and growth from a Junior League project to new status of a United Bay Area Crusade agency.

New members named to the board were Mrs. Robert Eisenhauer, Mrs. Walter Foster, Mrs. Richard Jessup, Mrs. Robert L. Mault, Raymond Millard, Mrs. Adell Payton, Miss Gretchen Eden.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Had A Date With A Girl—And Can't Remember Anything That Happen

DEAR HELEN:

You may laugh at this or think I'm lying, but it's the honest truth. Last Friday I had a date with a girl and to be plain honest, I don't remember one blessed thing that happened. I wasn't drunk!

We went to a ball game, but the two hours after that my mind is a complete blank. This was the first time I had ever dated a girl and the first time I had even kissed one. I had lipstick on my face when I "came to" at home, so I guess I did.

How can I find out what happened without looking like a fool and asking her?

—FIFTEEN-YEAR OLD AMNESIA VICTIM

DEAR FIFTEEN:

Wow! Your girl must have been a knock-out!

Why ask what happened? Just ask for another date. If she accepts, well, one of these days you can laugh together about your "amnesia" — and she'll be highly flattered by it. If she turns you down, maybe you'd better write a note of explanation — and apology. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I dated a girl last summer, but she broke up with me when school started. I guess I was too slow for a fast girl, as I hear this year that the boys in her own grade won't go with her because of her reputation, so she dates older guys.

She has been very snobby to me, and tells other kids I'm a crum. I don't like her any more. So why is it, Helen, that I feel bad because the kids call her a you-know-what? Why does it make me sick to think of her as going bad? Should I try to help her? — BUD

DEAR BUD:

A decent guy hates to see a girl toss her reputation down the drain even though he no longer likes her a girl friend. She may not accept help from you, but there's no harm in letting her know you're there if she needs you. — H.

PERSONAL TO "ALL ALONE NOW": Your counselor is wiser than you think, and if you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I'll try to explain why. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Would you please tell girls the two things boys like least about them are: 1. Smoking, and 2. Vulgar language and swearing. —DON

DEAR DON:

They're told. According to my female letters, these two things are also what girls like least about boys.

So knock it off, kids! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am 14, and like a boy but can't talk to him because I get scared. I don't know if he likes me. Would it be all right to write to him, telling him how I feel? — MADLY IN LOVE.

DEAR M IN L:

A thousand times no! If you write crush-notes to a boy you scarcely know, he'll never stop running. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The first year you "outgrow" Easter baskets and eggs, etc., you feel pretty low. You're kind of proud, you're out of the baby age, but still you feel like something is missing.

My mother knew just what to do about it — she always does. On Easter morning, there was a basket for me, along with the ones for the little kids. In it was a light lipstick, a little compact — and would you believe it: eye make-up (which I can only wear on special occasions).

Isn't that a lovely way to tell your daughter you don't mind that she is growing up? — DAUGHTER OF A WONDER MOM

DEAR DAUGHTER:

Certainly is. I hope other mothers will follow her example. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

BIDDING SILENTLY

Bidding with cards was explained in the Silent Auction rules poster at the Katherine Branson Silent Auction and luncheon held yesterday at the school in Ross. Admiring a cartful of flowers were, from left, Mesdames Andrew Cole, Huntley Bennett, Arthur Zimmerman, co-chairmen, and William Niccolls. The event was sponsored by the Branson Parents Club and Alumnae Association.

Don't Mix

Match paint types when you mix. Don't try to tint a latex paint with colors in oil. Use colors designed for latex instead. Ask your local dealer for advice on mixing and matching.

Fashion Creed—Smooth, Simple

"Clean, smooth, simple. That is my fashion creed." Terry Reno, top model says so. She urges teen-agers to take good care of their clothes. "You can buy the best and most expensive dresses, shoes, hats and bags, but if they are not kept clean or polished or ironed, only the wrinkles and spots will catch anyone's eye," she said.

Aids In Dampening

To dampen and iron articles when you're in a hurry, sprinkle them, roll tight in a dry towel, place in a warm—not hot—oven. By the time the iron is hot the clothes will be dampened evenly.

Discussing watches with VILLAGE JEWELERS the other day. They pointed out their Caravelle line by Bulova as an example of a modestly priced watch that has a jeweled movement like its high class relatives. These Caravelle watches in both men's and women's styles start at $10.95. There is a good looking lady's model with four different colored interchangeable straps.

If you have ever shopped for smart looking clothes in larger sizes you know this can be a frustrating and depressing experience. Not so at CONTESSA ANGELA OF ROMA. This shop carries an extensive collection of two and three piece imported Italian knits in "16 and up" sizes. And if you don't see just the color you want, CONTESSA will be glad to order it for you.

Primitive Prints Big This Spring

Primitive prints are big fashion this spring. Use an exotic print for a long, flowing caftan, and you have a winner as a beach cover-up or at-home gown. Textile designers are emphasizing the bright, hot colors and native designs of Old and New World primitive tribes. A fun way to make your caftan: fashion it from beach towels. Just sew up the sides, leaving room for armholes and an opening for the neck on top. Then slit the front and insert a 20-inch zipper.

Coco Leads The Attack—

By ANDREW SAIWYN
United Press International

PARIS (UPI) — When Chanel speaks, the rest of the fashion world listens, and often argues.

Gabrielle (Coco) Chanel, a fashion influence world-wide for more than half a century, sounds off to reporters about so-called "high fashion"—in other words, fashion that the rest of the industry follows.

Miss Chanel, at 83, charges that high fashion in France is on the way out. . . the male designers are at fault.

"High fashion is in the hands of men who do not like women and only dream of making them look ridiculous," says the woman who is one of the all-time great influences on feminine fashions.

Miss Chanel attacks among other current modes the mini-skirt. She says that once upon a time women "once they reached the age of 40 . . . traded youth for grace and mystery. This was an evolution that left them intact.

"Now, they try to stand up to the young, using ridiculous weapons. They only need a bow in their hair and a school satchel on their back."

The sting of the attack, carried prominently in all French newspapers, was felt at the very foundations of Parisian haute couture.

"Miss Chanel is an admirable woman," said couturier Marc Bohan, of the house of Dior. "We have the deepest respect for her, but she is a bit older than most of us and naturally she reacts differently. . .

"Why should one be against the mini-skirt if the mini-skirt is pretty and worn well?"

Said Pierre Cardini, "In the world of fashion, each couturier has his own ideas. Miss Chanel charges that courturiers are inspiring themselves from architecture, and she is not altogether wrong. But this does not prevent women from remaining feminine. Personally I abhor women wearing trousers.

Stockings Add

As if the controversy she launched were not enough, Miss Chanel did not stop at the mini-skirt.

"Men are getting dressed like women and women like men," she said, "and this is leading to a destruction of love," she said.

"Now no one is satisfied with what one's got. Before the war I had never heard of complexes and depressions," she added.

"Then," she said in one interview, "we were sentimental. It was perhaps stupid but it filled life and it was much much better.

"In those days a woman was compared to a flower or perhaps to a sausage but now I would be callsed a 'locomotive' because I am not "ye ye" and I don't feel like doing the jerk at Regine's. This just makes me feel sick."

To give the new generation an idea of what life was like in her days, Coco Chanel has agreed to let her life be portrayed on the stage and screen. American producer Frederick Brisson, says that a musical called "Coco," written by Alan Jay Lerner, will open on Broadway in the fall.

DRAMA REVIEW

John Raitt Still Shines In 'Carousel'

By KARL BARRON

SAN CARLOS — Last night's performance of "Carousel" at the Circle Star Theater was a very special one, as star John Raitt explained in a curtain speech. It was the 23rd anniversary of the night Raitt opened on Broadway in the Rodgers-Hammerstein adaptation of Molnar's "Liliom."

Raitt, playing approximately his one thousandth performance, seems to have lost not an ounce of verve and energy. The show is picked up and carried along by his fine voice and easy acting in the role of Billy Bigelow, the carousel barker who marries sweet, simple Julie Jordan, and only after death is able to atone for his brutal treatment of her.

HOLDS UP WELL

The lovely, familiar melodies of Richard Rodgers hold up as well. "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "If I Loved You," "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "Carousel Waltz" all seem as fresh as though we too, had not heard them a thousand times.

Riatt related an anecdote of singer Mel Torme telling Rodgers that he had seen it nine times and it still made him weep. It is indeed a tear jerker, but has many happy moments for balance.

David Tihmar has directed this production with great fluidity of movement, yet manages to retain clarity throughout. There areseveral dance numbers well choreographed by Zoya Leporska, topped by the second act ballet performed by Louise, Billy's daughter. Linda Kaye Henning is outstanding in the role, both as dancer and actress.

Linda Michele as Julie has great moments, although both her singing and acting are uneven. I would prefer her with a less Hollywoodian wig. The platinum mountain she wears makes it difficult to accept the tender simplicity of the character.

The top comedy role of Enoch Snow, who wants to make a fortune canning sardines, is dashed off zestfully by Robert Miller Driscoll, whose tenor voice is a delight. (Could this character have been based on the chowder Snows?)

GOOD SUPPORT

Maureen Bailey's pert Carrie, Shirley Chambers' raucuos Mrs. Mullins, and Ned Romero's underplayed villain all add to the show's worth. Jack Good does a fine job as the Starkeeper, while Katherine Hilgenberg lends her operatic soprano to the role of Nettie Fowler. Deserving special mention for her dancing is Michele Bernath.

Musical director Lawrence Brown handles both accompaniment and featured orchestral portions well, and Hal Shafer has designed set pieces which impart a late nineteenth century flavor. Costumes by Berman's of Hollywood are colorful but seem just a bit too new and clean at times.

"Carousel," the first of Circle Star's new series, will play nightly except Monday, with Saturday and Sunday matinees, through April 30.

During World War II, the Presidio of San Francisco was the headquarters at which the successful attacks on the Aleutian Islands of Attu and Kiska were planned.

SEMINARIANS READY CANTATA

Golden Gate Baptist Seminary students enact a scene from dramatized version of Dubois's cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," which they will present at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Broadus Chapel at the seminary. Elwyn Gunn, a student at the seminary, did the dramatization and is director. In role of Christ is Gene Royal, a student from Fort Worth, Tex.

Poet Ciardi Criticizes Educators

Poet John Ciardi picked a bone with educators last night, speaking to a College of Marin concert series audience on "How is a Poem?"

"Why do they take in so rich an audience for poetry and then ruin it" in adolescence demanded that author of "I Met a Man," a book of poems for beginning readers.

Ciardi warned that "a lot of 19th Century sentiments" in poetry "make a boy uneasy," and urged teachers to take care with what they give classes to read. He lashed out at the common question of "what does it mean?" and stressed "the paraphrase is not the poem."

"I'd rather be confused by Shakespeare than clarified by Norman Vincent Peale," he declared.

A good poem is a combination of words outdoing the sum and form of the parts and often is easy to memorize, Ciardi said. It "begins in delight" for its creator and "ends in wisdom" for its reader, but eschews the epitaph that "he sold his birthright for a pot of message," Ciardi explained.

Dominican Student Art Exhibit Slated

An exhibition of paintings, drawings and prints by graduating seniors of Dominican College will be shown at the San Marco Art Gallery, on the campus, April 27 through May 26.

The art works, which demonstrate difficult techniques, were selected by Magda Chambers, chairman of the art department, and Masatoyo Kishi, art instructor. Refreshments will be served from 2 to 4 p.m. on the opening day.

Annual Art Shows Merge

Plans for an expanded Bay Area-wide art show for the 22nd annual Marin Art and Garden Fair, June 30 through July 4, have been announced by Mrs. Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager, and Fred Herschleb, chairman, Marin Society of Artists fair committee.

For the first time, the fair will combine the traditionally separate Marin Society of Artists and county art shows into a single exhibition in the Frances Young Gallery, Mrs. McCoy said. Entry is open to artists in the nine Bay Area Counties.

One cash award will be made in each category: Watercolor, $100; oil and mixed media, $100; graphics, $50; sculpture, $100; weaving and ceramics, including glass, $50; jewelry and art metal, $50. An additional $100 will be given for Best-in-Show. Merit ribbons will also be awarded.

According to Herschleb, all work must be original, must have been done within the previous 24 months, and must not have been shown in an earlier Marin Art and Garden Fair.

Teachers, Parents To Give Melodrama

"Love Rides the Rails," a melodrama, will be presented tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo by the Red Hill Intermediate School Parents Club.

Tom Perry of Ross will direct a cast of teachers and parents. Proceeds will go toward building an amphitheater at Red Hill School.

Professor Builds Flying Saucer In His Own Garage

The craft designed by the 30-year-old instructor at the University of California's Davis campus is not intended for outer space travel. It's the aviator's version of the Volkswagen.

The first public flight of the saucer, which has a diameter of 14 feet, was scheduled today at the Davis University airport. It climaxes 5 1-2 years of work.

The saucer, still in the experimental stage, was expected to make its test flight at a height of three feet. Moller said the craft goes "about as fast as my tetherman can run."

The reason for the limited altitude is simple enough: Moller is not a licensed pilot and, besides, flying saucers have not been certified by the Federal Aviation Agency as legal aircraft.

A man must run alongside the one-man craft with a tether rope just in case Moler needs help controlling the craft.

The saucer is still subject to control difficulties during high winds but Moller said additional research made possible development of a second, two-man saucer with most of the wind problems eliminated.

Moller, a Canadian-born aerodynamics professor, believes some flying saucers come from outer space. But he built his in his garage with help from graduate students at the university.

Moller is close-mouthed about the design and details of the saucer. He said he wants to maintain control of the development of the saucer and not be "wiped out" by the money and manpower available to the aviation industry.

But he has high hopes for the craft both as an alternative to the automobile in avoiding congested freeways and as an improvement on helicopters in war zones such as Vietnam.

The saucer which has a 150-mile-an-hour potential speed, Moller said, could fly at an altitude of 5,000 feet but could easily set down at any gas station. He said the round shape is ideal for vertical landing and lifting.

Researcher To Testify For Coppolino

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — A research biochemist who used radioactivity to trace succinylcholine in the bodies of rats took the stand for the defense today in the drug murder trial of Dr. Carl Coppolino.

The judge ordered morning recess before the biochemist could disclose his findings.

Yesterday, the jury heard the father of the dead woman explain how he learned, on Aug. 28, 1965, that his daughter had died in her sleep.

Dr. Carmelo Musetto of Boonton, N.J., said that Coppolino told him, "I reached over to put my arm around her and felt that she was cold. Then I turned on the light and saw that she was dead."

Musetto said that when the body was returned to New Jersey for burial he learned from a funeral director there had been no autopsy. But he said he made no effort to have one performed until he was told the death was being investigated.

Pair Serious From Injuries In Plane Crash

PASO ROBLES (AP) — A New York attorney and his son, a California banker, were in serious condition today from injuries suffered in a light plane crash.

Doctors said Harold T. Garrity, 61, of Chappagua, N.Y., and his son, James, 29, of Los Gatos, both suffered chest injuries. Their two-engine Beechcraft crashed in Red Hills east of Paso Robles.

The son, an assistant bank manager at San Jose, said he was piloting the plane from Palm Springs to San Jose when ice began forming on the wings and one engine failed. He pancaked the plane in the hills.

They were rescued by a Navy helicopter and taken to Paso Robles War Memorial Hospital.

$50,000 Fall Suit Is Filed

A 12-year-old student is seeking $50,000 damages for injuries allegedly suffered in a fall from a playground swing at Sleepy Hollow School last June 10.

In a suit filed yesterday on behalf of Victoria Lynn Bollinger by her mother, Mrs. Vida Lea Norton of 31 Oak Springs Drive, San Anselmo, the girl charges San Anselmo School District with negligent maintenance of the swing.

Hallinan Takes Heaven Case To Supreme Court

Belvedere attorney Vincent Hallinan, trying to overturn the will of an insurance executive who left three-fourths of his $200,000 estate to the church, has taken the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Hallinan contends that the Roman Catholic Church perpetrated a fraud by promising David F. Supple, who died in 1961, relief from purgatory in exchange for money. Lower courts, in rejecting the suit, have countered that inquiry of the truth or falsity of religious beliefs would be unconstitutional.

In briefs filed with the Supreme Court Tuesday, Hallinan termed belief in heaven, hell or purgatory "childish superstitions." Hallinan is representing his son Terrence, who bought an interest in the case when a Corte Madera grandnephew of Supple, who was excluded from the will, died.

Summer Term Set By School

Marin Country Day School, Corte Madera, will conduct a summer program for children from the first through seventh grades from June 19-July 29.

As part of the program, pupils will participate in archaeological exploration and survey of an Indian mound in Sonoma County.

Marinites Named To Dean's List

Seven Marin County students have been named to the dean's list at Golden Gate College, San Francisco, for the fall semester, president Russell T. Sharpe has announced.

They are John P. Klapperich, 201 Center Street, Harold E. Looper, 61 Canal Street, and Jack H. Nielsen, 159 Novato Street, all of San Rafael; Paul M. Brady, 17 Tyler Street; Novato; Lawrence W. Cunha, 35 Juanita Way, Mill Valley; Mildred Moore, 14 Burgess Street, Marin City, and David F. Von Bima, 1408 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo.

Lack Of Policy In School Bus Accidents Upsets Safety Panel

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The Marin County Safety Commission was disturbed today to find a lack of policy by the county schools office on the handling of school bus accidents, noting that a child injured in such an accident was nearly taken to the County Health Department for treatment.

Dr. Michael Scholl, county medical officer and a member of the safety commission, said some "common sense pills" might be in order.

Injured Monday morning when a small bus, driven by Ruth Edna Scozzafana, 37, of San Rafael went in a ditch at 2120 Centro East Street in Tiburon, was John Sandler, 10, of Novato. He had a bump on his head and seemed inclined to go to sleep, reported Mrs. Leslie Wider who is Mrs. Scozzafana's supervisor. She said the child was directed to the public health department to see if the emergency ward at Marin General Hospital would take him for treatment.

Mrs. Wider, driving the child in a radio-equipped car, was directed back to the hospital. Before reaching the health office in downtown San Rafael. The child was treated at the hospital for the injury.

Dr. Scholl informed Mrs. Wider that the emergency ward will never refuse treatment. The commission urged Mrs. Wider to set down policies on all accidents.

The Monday accident was not officially before the commission today, but was discussed before, during and after discussion of two other accidents involving a county school bus driven by Mrs. Lillian J. Bregante.

The commission noted that reports of both accidents were incomplete, with neither having a diagram and one not including date of the accident.

"We've had this problem with the schools department before," Commissioner Martin E. Nelson said before the hearing began.

"It's inconceivable to me that these people, dealing with children, do not know the proper procedure," commissioner Wallace Chipman declared.

The commission ruled that the accident of Jan. 17, when Mrs. Bregante backed out of an intersection at Diablo Avenue and Highway 101 in Novato where she had been stopped by a stalled car in front of her, was not really an accident. The bus tapped the bumper of a small car behind her. The commission ruled it a "preventable incident."

The other accident was on March 13 when a car pulling from a parking space on Fourth Street in San Rafael near the entrance to Miracle Mile scraped the rear of the school bus. Mrs. Bregante said the other driver said it was her fault and left the scene. Damage was minor to the bus, but more serious to the other car, she said.

Neither accident was reported to police.

The commission said reports must be made, even when it is just a minor bumper tap.

The commission ruled the March 13 accident non-preventable.

In other action the commission ruled preventable an accident March 14 when agricultural inspector Jack W. Schrock backed a county truck into a parked car on Crescent Road in Corte Madera.

The commission commended the sheriff's department for having no lost-time accidents last month.

Radio, Cash Stolen

A radio and $3 to $4 in coins were stolen yesterday afternoon from the residence of Robert Villa, 12A Lincoln Street, San Rafael, while he was absent for about an hour, police reported today.

Langendorf Park Rites Set May 20

Sausalito Recreation Commission last night set dedication of Langendorf Park for May 20 at 11 a.m., reported chairman Elmo V. Maggiora.

The park at the upper end of Easterby Street was developed last year at a cost of $10,000. Dedication has been stalled by rain.

Commissioners approved contruction by city crews of two horseshoe pits at South View Park at a cost of $750 for equipment and materials. Players will have to provide their own horseshoes.

An operation and maintenance budget totaling $2,872 for fiscal 1968 was reviewed, Maggiora said, and a special meeting set May 8 at 8 p.m. in his home at 509 Spring Street to review a capital expenditure budget.

Monthly meeting of the commission was advanced one day because the city council and planning commission will meet today at 8 p.m. in city hall to review the proposed general waterfront plan.

Clean-Up Drive Help Is Asked

Almonte Improvement Club directors last night asked homeowners in the community to participate in the annual clean-up campaign, reported board president Herbert E. Davis.

The voluntary campaign is aimed at clean-up of gardens and rubbish, he said, and at touch-up of paint where necessary.

Directors also appealed to residents not to block narrow streets by parking on the street, Davis said.

Tot Hit By Cycle

Three-year-old Kathleen Marie Dooley, of 107 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a fractured left leg suffered yesterday when she was hit by a motorcycle driven by Kenneth S. Lehrer, 18, of 150 Manor Drive, Mill Valley. The accident happened near her home, police said, when she darted into the street.

4-H Club Members Preparing For Fair

Four-H Club members of central Marin are preparing for the 14th annual 4-H Fair to be held May 6 at the Rancho Nicasio picnic grounds.

The fair will start with raising of the colors at 10 a.m. There will be exhibits of dairy and beef cattle, rabbits and poultry, woodworking, wildlife and forestry projects, home furnishings, clothing, and food preparation and canning.

Four-H Club girls will also put on a fashion show. They will model the clothes they have made for themselves.

There will be a plant booth for gardener fanciers, a "white elephant" booth, and game booths for children.

A chicken barbecue will be served. In addition, hot dogs, homemade cakes and pies will be sold.

Downed Power Pole Injures Patrolmen

Two police officers, investigating a traffic accident on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Ross General Hospital, escaped with minor injuries today when a pickup truck hit a guy wire from a fallen power pole.

Edna Belle Meredith, 52, of 30 Carlson Avenue, San Anselmo, whose car set off the bizarre set of accidentsl declined treatment for minor injuries.

The CHP reported Mrs. Meredith's car skidded off the wet road at 1:30 a.m., shearing the power pole off at its base.

While the two officers were waiting at the scene for a tow truck, the patrol reported, a pickup truck driven by James J. Colli, 66, of Olema, struck a guy wire which had fallen across the road. The wire jerked the pole upward, felling the two men.

The accident did not interrupt power service, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. reported.

Human Happiness Film Set Monday

A brief film and slide show on "fundamental aspects of human happiness" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday in supervisors' chambers at Civic Center by Steen Schellenberg, financial planning consultant of San Rafael.

The greater part of the two-hour program will be devoted to audience discussion of points raised in the explanatory narration accompanying the film and slides, according to Schellenberg.

Home Burglarized

A burglar yesterday stole money, jewelry and a camera valued at a total of $204 from the residence of Louis Geffen, 73 Oak Avenue, San Rafael, police reported today. The thief entered between 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. and stole two rings, two wristwatches, coins and currency, cufflinks and tie clips.

Permit Taken For Teen Dance Center

Two young men have taken out an application for a permit to open a teen-age dance hall in the empty Safeway store on San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo, according to Public Works Dir. Charles R. Leitzell.

The application has not been returned yet so Leitzell did not have the names of the two. Inquiries have also been made about using the empty building for a restaurant and bar or for a bowling alley, he said.

Hub Rec Members Approve Budget

The San Anselmo Recreation Commission Tuesday night approved a recreation budget of $90,843, almost twice the size of this year's budget, for submission to the city council.

This year's budget for recreation totaled $47,269. The budget recommended by the commission includes $28,500 in capital improvements at the ball park and memorial park, and an initial payment of $8,000 for a recreation center.

Conditional Use Permit Is Granted

The Sausalito City Council did not deny Mrs. Bunty Mordant a conditional use permit for conversion of the Gate Theater into shops and a restaurant, as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The council after expressing unanimous objection Tuesday to the project was advised by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan that a public hearing would have to be held if the council declined to accept earlier planning commission approval. A hearing was set for May 16.

Rapids Dunk Lewis-Clark Explorers

GREER, Ida. — Two members of a modern Lewis and Clark expedition, Fred Tower of Sausalito and Bruce Markey of Alturas, were dunked in Clearwater River rapids today about five miles upstream from this north Idaho community.

Soaked but unhurt when their canoe capsized, the youths righted it, changed clothing and continued on their way. A second canoe, manned by Gerald L. Everson of Los Altos and Ron Hainline of Grants Pass, Ore., negotiated the rapids safely.

The four all students at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, are attempting to retrace the route of the original Lewis and Clark expedition into the Northwest about 160 years ago. The stunt is part of their school's 100th anniversary observance.

The modern-day explorers hope to paddle down the Clearwater to Lewiston by the weekend, then continue down the Snake and Columbia rivers to Portland.

Youth Missing From Tiburon

March Slocum, 17-year-old son of Mrs. Ethel Slocum of 1 Acacia Court, Tiburon, has been missing from home since Friday evening.

Mrs. Slocum reported the boy's disappearance to Tiburon sheriff's deputies yesterday. He was still missing today.

The mother said her son had grown long hair and talked about joining the "hippies" in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury district.

He was described as six feet tall, weighing 190 pounds, with long brown hair. He was wearing black jeans, a light blue shirt, beige boots and a green corduroy jacket when last seen.

Twitchell's Win Marks Board Return

Glen E. Twitchell of Lagunitas, who was elected to the Lagunitas School District Board Tuesday, will serve his second term as a trustee.

Twitchell was elected to a four-year term in 1961, but didn't seek re-election in 1965. In yesterday's school board election story, the Independent-Journal inadvertently omitted Twitchell from a list of former trustees who were returned to office.

Reagan Signs Permit For Utility Merger

Special legislation to permit merger on July 1 of Bolinas and Bolinas Beach Public Utility districts has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan, Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks reported today.

Under state law, applications for such mergers must be on file with the Secretary of State by Jan 1 to take place in the same fiscal year. Without the special bill, the merger, approved by voters in February, could not have occurred until July 1, 1968.

Pacific Tel Wins Chance For Hikes On Old Rulings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific Telephone Co. won a chance yesterday to seek changes in 12 operating and investment cost determinations made by the State Public Utilities Commission in 1964 and 1966 rate decisions.

By a 4-1 vote, the commission rejected a PUC staff recommendation that the 12 cost rulings be banned from consideration in hearings on Pacific Telephone's new request for rate increases amounting to $181 million a year.

Several cities and consumer organizations backed the PUC staff stand at the opening of hearings on the new increase request. They contended the State Supreme Court had upheld the previous PUC decisions.

Among the questions opened for review will be the fees Pacific Telephone pays to American Telephone and Telegraph Co., Pacific's major stockholder.

Peter Mitchell, commission president who announced the 4-1 action, said each issue on investment and operating cost offered by the company would be judged on its merits as it was presented.

Span Sessions Set

Two committees of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will meet at the Administration Building at the bridge toll plaza tomorrow. The building and operating committee will beet at 10:30 a.m. and the legislation committee at 11 a.m.

Russian Trawlers Are Being Watched

EUREKA (AP) — Two Russian fishing trawlers were six miles off the Northern California coast last night and under the eye of the Coast Guard.

The 150-foot-long vessels flew red flags, men at Blunt's Reef Lightship on Cape Mendocino reported. The Coast Guard said the ships were not violating U.S. laws.

Construction Worker Killed In Long Fall

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A construction worker was killed yesterday when he fell 12 stories from the top of the Matson Building being built at Mission and Spear streets.

Police said Xavier Campos, 33, was pulled from the roof when his hand became entangled in wood that was being lowered.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Sometimes 'Take It Easy' Can Be Too-Powerful Prescription

VAN DELLEN

"Take it easy" is common medical advice, but it is inane unless given individual consideration and directed at those activities that aggravate or prolong an illness. It may mean less physical activity, getting an assistant, avoiding stressful situations or resigning from the P-TA or fund-raising groups.

The busy executive, slave-driving foreman, and the professional person are hard to slow up after a severe heart attack or stroke. These people have so many irons in the fire, deadlines to meet, and decisions to make that it is difficult to know where to begin.

Some go overboard on the advice such as the Chicago housewife who was told to take it easy because of nervousness and hypertension. "I do so little now that life is becoming monotonous. I work less than three hours a day and not hard enough to raise a sweat."

THIS WOMAN should take it easy on taking it easy. She has time on her hands and needs to use more imagination in her leisure activities.

Work never killed anyone but over-fatigue and frustration might. No harm will come from being busy and besides, activity helps dissipate energy that might be channeled into self-pity.

Energy expended in work, play, and mental activity must not go beyond the tangible benefits obtained. Adjustments must be made when what we are doing interferes with our health and happiness.

THERE IS always an easier way to do things in order to combat overfatigue. This is what most physicians mean when they advise a patient to take it easy.

I am not advocating shorter working hours or implying that work is a curse. We have abolished slavery and outlawed the sweatshop but something will "pop" unless we banish the monotony that comes from too much time on our hands.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ABDOMINAL PAIN

Mrs. T.F.G. writes: Is pain from appendicitis always on the right side?

REPLY

No. Initially pain is located in the middle of the abdomen but as the infection localizes, distress moves to the right in 99 cases out of 100. Exceptions occur when the organs are reversed (situs inversus), should the organ rupture and pus gravitate to the left side, or if the appendix is unusually long or points toward the back.

NERVOUSNESS AND NEURITIS

C.G.E. writes: Is a nervous person more likely to develop neuritis than one who is placid?

REPLY

No, because nervousness is an emotional disturbance and is not related to the peripheral nerves that involve the arms and legs. Neuritis is inflammation of one of these structures.

IMPROVED OUTLOOK

REPLY

The chance of cure with streptomycin, PAS, or the isoniazids is much greater today than in the past.

CORD POLYPS

Mrs. G. writes: Will vocal cord polyps regrow after removal?

REPLY

SHREDS

REPLY

Not unless the urine also contains pus cells, which would indicate infection.

Age No Worry To Jane Russell

SINGAPORE (AP) — "I could not care less about the passing of time or aging," says actress Jane Russell.

"I do look back sometimes," said Miss Russell, 45, on her arrival yesterday with her singing trio. "I look forward too."

Talking about her impending divorce from her husband of 24 years, Robert Waterfield, she said, "If a married couple cannot be happy together they should seek divorce. You can say we are not happy anymore."

She told reporters "of course" she would marry again.

Gas Powered Cars Defended

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Because motor makers will beat the smog problem, the electric car will not replace gasoline-powered cars, declares the president of Standard Oil Co. of California.

"The gasoline-powered engine is not hopelessly doomed," J.E. Gosline told the Independent Oil and Gas Producers of California last night.

He said current electric car performance is only slightly above golf cart level. He said electric cars are "subject to safety as well as economic and technical problems."

90-Year-Old Paint Job Is In Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The city awarded a $1,540 contract yesterday for painting its 90-year-old cable car barn.

One provision of the contract is that when the job is finished, the place should look like it did in 1878.

Police Crack Down Hard On Louisville Marchers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police quashed a demonstration for an open-housing ordinance by hauling every one of about 100 marchers to jail last night.

The arrests apparently removed doubts about the city's action on its temporary ban against night marches by the demonstrators. Earlier yesterday, a federal judge rejected a petition on behalf of the demonstrators to remove the case from state to U.S. District Court.

Police twice fired tear-gas pellets into a crowd of more than 700 hecklers, at times forcing them two blocks away from demonstrators.

A police captain said the hecklers appeared angrier than during other of the almost nightly demonstrations. Police arrested a total of 113 persons including some hecklers for throwing rocks, scuffling with police or failing to obey orders to move out.

As much as 20 pounds of pull is required to pluck an orange from its trees, the Riverside Citrus Research Center reports.

Property Taxes Carrying Load

Property taxes in Marin County next year will cover 40.8 per cent of the total proposed county budget of $28,374,617, according to figures announced today by Auditor-controller Michael Mitchell.

Federal and state aid will contribute 33.4 per cent of the cost; charges for services, 5 per cent; unincorporated sales taxes 1.5 per cent, other sources, 19.3 per cent.

In the current fiscal year, Marin led all other counties in the state in percentage of property tax requirement with 418 per cent of the total budget being supported by property tax.

Film On Greenbelt

Sellout For Warriors—76ers Game

Having demolished the specter of a shutout, the San Francisco Warriors tonight battle to square accounts with the Philadelphia 76ers in their final National Basketball Association playoff series.

"It was a personal thing for us to fight back," declared 6-foot 11-inch Nate Thurmond.

"Boston took only one game from the 76ers and as a matter of pride we want to do better than the Celtics, perhaps even win the championship, which is possible now."

Thurmond proved the strong tower in the Warriors 130 - 124 triumph over the 76ers at the Cow Palace Tuesday night after the Eastern champs had won the first two games in Philadelphia.

Warrior shooting came to life and Coach Bill Sharman hopes his club maintains its collective shooting eye before the capacity throng at the Cow Palace tonight. Game time is 8:30.

Coach Alex Hannum of Philadelphia, on the other hand, adjusted defenses to avoid repetition of the 55 points by Rick Barry and 28 by Jim King which riddled the 76ers in the third game.

Yesterday all reserved seats were sold with only a few grandstand ducats remaining to go on sale at noon today. That assured a crowd of 15,000.

Commenting on the victory, Sharman said, "That was the first game in which we shot well. We just weren't hitting in Philadelphia."

The Warriors connected on 45.3 per cent of their shots from the floor while the 76ers hit 43.1 per cent.

Barry added, "We hope to even it tonight. Out fast break was working because we were able to rebound with the 76ers."

Thurmond picked off 25 rebounds to 26 for 7-foot 1-inch Wilt Chamberlain. Barry picked off an even dozen, third high for the game as San Francisco had a total of 83 to 68 for the visitors. On Sunday in Philadelphia, the Warriors were out-rebounded by 18.

"I don't think we played as well as we are capable," said Hannum of the initial outing at the Cow Palace where the Warriors are undefeated this season.

Although they play most of their home games at Civic Auditorium, where there'll be closed circuit television of the game tonight, the Warriors played one exhibition and three regular season games at the Cow Palace.

They also have beaten Los Angeles and St. Louis there in playoff games.

Prep All-Star Game Is Off

Third annual North-South Marin County High School All-Star football game, scheduled Aug. 28 at Kentfield, has been canceled due to a National Collegiate Athletic Association technicality, the sponsoring Ross Valley Kiwanis Club announced today.

NCAA sanction of the game was withdrawn, Kiwanis Chairman Jack Camiccia announced, "because our letter of application did not reach them by the March 19 deadline. Our application was postmarked March 19, but it did not reach them until March 20."

NCAA approval is necessary because athletes who play in non-sanctioned all-star contests automatically lose one year of college eligibility, Camiccia explained.

"We made several appeals to the NCAA, but they stood fast on their rule," the chairman added.

The game was to match the outstanding senior football players in the nine Marin high schools. A sellout in its first two years, the game has raised more than $5,000 for Kiwanis youth benefits.

"We're already making plans for the 1968 game," Camiccia added.

Swimming Parents Deserve Pat On Back

TANKS A LOT—If you have Age Group swimmers in your castle I feel for you, Bunky. I also admire your fortitude.

Your little aquanuts practice six days a week and you must arrange your lives around their damp sport. Meals, for example, must not interfere with training sessions and you find yourself eating in shifts (and other garb). "I feel like a short order cook," one aquamom told me.

DURING THE SUMMER your kids must be in the pool by 6:30 a. m. for two hours of work. Another session is scheduled in the late afternoon. As dedicated Age Group swimmers wouldn't miss a practice or meet, your family vacations, jobs, dental appointments and, yes, even birthday parties are scheduled around stopwatches and butterfly strokes. "But, Mommie, TOMORROW'S my birthday." "Shaddup. Tomorrow Junior's swimming in Redding. We just rescheduled your birthday for next week."

Swimming Is A Year-'Round Grind

This is a year-'round grind, but it tapers off during the winter. School interferes with practices so they are cut down to one a day. But the youngsters also do roadwork and weightlifting to keep conditioned. And the bedroom door in every swimming home is bedecked with two lengths of surgical tubing so kids can flex their arms. Don't open the door too fast, Pop, or you'll slingshot Junior right through the wall.

SUMMER WEEKENDS are wrapped around meets in such exotic places as Redding, Sacramento, Modesto and Greenbrae. Usually the whole fam damily tags along, so the motel and meal bills pile up by the end of the summer.

AAU age groups range from 10 and under (some start as early as 6) through 17. And a curious and funny thing occurs in the young female ranks. They go like miniature Ann Curtises through the 11-12 age group and then—plop—there are more dropouts than the Italian Army under fire. You see, when the little cupcakes approach high school age they suddenly detest the thought of stringy hair and discover boys and parties and things like that and, well, practice takes up SO much time.

ON THE OTHER HAND, boys get serious about sports at that 13-14 age. Psychiatrists have an answer for this, but it escapes me at the moment.

400 AAU Swimmers In Marin County

There are approximately 400 registered Amateur Athletic Union age group swimmers in Marin County, including as many as five in one family.

AN AAU MEET requires the services of more than 100 adults, including referees, clerks, timers, judges, recorders, statisticians. Thus, all meets have a guaranteed audience. Throw in the mothers and fathers and you've got a standing room only crowd.

If you'd like to see a typical AAU meet in action, visit Bon Air Recreation Center in Greenbrae Saturday and Sunday. (If you're down by the pool, drop in.) The Marin Swim Championship will make its fourth annual splash there with a whopping entry list of nearly 600 swimmers from throughout Northern California.

THERE WILL BE some great young natators in action. But don't get too excited over their victories and records. Kids who spend hundreds of hours a year practicing one thing OUGHT to be good at it. A polite round of applause will do.

Save your cheers for the parents. Now, there are the REAL champions.

Clay Says He Won't Go In Army

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay said today he will not wear an Army uniform "under any circumstances."

Clay said that it would be a denunciation of his Muslim religion.

"No, I am not going 10,000 miles from here to help murder and kill and burn another poor people simply to help continue the domination of white slave masters over the darker people the world over," he told a news conference.

Clay said that he had been warned to take such a stand would cost his prestige and millions of dollars.

NO SELLOUT

"But if I remain silent and put on the uniform and went along, this would be an ugly sellout to my people and no matter what it costs me, whether jail or my life, I will not disgrace my religion, my people or myself."

He said that to do anything else would make him a "tool to enslave those who are fighting for justice, equality and freedom."

Asked if he would take a noncombatant role in the armed services, he replied: "No sir."

Clay said earlier he would refuse to take the oath of induction when he was called April 28.

A draft board spokesman said if this happens, Clay would be required to sign a paper stating that he had refused and the matter then would be turned over to the district attorney's office for action.

LONG FIGHT

Clay has fought long and unsuccessfully in the court to avoid the draft, claiming that he is exempt because he is a Black Muslim minister.

Originally, he was to be called up in Louisville but had the case transferred to Texas on grounds that it was now his business residence.

During the conference, Clay also was asked what effect possible imprisonment might have on his heavyweight title.

"Even if I am jailed for three years I can remain in condition, if I can get good food," he said.

Torrid Braves Win Fifth Straight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Hank Aaron has a hard time breaking the old home run habit, he'll have no trouble keeping his new friends.

The Atlanta slugger, who led the National League with 44 home runs last year but dipped to a .279 batting mark — lowest in his career — blasted a pair of homers last night, powering the torrid Braves to a 4-1 victory over Houston.

"I'm going back to my old style of hitting, to get a better batting average," the .316 lifetime hitter said before signing a two-year contract last winter at $100,000 per-season. "I wasn't too concerned about batting for an average last year because I had made up my mind to lead the league in homers."

MAKING FRIENDS

"There's no better way of making friends when you move into new territory than hitting the ball over the fence," Aaron added, explaining he went for the long ball in 1966 to help boost fan interest during the Braves' first year at Atlanta.

Aaron didn't disappoint the Atlanta backers last night. He slammed a 405-foot, bases-empty drive over the centerfield fence in the first inning and hammered a 420-foot solo shot into the left field seats in the fourth.

The 33-year-old outfielder's first two 1967 homers lifted his career total to 444, No. 10 on the all-time list, while sending his early-season batting average up to .321.

The homers also provided the winning margin as the Braves rolled to their fifth straight victory after an opening string of three losses.

St. Louis' streaking Cardinals overpowered San Francisco 7-5 for their sixth victory in six starts and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 3-2 on Ron Hunt's run-scoring double in the 10th. The Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game was rained out.

OFF GIUSTI

Dave Giusti, Houston's starter, gave up both Aaron homers and was touched for another run in the fourth when Mack Jones doubled, took third on an error and scored on a force-play grounder. A walk, Rico Carty's double and Mike de la Hoz' infield hit gave the Braves an insurance run in the eighth.

Winner Ken Johnson allowed only four hits before giving way to Ramon Hernandez in the seventh. Ed Mathews singled the Astros' run across in the sixth.

Ron Hunt broke up the Dodgers-Reds duel with a run-scoring double in the 10th — his fourth hit in five trips. Gene Michael led off the 10th with a double and Hunt, who had scored the first two Los Angeles runs, delivered the winning hit one out later.

Tommy Harper homered for Cincinnati in the sixth and the Reds tied it in the seventh when Tommy Helms singled, stole second and raced home on John Edwards' single.

Giants Started Season Like Pennant Winners

Losing six straight and with a 1-7 record, the San Francisco Giants are off to the worst start for the club since it was in New York in 1951 and dropped 11 straight and 12 of its first 14 games.

That year the Giants won the National League pennant, in a playoff against Brooklyn's Dodgers.

Yet last place in the National League, even at this early date holds no solace, and the Giants' ace pitcher Juan Marichal has gone down to defeat three times, half his entire loss total last season.

The hard hitting St. Louis Cardinals, undefeated to date, whipped San Francisco 7-5 in Candlestick Park last night, the third time this year they have upended the club figured to be among the top pennant contenders.

Marichal went out after 3 1-3 innings. Each Cardinal in the batting order had hit safely against him except Orlando Cepeda. He had given up five earned runs and boosted his ERA to 6.39.

There were boos when the $100,000 hurler came out, perhaps because he had held out until the waning days of spring training in a dispute over salary.

"Every time I threw the ball, they hit it," Maricahl mused. "I feel good and the weather didn't bother me. They weren't booing Herman Franks for taking me out. When you win, you're great."

Tim McCarver belted a three-run homer in the first inning and Jukian Javier hit one over the fence with a mate aboard off reliever Joe Gibbon in the fifth. Four singles had brought two runs in the fourth before Franks took Marichall out.

Willie Mays didn't see action as he continues to nurse a pulled hamstring muscle.

"Maybe he'll play Thursday," said Franks. "I don't know. I don't know how he feels."

Brighest spot for the Giants were two solo home runs by Ken Henderson, who's playing center field while Mays is out. The second one sent southpaw Larry Jaster to the showers in the eighth, but the lefty still recorded his second triumph of the campaign.

Another southpaw, Alvin Jackson, faced the Giants and Bob Bolin today and it looked like a parade of portside hurlers were lining up to try and extend the losing streak.

Tomorrow night and Saturday, the Atlanta Braves plan to send Denny Lemaster and Dick Kelley to the hill at Candlestick.

Arnie Picked To Capture Dallas Open

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)— Arnold Palmer is on the way to his greatest year in golf, moneywise at least, which explains why no one else was even mentioned when the favorite was established in the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open.

The tournament, with Palmer an entry for the first time in six years, started today over the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club Course, where Palmer showed he was still winging merrily on when he fired a two-under-par 68 in the pro-amateur yesterday.

Palmer has played in 10 of the 13 tournaments this year and placed fourth or better in seven of them. He has won two—Los Angeles and Tucson. More important he has won $81,285, of which $73,273 is official money.

Billy Casper was considered a most serious challenger and Frank Beard, who played some hot golf to beat Palmer in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, was also highly regarded.

It is the finest field Dallas has had, the course is in top shape and hopes are strong that the weather will be just the opposite of last year. Then rains dogged the tournament, causing rounds to be postponed.

Little New Zealander Is A Hero In Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Little Dave McKenzie of New Zealand was hailed as a giant killer and a top Olympic contender today after a record-smashing triumph over the Japanese in the 71st Boston Athletic Association Marathon.

The 5-foot-4, 120-pound McKenzie crushed Japanese hopes for a third straight BAA triumph, breezing to victory in 2 hours, 15 minutes and 45 seconds yesterday.

McKenzie helped set a blistering pace for 18 miles and then pulled away as he headed into the first of three hills. Yutaka Aoki tried to make up ground on the third, known as Heartbreak Hill, and actually closed to within 30 yards.

However, McKenzie pulled away for his sixth straight marathon triumph, fourth since Jan. 28 and ninth in 11 over-all starts.

The bid for the lead took so much out of Aoki that Tom Laris, 26-year-old former Ivy League two-mile champion at Dartmouth, overtook him ofr second place in 2:16.48.

Aoki hung on for third in 2:17.17, while Louis Castagnola, a Washington electronics engineer, finished fourth in 2:17.48, and Italian champion Antonio Ambu took fifth in 2:18.04.

Little Ron Pugh: Mr. Indispensable

By GARY TISCHLER

The word is indispensable.

It's a big five-syllable tag they usually put on the fullback who's eaten up 900 yards of turf for you, the 7-1 guy who makes you happy just by showing up, and the fast-ball stopper who can walk on the mound and bail you out of trouble with one pitch.

We'd like to put the tag on somebody no pro scout has ever heard of, who never graced a four-column sports picture, who never even made the box score in a 100-40 game.

PAUL SAGUES

All he does is walk in the shadow of the big fellas and picks up the pieces, the equipment and balls, ties the shoes, binds the wounds, keeps the score and statistics, makes sure the footballs and basketballs are not running out of air and acts like a human dynamo.

WE'RE TALKING about a manager-statistician, in particular, Ron Pugh of Novato High School, who has been doing this sort of thing in three sports for the past three years.

"HE'S A GREAT little manager," Scott said. "He keeps the books, takes care of the equipment. He's very thorough and professional. He helps out with my athletic budget. He's there every time you need him."

Ron, who is only five feet tall and weighs slightly under 100 pounds, hopes to be a trainer in college and possibly in professional sports.

His thoroughness as a statistician, even in the wake of an all-losing basketball season at Novato when some might say "the heck with it," was amazing.

HE COULD PROBABLY tell you the brand name of the official's whistle, the number of shots missed during warmups and the mispronunciations by the yell leaders, if any. Win or lose, Pugh is a walking score book.

So, although they hand out the bouquets on the editorial page, here's one on the sports page to Ron Pugh, manager-statistician extraordinary. Novato High School's athletic department will miss him when he is graduated this year.

If swimming meets were won strictly on first places, with depth counting nothing, Drake wouldn't lose a meet. As it is, the Pirates have lost only one, none in Marin County Athletic League competition. And the big four have really made thei presence felt.

Between them, the fab four have won 52 events, lost only two. Sagues and Skaer are undefeated, with Sagues swimming two events a meet. Girvin and Edmonds have lost once each and they also swim two events each.

IN ADDITION, they bring out the record books at every meet in which they are swimming. Edmonds, Sagues and Girvin have set at least one school record each, with Girvin rewriting the 100-yard backstroke mark three times this year, in addition to setting a new 200-yard individual medley mark. Sagues has broken the mark for the 100 free style and Edmonds broke the 200 free style record twice.

The big test for the Pirates comes tomorrow when they tackle Terra Linda. Both teams are tied for the league lead with 4-0 records.

IT PAYS TO double play at Redwood.

The twin killings are cropping up at what could be a record rate for the Giants this year.

In 12 games, the Giants, with the combination of shortstop Ken Johnson, second baseman Jim Scovil and first baseman Jack Fitzhenry, have come up with 12 double plays, five in three MCAL games.

The best Redwood double play output was 16 in 1962 when Bob Scovil, Jim's older brother, was playing second base. Would you believe coincidence?

Like Days Of Old: Yanks Lead League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was an old combination back at work in the American League standings today.

The New York Yankees were in first place again, put there on a shutout by slick Whitey Ford.

It's been 2½ years — if you don't count opening day when nobody else played — since the Yankees had nine teams below them.

Last season, when they finished 10th, the Yanks never made it over the .500 mark and Ford, plagued with a circulatory problem in his left shoulder, managed just two victories.

But he was the oldtime Whitey against the Chicago White Sox yesterday, allowing just seven singles for a 3-0 victory. It was his 45th career shutout and his first since Aug. 5, 1965 when the victims were, ironically, the White Sox and yesterday's loser, Tommy John.

When he retired the last man, Ford, attempting a comeback after his second shoulder operation, jumped off the mound in joy. It was like those pictures of pitchers who've just won World Series games. You remember World Series games. Ford used to work in them in the good old days.

Elsewhere in the American league yesterday, rookie Red Carew drove in the winning run with a ninth-inning single as Minnesota and Dean Chance defeated Baltimore 3-2. Three home runs powered Cleveland to a 4-1 victory over Kansas City. Washington's doubleheader at Boston was rained out.

Ford was delighted with his performance. "It's been a long time hasn't it?" he said, grinning.

The ace left-hander, who ran into Boston rookie Bill Rohr's one-hitter in his first start this season, said he was bothered somewhat by Chicago's 49 degree temperature.

"My fingers began to feel the cold after six innings and I couldn't use my breaking stuff. I went mostly to the fast ball and the sinker."

The Yankees picked up a run off John in the second on Charley Smith's single, two walks and a sacrifice fly by John Kennedy. Smith's sacrifice fly and a single by Joe Pepitone drove in two more in the third following an error by Chicago's Tom McCraw.

The Twins knocked off the Orioles with a strong pitching performance by Chance, who allowed just five hits and struck out 10.

Carew, a rookie second baseman, broke the game up with a one-out, bases loaded single against Stu Miller in the ninth. The hit scored Ted Uhlaender, running for Harmon Killebrew, who had opened the inning with a single. Killebrew also hit his first homer of the year earlier in the game.

Max Alvis, Duke Sims and Chuck Hinton all hit home runs for the Indians against Kansas City and Sonny Siebert, with late inning help from Bob Allen, picked up his first victory.

San Rafael, Redwood Win Marin League Net Matches

Prevailing weather conditions made way for two Marin County Athletic League tennis matches yesterday, but MCAL baseball teams remained stymied by the unfavorable conditions.

San Rafael's netmen romped to their second straight league victory as they blanked Marin Catholic, 5-0, at San Rafael; and Redwood squeezed by Sir Francis Drake's Pirates, 3-2, to increase its loop record to 2-1, at Redwood. Drake now owns a 1-2 won-lost mark in MCAL competition.

Redwood's track team yesterday downed Crestmoor and El Camino in a triangular meet at San Bruno, with Greg Sullivan's record shattering performance in the two mile run, 10:04.5, and Dave Howell's three second place finishes highlighting the action for the victors. Howell clocked 15.7 in the 120 high hurdles; 20.7 in the 180 low hurdles (and lost by a tenth of a second in both races), in addition to making his best long jump of the year, 20-6¾.

SOUR NOTES: Novato vs. Tamalpais in golf competition has been postponed until Friday (Novato's linksters were to meet Redwood today at Indian Valley.) And in baseball activity, the Marin Catholic vs. Terra Linda game — rained out Tuesday — was to be played today; while Redwood at Tamalpais and San Rafael at Novato has been postponed until next Wednesday due to wet grounds.

Additionally, College of Marin's tennis team was forced to cancel a match with San Mateo yesterday, but the Tar racket men were to square off with Santa Rosa today, 2 p.m. at Santa Rosa. They travel to Rocklin tomorrow for an encounter with Sierra, also 2 o'clock.

The Marin netters, perched atop the standings with a 4-9 Golden Valley Conference record, have twice been forced to postpone matches with co-leader Shasta, 4-0, due to the weather man's inability to bring sunshine to the bounty county.

New Zealander Captures Boston Marathon Classic

Zealand Championship the last two years, charged through driving sleet and rain to trim 48 seconds from the 26-mile, 385-yard course record set by Morio Shigematsu in leading a 1-2-3-5-6 Japanese finish in 1965. Japan swept the first four places with newcomers last year.

VERY COLD

"It was very cold and my calf muscles got very stiff, but I was not overly tired at the finish," McKenzie said. "The hills didn't bother me. I just wanted to stay out in front."

"We didn't expect to be beaten," Aoki said. "We had heard of McKenzie, but we didn't realize how strong he was until we saw him run."

Tooru Terasawa, who helped the Japanese run opposition into the ground as coach before he settled for a third place finish in 1966, said he and his three running partners this year were bothered by the cold, rain and strong winds, as well as a record-setting early pace.

Terasawa said he and his three countrymen had hoped to pass McKenzie on Heartbreak Hill.

TOO STRONG

"When he was so strong going down the hill, we realized we couldn't make it," Terasawa said.

Andy Boychuk, the Canadian national champion, finished sixth in 2:18.7, with Japan's Takashi Inoue seventh in 2:20.41, and Terasawa eighth in 2:21.17. Danny MFcadzien of the British Royal Navy was ninth in 2:26.6, and Finnish champ Kalevi Ihaski 10th in 2:27.2.

Asked about 1968 Olympic hopes, McKenzie said the Games are "too far off to think about right now." However, he obviously is looking forward to a crack at Japan's best, including Shigematsu, now in training for the gold medal test in Mexico.

STEVENS

Some folks take the high road to Africa for a trophy pair of tusks, or India for el tigre, or to Alaska for a polar bear or a giant brownie. But there are sportsmen who look for and find trophy black bass in such places as Lake Berryessa.

Just to prove it can be done, one of East Bay's mightiest anglers, along with his nine-year-old son went to the Putah Creek Marina last Saturday to join battle with a trophy black bass. Therein lies a true tale of a man against the elements and a big fish.

IT HAPPENED this way:

Mel Toponce and his son, Mark, braved the cold rain and wet, wet clothes to prove the adage: "Nothing ventured, nothing gained." Hooking a "Purple Eel" lure to his 8½ foot fly rod, our hero teased a true lunker blackie into sampling the ability of Mel Toponce to hook, play and eventually land a large fish on a light, 8-pound line. A light nudge at the artificial on the part of the bass, a quick snatch of the light rod to the vertical to set the hook, and the battle was on.

Long minutes, each packed with 60 seconds of thrills, ensued. Like a desperate tug-of-war, first the fish would gain a few yards of line, than Mel would retaliate with yards of line.

Now, understand, Mel Toponce is no tyro at fishing. He knew he had a big fish on his line, but he also knew that unless he played it just right, he'd never get the chance to see his opponent, hence the game of give and take with his hookup, slowly but surely gaining line.

AFTER ABOUT 30 thrill-packed minutes, the fisherman won out, his prize came belly up close enough to the boat to allow the net to engulf him in it. Mel heaved a huge sigh and gazed in admiration at the largest black bass ever to be taken out of the Putah Creek Marina, and perhaps the largest at any time in any part of the lake — a solid, 10-pound beauty.

Mel's son, an experienced angler in his own right, caught two nice blackies on the trip, also. Mark now has a mark to shoot at.

THE REPORT FROM Ben Shintaku of the 60 Main Bait Shop in Isleton sent an exciting report of increased activity with large and medium sized stripers. Ben writes: "It seems even the stripers are cooperating in pre-Rio Vista Bass Derby. Despite the bad weather, derby waters in Rio Vista Bay, from Decker Island to the second tower, saw action that ranged from good to excellent.

Lloyd Korth, of Pirate's Lair, and Ed Wilson of the Band W boats, said striper fishing was fair to good at San Andreas Shoal and Lower Mokelumne below Hiway bridge (Hiway 12). Fish up to 31 pounds were taken, all on bait.

THE CLIFF HOUSE let out 34 boats in two days which accounted for 79 bass to 24 pounds; Uncle Bob's spot reported 24 boats out for the two days with a catch of 87 bass to 36 pounds. At Bryan's place 26 boats in the two days came back with 60 fish to 28 pounds. So if the weather calms down, the 1967 Rio Vista Derby should be a huge success.

BIFF BUFF

Cardinals Are Hitting At .335 Clip

Five St. Louis Cardinals have hit safely in all six games they've played this season.

So Tim McCarver, who isn't in the quintet, belted a three-run homer last night as the undefeated Red Birds handed the San Francisco Giants their sixth straight defeat, this time 7-5.

Through the six games, St. Louis batters, including the pitchers, are belting at a .335 clip.

"Everyone deserves credit the way we've been going," declared McCarver, the catcher who starred at the bat in the World Series won by the Cards in 1964.

HIGH HOPES

"The way we've been going, we keep picking each other up and I hope we keep doing it. I was just happy I could do it in this game. They've been picking me up enough."

McCarver slammed the first pitch to him from Giant ace Juan Marichal in the first inning and sent it over the right field fence, scoring Curt Flood and Roger Maris.

Marichal, who won a $100,000 contract after a 25-6 season in 1966, lasted just 3 1-3 innings and wound up with his third setback against no victories. The Cards had beaten him 6-0 in St. Louis.

"I never had hit a home run off Marichal before," McCarver admitted. "I really don't know what the pitch was...it looked like a screwball, but it wasn't where he wanted it."

Curt Flood, Roger Maris, Orlando Cepeda, Phil Gagliano and Julian Javier each collected at least one hit so all have hit safely in every Cardinal game.

SECOND HOMER

Second baseman Javie belted a two-run homer, his second round tripper in as many games, and also had a pair of singles in four trips to the plate. Each Cardinal, except Cepeda, hit safely off Marichal. Cepeda singled off reliever Joe Gibbon in the fifth.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst commented, "Seven runs in each ball game will be all right. We've been hitting since the start of spring training and I just hope it keeps up."

Now Here' Some Real Devotion

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — How's this for devotion?

When his oar broke during a high school regatta yesterday, Bob Tucker of Cardinal O'Hara High School realized he was just extra weight in his team's racing shell.

So, despite chilling 50 degree temperatures, Tucker jumped out of the shell into the Schuylkill River, where he was later fished out safely.

Today is Thursday, April 20, the 110th day of 1967 with 255 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full stage. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars, Venus and Jupiter.

Born on this day in 1894 was movie comedian Harold Lloyd.

On this day in history:

In 1889, Adolf Hitler was born in Austria.

In 1926, a picturegram of a blank check sent from London to New York by RCA Radiophoto was honored and cashed. It marked the first time a bank honored a check not actually in its possession.

A thought for the day — French novelist Anatole France once said: "To know nothing at all, to imagine is everything."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Keep Tight Rein On Gifts, Or Lose Your Bridge Suit

Boys often celebrate April 1 by tying a string to a wallet placed on the sidewalk. Not original, but very satisfactory.

TRUMP RETURN

East won the first trick with the queen of hearts, noting that West had led from a four-card suit. This meant that South also had started with four worthless hearts. A trump return was clearly called for.

In all but a handful of cases East returned the deuce of diamonds at the second trick. It was a good idea, but not good enough.

LOW DIAMOND

Since South had no doubt about the location of the queen of diamonds he let the low diamond ride around to dummy's jack.

Declarer got to his hand with the ace of spades, ruffed a heart in dummy and discarded a heart on the king of spades.

Declarer then ruffed a club, drew trumps with the ace and king and then conceded one heart trick. It was astonishing, but South made five diamonds doubled against East's 21 points in high cards.

BEST RETURN

East can defeat the contract by returning the queen of diamonds instead of a low diamond at the second trick. South is delighted to capture the queen of diamonds with the king, but his joy is short lived.

South clears the ace of spades out of the way and then can ruff a heart with the jack of diamonds. Unfortunately, this allows East to win a trump trick with the ten of diamonds.

SAVE TRICK

South can save the trump trick by leading a trump to dummy's jack after he has cashed the ace of spades. But then East will eventually get two more heart tricks. East defeats the contract either way.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 2 no trumps, and the next player passes.

♠ K 8 6 5 3
♥ J

♣ Q 10 8 6 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three spades.

There is no need to jump, since partner is forced to bid again if you bid three of any suit. If partner has three spades he will raise your suit; if he denies three spades by bidding three notrump, you will bid four clubs. Game at a black suit should be safer than game at notrump.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Changing Of Issues Means Better Gains

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "We are in our 40s with five young children. We have $20,000 in savings and own Allied Chemical; Celanese; Corn Products; Crown Zellerbach; RCA; California Standard. We're saving several thousand dollars a year but our small business may not continue and we'd like to provide for our children. What changes should we make?" — L.D.

A. I am very glad to try to help a couple like yourselves, who are working to bring up a fine family. You have a good list of stocks, though some are better situated for income than for capital enhancement, which is probably your objective.

Allied Chemical is fortunate in having as president John T. Connor, former Secretary of Commerce and head of Merck & Company. Like some other chemicals, Allied has shown little growth and less appreciation over the past decade and — for your purpose — I suggest exchanging this stock for Sterling Drug.

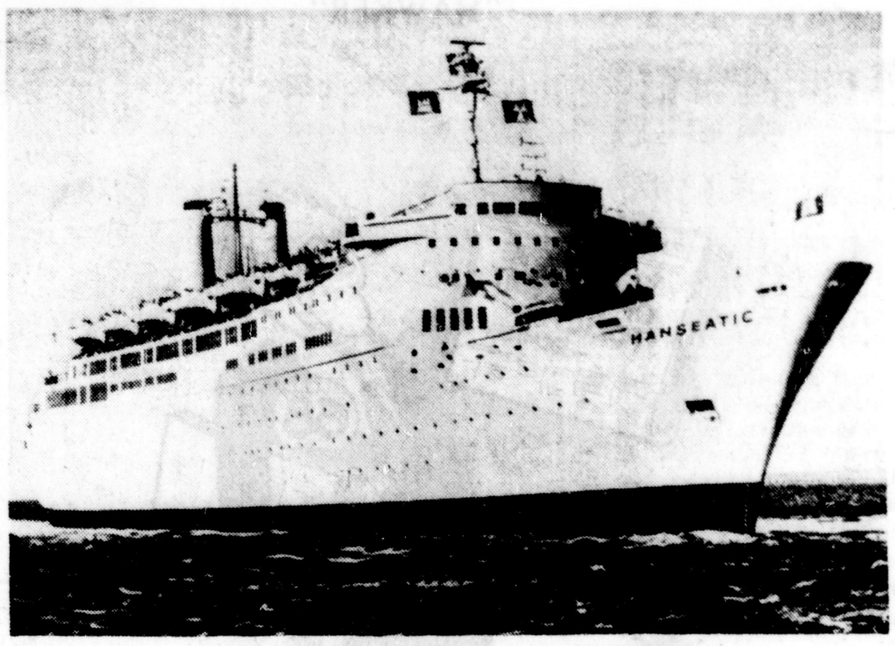
Celanese is down sharply in price because of lower synthetic fiber prices but I believe the shares should now be retained. Your other holdings seem satisfactory and I suggest no further changes.

Q. "I am holding $400 in Pan American 4½ per cent convertible debentures due in 1984. Should I sell or hold?" — I.K.

A. Your Pan Am. debentures are quoted around 225 which is just about their conversion value. At this level their current return is too low to afford any protection against price decline — if the stock for which they are exchangeable sells lower. They will move closely with the common which — like other airline issues — is quite volatile. If you can sustain considerable market risk and a low yield I would hold the debentures for their long-term option on a growth situation. Otherwise, I would switch into a better-yielding, less volatile stock such as Texaco.



FILLING A GAP IN FLEET

The Hanseatic, the giant German luxury passenger liner which burned in New York's harbor a few months ago, is being replaced sooner than expected. The German line, Deutsche Atlantik, has purchased the liner Shalom from Israel's Zim shipping firm and has recommissioned it for voyages until the Hanseatic's real replacement, the Hamburg, is ready for its maiden voyage in 1969. Firm Discipline Instills Respect For Authority

The action of the Dixie School District trustees last week in backing up a school principal for disciplining students who had committed vandalism was heartwarming.

The trustees ruled that Principal William B. Van Winkle had followed district policy in disciplining 15 pupils at Lucas Valley School.

As an expression of confidence in the princinpal, the trustees also decided to continue the policy of giving principals full authority in handling of school discipline.

Failure of the trustees to give their school principal a strong vote of confidence could have had a deleterious effect on school discipline throughout the county.

The modern trend in the disciplining of young people in schools, homes and on the streets has been toward leniency — giving young people free expression, with a minimum of restraint.

In certain cases, leniency and tolerance may be effective in the upbringing of children. But in other cases, the trend toward leniency has gone so far that some of the young rebels defy authority and thumb their noses at those who try to impose discipline. Law enforcement agencies report many instances when a surly young violator turns on authority with the statement: "You can't touch me; I'm a minor."

Much of this attitude could have been forestalled by firm discipline at home and in schools during the preteen years. Respect for parents, teachers and duly constituted authority, developed during those formative years, would have carried over into the teens and adulthood.

The Lucas Valley School principal's action in ordering pupils who defaced school property to clean up the mess was the type of discipline that youth can understand and will long remember.

Each problem of school discipline that arises hereafter will be handled on its merits by the administrators and boards of trustees of the district. Cruel and inhuman punishment certainly should not be tolerated. But when disciplinary action is just, as was the case in Dixie, we trust that trustees and parents will back up their principals with the same forthrightness.

SENSE OF DUTY IN SPITE OF SON'S DEATH

The sobbing of a mother in a Baltimore court caught the attention of a deputy sheriff.

So he questioned the 61-year-old mother of four who had been summoned as a witness in a larceny case.

The woman revealed that just before leaving home for the court, she had been notified that her only son had been killed in Vietnam.

She had come anyway, she said, because she felt it was her civic duty. In deference to her, the judge postponed the case indefinitely.

Few people would take their responsibilities as citizens so much to heart as did this unusual mother. Her willingness to put aside personal grief to fulfill a legal obligation is little short of heroic.

But God expects you to make a conscientious effort to meet your responsibilties in upholding high standards in government, education and other community affairs. This applies even when it means sacrifice of comfort, time or convenience.

(Psalm 106:3)

Liquor Tax, License Debates Upstage Topless Waitresses

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Most of the headlines in California's liquor industry these days are made by the topless waitresses but some continuing basic struggles within the industry have considerably more significance than the extent to which the bosoms of the barmaids are covered.

One of the prime ones is whether the artificial monopoly on the number of package store licenses should be relaxed. There are bills in on most of the touchy subjects and anything could happen but probably won't.

TO ADD TO the perennial nervousness of the liquor industry this year is the prime prospect of a tax increase. Gov. Ronald Reagan caught the industry a bit off balance when he proposed that the tax on distilled spirits be boosted by 75 cents per gallon — to $2.25. Most had expected the added tax would be only 50 cents.

Elements of the package store fraternity have let it be known that they would support a "reasonable" tax increase but they feel the 75-cent bounce is not reasonable. They have indicated they would settle for 50 cents. If the governor's strategy was to announce plans for a whole loaf and then settle for a half, maybe it will pay off.

OF COURSE, the major tax plan opposing Reagan's — the $1.15 billion program espoused by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R-Modesto, chairman of the assembly revenue and taxation committee — does not call for any increase in the liquor tax. Veneman reasoned that there's not enough money involved to go to the trouble of raising the tax.

The tax increases proposed by Reagan, Veneman and others generally would hit the consumer — directly on such things as sales tax, cigarette tax and personal income tax, and indirectly on bank and corporation taxes. It might be assumed that the liquor tax increase — amounting to 15 cents per fifth — also might be passed along to the consumer.

But this might not be so automatic as it appears. Under California's Fair Trade Act — which was upheld as constitutional by the state Supreme Court just last December — distillers or brand owners set a minimum retail price on hard liquor. The Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control enforces sales at these minimum prices.

IN NEIGHBORING Nevada, where prices of many items such as canned goods are higher than in California, the price of liquor is lower. On some name brands, the difference may be as much as $1 per quart.

Those who complain that the price of liquor in California is kept artificially high by the fair trade law may feel the industry should absorb the 15-cent tax, if it's enacted.

James O. Reimel, who used to be director of ABC but now works for the California Retail Liquor Dealers Institute, the package store group, said this couldn't be the case. Reimel said the California stores are working on such a narrow margin now they wouldn't be able to absorb the tax boost.

AS FOR the state-fixed monopoly on liquor licenses, Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-Atherton, has introduced a bill to relax it. Dolwig's bill would permit transfer of licenses from one county to another.

Off-sale licenses are limited to one for each 2,500 residents in a county. In counties where this quota is not met, the number of new licenses issued in any year may not exceed 10 per cent of the number of existing licenses, or 25, whichever is smaller.

Dolwig's plan would permit licenses in such counties as San Francisco, where there are too many, to be transferred to such counties as Orange, where there are so few that the going price on the market for the $6,000 licenses is upwards of $50,000. Dolwig is bucking a strong lobby for the present licensees who want the status quo.

NO ONE is holding his breath until a law change.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

OLD-TIME baseball great Hank Greenberg tells this story on himself. Pitcher Dizzy Dean, who had handled Hank with consummate ease in a previous World Series, got careless in an all-star game and fed him his favorite pitch —a high, inside, fast ball. Hank pickled it for a line triple. Back in the dugout, Manager Frisch fumed, "I told you not to give Greenberg a fat pitch like that." "Shucks," explained Dizzy Dean, "I jes' got curious. I was beginning to think he couldn't hit nuthin'!"

THERE'S A challenging item buried in the text of this year's report by the Georgia Game and Fish Commission. It reads, "One of our hunters was shot, though not seriously, this spring when another hunter mistook him for a squirrel."

IT TAKES a lot to upset a true English cockney lady these days. Consider the one who didn't budge one inch out of the way when a full-grown lion, escaped from the zoo, tore past her one morning. As it disappeared around the corner, she remarked calmly to a friend, "Blimey, you don't see many of THEM about nowadays!"

Adopted Children Story Falls Short

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There are still a few of us that believe in giving credit where credit is due. Hence our bitter disappointment over your decision to by-pass the story of McGraw-Hill employees financially adopting two orphan children over seas.

Good coverage on this story could have resulted in other companies following suit to offer their help to needy children. Good publicity is a great inducement to share in good fortune with others not so fortunate, and an appropriate article in your paper could have been of great value and benefit to others.

Marin County needs words of praise right now for reassurance that we do have fine, well intentioned people working hard for a better life; not just for themselves, but for others as well.

We appreciate the interview that Mr. Newell gave us, but we did expect a nicer, more complete article written on our project.

Action Needed To Halt Deaths

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Ten o'clock passed almost unnoticed in my English class. There were only two of us who realized it was the hour of execution, and we just stared at each other wondering what was right. The other girl belongs to a group that sent a telegram to Governor Reagan which read:

"Thou Shalt Not Kill . . . Stop."

I think that telegram should have been sent to all Californians, not just the Governor. When will people recognize the fact that they must change unjust laws? They can't allow unjust laws to remain and expect their officials to disobey them.

If you are against capital punishment, don't wait until another man is sentenced to the gas chamber and then start campaigning against it. Act now to change the law so this situation won't arise again.

We Californians must realize that California law is our responsibility. We cannot ask the governor or any other official to break laws on the basis of humanitarianism. We must instead make our laws human.

Failure To Vote Proves Costly

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the April 10 election Mrs. Anita Strom, an incumbent, was defeated for re-election to the San Rafael Board of Education. There appear to have been several reasons.

1. Her organization, of which I was the titular head, failed to "get out the vote" for her. I am convinced that she has several thousand supporters who simply failed to vote, because (a) they thought she would win anyway, (b) they were too tired to go to the polls, or (c) they were deterred by the rain. In one phrase, "voter apathy."

2. Her opponents ran an undercover campaign against her (not for themselves) consisting of propaganda based on old accusations long ago disproven, new accusations with no truth behind them. This cost some votes, but thinking people really didn't heed. It would have been insignificant if more thinking people had got to the polls.

3. Mrs. Strom took a firm and clearly stated stand for her principles, while her opponents mouthed platitudes and avoided issues. In fact, they could not oppose her sound principles, and even began to adopt some as their own toward the end of the campaign. Apparently, many voters don't like to know what they are voting for. ("VOTE 1-2-3"!!!)

Well, the voters will get what they deserve; both those who voted for Mrs. Strom's opponents, and those who failed to deliver their vote in her support. They are getting a Board increasingly deferent to the vocal special interests, the more active group of educators who are intent on selling our youth the doctrines of Socialism. They are getting a board much less responsive to the wishes of the citizens, parents and taxpayers, one which abdicates more and more of its authority — derived from the citizens — to the self-interested pressure groups.

Asylum Living Sounds Absurd

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding the letter from James M. Bouchard, Corte Madera, in the April 14 Independent-Journal:

Mr. Bouchard states he knows people who "have themselves committed by doing crazy things, then live it up in an asylum." This action seems to have something to do with waiting for pension checks to amount to $650, then paying an attorney's fees of $75 to "spring them" from the asylum. Mr Bouchard further states "these people" take this action more than once.

I have never heard of this extraordinary procedure which, of course, does not deny its existence. However I have heard of and seen the asylums where "these people live it up." My only comment would be that "these people" must be out of their minds and have chosen to live in exactly the place they belong.

Please, assure Mr. Bouchard that this is my personal opinion and not meant as an ipsedixit. *

Principal Shows His Principles

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How about that William B. Van Winkle . . . a principal with principles!! It is heartening to know that there is at least one left who is ready and willing to fight for his convictions.

As taxpayers (over one half of our rather formidable tax bill is for schools . . . and we have NO children), would like to express our thanks to Principal, Van Winkle for his firm stand on vandalism at his school.

We would also like to compliment those parents, who, after second thoughts, went along with Principal Van Winkle and his very fair punishment of their youngsters. We feel that those parents showed real love and sincere concern for their children . . . enough to pocket their own feelings and to think first of building a good character for their youngsters.

Air Base Resident Condemns Phil Drath

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wonder if Drath really thinks people believe only good will took him to a communist enemy to aid them. If he wants to be a humanitarian, he can find plenty of poverty stricken people in his own country and among our allies.

Our American men are dying for this country in Vietnam, so that our children won't have to fight communism here at home. That is being a patriot. I can think of a lot of names for Drath and among them are not words such as patriot or humanitarian. He is the disgrace of our country and those like him.

Politicians Caught By Surprise By Romney's Stand On Vietnam

LOS ANGELES — Everywhere I have been on this reporting trip across the country, politicians in both parties express surprise at the thrust of Gov. George Romney's Vietnam speech.

They are surprised not by his stand in support of U. S. policy but by the unconventional boldness with which he made it clear that he would take Vietnam entirely out of the 1968 Presidential campaign if he gets the Republican nomination.

Republicans have been counting on the Vietnam war as a kind of unearned dividend which could only help the GOP wrest the White House from President Johnson next year.

Republicans have been convinced that, regardless of what other issues might develop, Vietnam would overlay everything else and inevitably contribute to a Republican victory.

AND NOW comes Romney in his Hartford speech which clearly rests on the unexpected proposition that the opposite is the truth. The implications of this speech are in keeping with these two propositions:

That as a campaign issue Vietnam will be a liability to the Republicans, not an asset, because it will enable the President to distract attention from domestic shortcomings where he will be more vulnerable to GOP attack.

That the Republicans will have a far better chance of defeating Johnson by concentrating wholly on internal economic issues, like keeping down the cost of living, where the polls continue to show the Administration weakest.

I DOUBT that Romney set out to devise a subtle political strategy. My guess is that Romney did not deliberately plan to remove Vietnam as a campaign issue if nominated, but that when he found that this was the consequence of the position it was natural for him to take, he quickly saw that it was good politics.

Because the different stories reporting the Hartford speech understandably stressed different angles, it is possible that the extent to which Romney supported Johnson policy has not come fully into focus. But he backed the Administration's conduct of the war at every crucial point:

He supported the continued bombing of the North in the same terms as the President — that to fail to do so is to let down our own troops.

HE OPPOSED major escalation of the war in a "let's get it over with" mood by saying frankly to the hawks that this "simplistic" solution is "tempting but wrong."

He served notice that under his leadership the Republican Party will not allow itself to be a party to a "peace at any price" maneuver either in frustration or to win an election. Richard Nixon had warned that, unless Johnson stepped up the war, the Republicans might be tempted to settle on Hanoi's terms. Romney said never under any circumstances.

IF I UNDERSTAND Administration policy, this is exactly the way the President plans to continue to conduct the war and conduct the peace. While Romney leaves open the possibility of criticizing the Administration on tactics, there is no significant area for partisan debate.

I FIND that to many Republicans this seems a bold and sudden course for Romney to take. But it may well prove to be an exceedingly shrewd move. It makes it unlikely that Johnson can find any way to turn Vietnam against the Republicans and it would enable Romney to campaign on the issues where he might be strongest and Johnson weakest.

Teacher Corps Now Gaining Acceptance

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The controversial National Teachers Corps is gaining surprising support in Congress less than a year after its stormy beginning.

Launched in 1966 as an experimental program to improve education in city slums and depressed rural areas, this Great Society project appears to be on the way to winning permanent approval.

Surveys by Democratic leaders indicate that a majority of the House and Senate favor expanding the corps and keeping it operation until 1970.

A SIGNIFICANT sign of this was the administration's success in removing the program from the experimental stage.

The House Education and Labor Committee, which had evinced many misgivings in launching the corps, overwhelmingly voted $46 million to continue it through 1969. Of this amount $21 million can be spent during the coming fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee did cut the amount proposed for the coming fiscal year. The president had recommended $36 million. The committee reduced that to $21 million, but left the door open to authorize the other $15 million later in the session.

If this prediction is borne out, the corps will be able to more than double its size — now 1,213 teachers and teacher-interns.

ORGANIZED IN teams, the teachers are working in 275 schools in 111 districts. The interns, who make up two-thirds of the corps, work under the guidance of the experienced teachers.

The interns spend part of a week in an elementary or secondary school which has requested their services, and the remaining time studying in a university for a master's degree.

The teachers are paid the same as other teachers, while the interns receive a beginner's scale. Under an amendment approved by the House Education Committee, interns could receive either this pay or $75 a week, plus $15 for each dependent.

SCHOOLS BECOME eligible for corps teams if a "significant number" of children are from families with less than $3,000 income, or if 50 per cent of the enrollment receives aid to dependent children.

In its report the House Committee states the teachers corps is producing a number of "desirable side effects."

By placing teachers in slums, the program is attracting numerous young people who want to work with the poor but would not have gone into teaching. Many were planning to join the Peace Corps.

THE COMMITTEE also found that "the teachers corps program is generating new insights into what constitutes an effective teacher preparation program. University training centers have developed special programs, courses and curriculums geared to the needs of neglected schools in their areas."

Deans of educational schools and presidents of universities told the committee they view the corps as a means of testing new teaching concepts.

AS AN "experimental program," the committee recommended that corps teams be assigned to migrant groups to conduct classes as they move about.

Words Every American Wife Must Get Weary Of Hearing

"What would you like for our wedding anniversary, Jane? Something useful like a new can opener?"

"You may think money grows on trees but it doesn't."

"Hey, Mom, where's my blue sport shirt? It has to be somewheres."

"Why is it always my turn to have to take out the garbage?"

"Yeah, it tastes okay. But, of course, nobody can cook that dish quite like my mother could."

"I WAS CLEANING out my desk and came across some of your old love letters, Jane. Gosh, we certainly were nutty in those days, weren't we?"

"What do you do with yourself all day, just sit around and watch soap operas on television?"

"I know I promised to take you out some night this week. But can't we make it some night next week instead?"

"Hey, Mom, have you seen my plaid skirt? It has to be somewheres."

"MY GREAT grandmother traveled west in a covered wagon without an electric dishwasher. My grandmother raised 10 children on a farm without an electric dishwasher. My mother never asked my father for an electric dishwasher. So why should you mind getting a few soapsuds on your hands?"

"What do we need a new rug for? We've only had this one 23 years, and it still looks as good as new — except for the worn spots."

"WHILE YOU'RE UP, honey, would you mind going to the refrigerator and get me a can of beer? And while you're at it, how about making me a sandwich? Be sure and butter both pieces of the bread. Yeah, and don't forget the mustard."

"Hey, Mom, where's my pink blouse? It has to be somewheres."

"Gee, I wonder what is would be like to be single again. I've been married so long I don't even remember."

"I JUST MET up with an old war buddy, so I guess I'll miss the 5:57 train. If I miss the 6:43, be sure and meet the 7:39. And if I'm not on that, I'll be on the 8:52 — for sure."

"Don't tell me we're having odessa mismash hash for dinner, Jane. That's exactly what I had for lunch."

"Hey, Mom...!"

"Hey, Mom...!"

"HEY, MOM . . . !"

Clark Kerr's Martyrdom Raises Lowly Teachers' Social Status

Until the martyrdom of Dr. Clark Kerr, most of us were unaware of the sweatshop conditions under which our schoolteachers labor; that their pay is a mere pittance, barely enough to keep body and soul alive and maintain a strong lobby in every legislature, state or national.

THE WORST OF IT is, as these lobbies point out, that the educator could earn far more in any other field. When Kerr lost his $45,000 job as president of the University of California, which he had turned from a one-room schoolhouse into a modern Athens, it was predicted he would be snapped up by industry or some Eastern college at twice that stipend.

Undoubtedly such offers were made, but Kerr's dedication is such that he preferred to return to UC as a lowly professor at a mere $30,000. Money doesn't matter to the truly dedicated.

AS A YOUNGSTER, I realized nothing of the sacrifices involved in teaching. Occasionally, like the other kids, I brought my teacher an apple before a tough exam. But now that the wailing has made me realize that was probably the only lunch she could afford, I am sorry I didn't think to slip in an occasional sandwich, too.

Though we liked our teachers well enough, our own code never accepted them as full equals nor gave them the status our parents did. We might give our somewhat oversized drawing teacher our seat in the subway or bus, but none of us would have dreamed of marrying her. That was taboo.

Nor did that prejudice fade entirely even when I grew older. At any rate, I met a cute trick one night at a party and had a swell time till I discovered she taught first grade. Naturally, that scared the heck out of me, although she didn't look in the least like any of the teachers I had had.

BUT IN THOSE days I lived dangerously and recklessly called her up for another date. And then another one—even though I had meanwhile gathered that her father and her uncle were university professors. That cinched it — I knew Nothing Serious could develop.

But I hated to think of this culturally disadvantaged chick doomed to an academic ghetto, her life burdened with professorial teas when she wasn't explaining to indignant parents why Johnny got only a B in math.

SO I WRESTLED with my conscience — and lost. I felt it my duty to save her from a Fate Worse Than Death by making the Supreme Sacrifice and offering her wedding bells.

Naturally, maidenly modesty forbade her snapping up the offer — and it also happened a couple of other noble souls were equally intent on rescuing her. But about the tenth time I pointed out the advantages of marrying a writer, she signed on the dotted line.

All these years, I must say, she has been properly grateful whenever I have reminded her she might have been a starving schoolteacher but for my intervention. On these occasions, she usually bows three times and walks backward out of the room.

BUT THE OTHER day, she just said "Oh yeah?" and, without bowing even once, handed me a clipping from the local Los Angeles paper. It told of the death of a retired public school kindergarten teacher who had left an estate of over $100,000 — a $30,000 home and the rest in government bonds accumulated in a lifetime of saving.

Obviously, I pointed out, there must be some explanation. Everybody knows who knows anything that no teacher can save a dime out of her meager salary. The lady probably did some moonlighting as a plumber after school hours. Or maybe she acted as a CIA agent.

"OH, SURE," said the Little Woman. "And how did it happen that when we were married, shortly after the 1929 crash, you couldn't afford to take me to the movies; while my father, a starving college professor who was neither a plumber nor a CIA agent, took his wife to Europe?"

The next time I see the local head of the American Federation of Teachers (who moans even louder than Kerr), I hope to get the real answers.

BUT MEANWHILE, things aren't so hot. Now it's the Little Woman who tells of her sacrifice — and I'm the one who bows low and walks backward.

Asphalt Supply Drawing Slated

Marin County supervisors yesterday authorized a drawing to decide which of four oil companies should get the contract next fiscal year on supplying asphalt for county roads.

The four firms submitted identical bids ranging rfom $20 to $25.90 per ton, according to grade. Bids of the firms, Douglas, Shell and Union Oil companies and Chevron Asphalt Co., were referred to the U.S. Attorney General's office for investigation of possible price fixing, Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows reported.

County purchasing agent John F. Hettrich will schedule the drawing, which must be held in public.

Going On A Picnic? If So Report It

Udall's department reported today that 80,514,000 individuals went on picnics in 1965, making it the most popular form of what government people term an "outdoor recreation experience."

Walkers and swimmers were evenly matched that year. The Census Bureau, which did the survey work for the Department of the Interior, found 67,801,000 in each category.

But 1.03 billion walks were taken, while the number of swims swum was only 970 million.

The report has figures to show how many people were bicycling, fishing, camping, riding and doing the other things people do outdoors for fun, with 1960 figures for comparisons.

The trend, the survey said, is a sudden spurt in outdoor activity. The number of "experiences" jumped 51 per cent between 1960 and 1965.

No County Funding For Road Beauty

Directors of Terra Linda Community Services District Tuesday night learned that no funds are included in next year's county budget proposal for landscaping the north side of Las Gallinas Road, but requests by directors for three boulevard stop signs along the route probably can be granted.

Directors authorized application for exemption from the county's structural fire tax in the next fiscal year, secretary Cleo Murray reported.

Spare Tire Theft Reported To Police

Theft of a spare tire was reported Tuesday to Mill Valley police by Clark A. Bowen, 250 Miller Avenue. The tire was taken from his unlocked car while it was parked in the car port of his house, he said.

The front window of Odlum's Ski Center, 76 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, was smashed yesterday with an unknown object, police reported. Nothing was missing from the store.

New Cars Clouted

DeLong Chevrolet, Inc., Tuesday reported the theft over the weekend of $850 in equipment from several unlocked new cars in the firm's storage lot at 522 Francisco Boulevard.

A Golden Gate Park Envisioned For Marin

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen told members of the Conservation Council of Marin last night he envisioned a vast park between San Rafael and Novato.

Kettenhofen saw economic incentive as the means to create the park. He proposed a system of bonuses for developers, allowing higher density construction on built-up areas when developers dedicate 90 to 95 per cent of the area to open space.

Kettenhofen told the council, meeting at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, that the St. Vincent's School land and the properties of Anthony Silveira and the Smith brothers might be developed like Marincello with dedication of 92 per cent of the area to open space.

This would provide a park on the scale of Golden Gate Park between Highway 101 and the Bay, he said.

Kettenhofen said Marin, which is planning for a population of 800,000 in 50 years, will be sandwiched between large population centers in San Francisco and Sonoma County. Taxes, bond issues and donations cannot produce enough money to save the landscape against such population pressures, he said.

"I know that the cause of conservation would be better served by assuming a much higher population rather than a lower one as conservationists are prone to do today," he said.

The first flag to wave over the San Francisco Peninsula, that of King Carlos III of Spain, was raised at the Presidio of San Francisco in 1776.

Judge Grants Fouts' Divorce

Interlocutory decrees of divorce to Robert O. Fouts, 45, television and radio sports announcer, and his wife, Carolyn, 44, were granted in Marin Superior Court yesterday following court trial before Judge Samuel W. Gardiner.

The couple, of 1 Tappan Court, Sleepy Hollow, had sued each other on grounds of cruelty. Judge Gardiner gave Mrs. Fouts custody of two minor children, and ordered Fouts to pay her $500 monthly alimony and child support.

The Foutes wed July 14, 1943, in Sacramento and separated March 16, 1965.

New Tract Group Elects Officer Slate

Directors of the newly created San Rafael Park Civic Association, dedicated to improvement of the new tract in Lucas Valley, last night named San Rafael insurance man William McLachlin of 99 Lucas Park Drive as president.

Named vice president was William E. Lange; treasurer, Ricardo A. Ratti, and secretary, Mrs. Lea Nixon.

The board set $4 annual membership dues and set up committees to study specific problems, Mrs. Nixon reported today.

Lange and Thomas Taylor were named to study the San Rafael master plan and condominiums planned on the east side of San Rafael Park; Arthur T. Lang was named to study water tanks proposed on the south side of the tract and drainage; Lange will study Las Gallinas Road landscaping and the entrance to the tract; James Ryan, the possibility of a traffic signal at the entrance. Ratti was named chairman of the membership committee, with Mrs. Jane Westerlund and Mrs. Gladys Chew as member.

Directors will meet next at 8 p.m. May 1 at McLachlin's home.

Expert On Quakes To Speak Tuesday

John H. Healy, a geophysicist with the United States Department of Interior National Center for Earthquake Research at Menlo Park, will speak on the national program in earthquake research Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall at the College of Marin.

Healy will speak on a new national research program to lessen the inpact of a major earthquake.

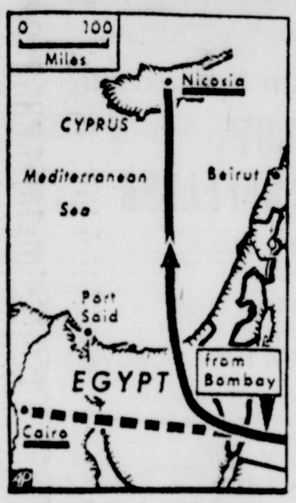
Four Survive Swiss Tourist Plane Crash

Worst-Ever Air Disaster For Mediterranean Isle



ILL-FATED JOURNEY
Plane tried to duck storm

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—All but four of the 130 persons aboard a chartered Swiss airliner on an economy vacation flight were killed today when the plane was hit by lightning and crashed while trying to land in a rain and hail storm.

It was the worst air disaster ever to occur on this Mediterranean island and one of the worst in civil aviation history. (See photo page 3.)

The four-engine turbo-prop, carrying 120 passengers and a crew of 10, slammed into a hill in flames and disintegrated, authorities said. The plane, returning vacationers from a cut-rate trip to Asia, was operated by Globe Air Charter of Basel, Switzerland.

Of the four survivors, three were critically injured. But one man, identified as Nicholas Pulver of Switzerland, escaped with only minor injuries and was able to talk with rescue workers.

No Americans were aboard the ill-fated airliner, authorities said.

THREE MILES AWAY

The crash occurred on a hillside three miles from Cyprus International Airport in the predawn hours. The area was strewn with battered toys and other souvenirs of the vacation trip to the Far East.

Cypriot National Guardsmen slogging through the blood-streaked mire found the body of a little girl clutching a tiny doll and a red umbrella. Tears poured down their faces along with the driving rain as they lugged scorched bodies away from the battered and tattered momentos of what was a honeymoon for some, a vacation in fabled lands for others.

The gray dawn revealed remnants of colorful Indian saris, children's toys, a two-foot-high gold statue of Buddha carefully swathed in white cloth.

The blanket-wrapped bodies were put aboard four army trucks.

WORST DISASTER

The ill-fated Bangkok to Zurich flight was Switzerland's worst aviation disaster. Only five other air accidents in history have caused greater loss of life. In Zurich, groups of friends and relatives waiting at the airport were led into a private office and told of the disaster. Many were sobbing as they were ushered out through a back door.

Airport officials said the four-engine, British-built Britannia turbo-prop slammed into a hill about three miles south of the runway where it was to make an emergency landing.

They said it circled twice and was trying a third approach in the blinding storm when it lost contact with the control tower and crashed.

Civil aviation authorities said the British pilot radioed Nicosia that the plane was struck by lightning while about six miles away. He was ordered to make an emergency landing on a closer runway than the one assigned originally. The flight had been diverted by weather from Cairo to Cyprus for its refueling stop.

Surveyor 3 Lands Safely, Sends Photos

The gallant little space geologist made a dramatic soft-landing in the moon's Ocean of Storms last night, but immediately signaled it was having power problems.

Controllers at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory at first believed the three-legged spacecraft was drawing too much power from its batteries. Later, however, scientists determined the problem lay in Surveyor 3's telemetry system and would not affect its ability to return photographs or operate a small power shovel designed to test the strength and composition of the lunar crust.

An initial series of 54 photos—returned on a medium quality, 200-line screen, proved virtually worthless because of the extreme glare from the sun. However, by 12:45 a.m. PST today, the spacecraft has responded to commands from earth to erect its solar panel and point its high-gain antenna toward earth to allow transmission of television pictures in a high quality, 600-line mode.

A JPL official said Surveyor 3 then proceeded to take photographs for more than an hour, both with wide and narrow angle lenses. He said the pictures were panoramas of the immediate terrain around the spacecraft and were "interesting and of high quality."

It was believed that the spacecraft would be asked sometime today to use its 18-inch metal claw digger to begin sampling the nearby terrain.

Surveyor 3's mission to sample the moon's crust is expected to tell scientists if an Apollo spaceship can land safely on the moon by 1970.

Castor Bean Gives Tot Upset Tummy

Little Lisa Sternberger, aged 2, played with almost certain death yesterday — and excaped with little more than injured curiosity and a very upset tummy.

She was playing with a necklace at her home at 2066 Huckleberry Road, Marinwood when curiosity got the better of her and she broke open a bead and began to eat it.

It was a castor bean — highly toxic and fatal to a child who eats more than three.

Lisa was rushed by United Ambulance to Marin General Hospital where the emergency staff worked frantically to save her life. Today she was out of danger and listed in fair condition.

Her father, Peter C. Sternberger, said today: "The necklace was bought in Mexico and given us by a friend. We had no idea it contained several castor beans."

Said Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer: "If the bean is swallowed whole there is less danger than if it is broken open. They are particular attractive to children as playthings. As few as six can be fatal for an adult."

County Agricultural Commissioner Richard T. Straw warned Marin residents who cultivate the beans for ornamental purposes. "The beans have no useful purpose in gardens and are a potential danger," he said.

MANY CHARGES, HIGH BAIL

A Doggy Evening And Wild Chase

An alleged dognaper and her five auto passengers — all dogs — gave a caravan of pursuing police cars a wild chase resulting in three damaged vehicles yesterday evening before she was halted in heavy Highway 101 traffic.

Booked at Marin County Jail on a Nevada County grand theft arrest warrant — plus a battery of new charges involving the chase — was Lorraine Gunnar of 31 Manzanita Avenue, San Rafael.

She was then released on a total of $15,011 bail pending arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Sheriff's officers said they had been seeking Mrs. Gunnar, alias Edna Louise Croce and Lura Elizabeth Mitchell, for several weeks on the warranty alleging she stole a valuable dog in Nevada County.

At 5:20 p.m. yesterday, they said, an informant telephoned that she was parked in her 1963 white Cadillac in the 300 block of Canal Street, San Rafael. Inspectors Harold V. Sleezer and William Bradford approached her in an unmarked patrol car, but she saw them and drove off.

With her, they said, were the dogs — two Pekingese, two poodles, and one mongrel.

The officers, with red light and siren on, gave chase. Their quarry halted, but then backed her car into the sheriff's right side. The damage was only minor, the officers said. But she again drove off.

This time, she was not stopped so easily.

Inspectors Sleezer and Bradford chased her to Francisco Boulevard, and southbound onto Highway 101. There they were joined by another sheriff's car driven by Deputy W. G. Donovan, a Larkspur police car driven by Officer Raymond L. DeLeon, and a Corte Madera police car driven by Officer William Reed.

Despite heavy commuter-hour traffic, officers said, Mrs. Gunnar attained speeds up to 85 miles an hour. Her erratic, evasive route included all three traffic lanes, they claimed, forcing at least eight motorists off the road.

LIGHTS ON

The four police cars, all with red lights flashing and sirens screaming, attempted several times to box the Gunnar car in, they said. Once Officer Reed said, the woman veered at him, almost striking his car.

Deputy Donovan finally got ahead of Mrs. Gunnar, then slowed his vehicle to force her to halt.

Instead, he said, her car hit his in the rear, knocking it into a broadside skid. She then veered around his skidding auto and continued flight.

Officer DeLeon's pursuing car struck Donovan's auto. Again, only minor damage resulted, they said.

BOOKED AT JAIL

Mrs. Gunnar, hand-cuffed, was booked at jail for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon in the alleged auto assault on Officer Reed, with driving without a driver's license, reckless driving, failure to heed the red lights and sirens, hit-and-run property damage on the sheriff's cars, and avoiding arrest.

The five dogs were taken to Marin County Humane Society pound. The car was towed to a garage.

A humane society spokesman said Mrs. Gunnar recovered the dogs this morning, however.

None of them was the valuable Nevada County canine, officers said. It was still missing.

Sausalitans Launch Drive For Library Referendum

Thirty-two petitions seeking a referendum on Sausalito City Council's decision to finance a waterfront library through lease-purchase plan were circulated last night at the first meeting of Sausalito Voters League, a new organization formed to put the plan to the voters.

W. Bruce Shafer was elected chairman and George C. Carney, treasurer. Shafer was chairman of a citizen committee studying the library which last week recommended it be built on Bridgeway, north of Bank of America.

Fifty petitions are expected to be in circulation by tonight, Shafer said. Twenty persons attended the meeting last night in Campbell Hall, he said, and a second meeting will be held late next week.

The voters league has until May 10 to collect signatures of 10 per cent of the registered voters in the city, or about 300 signatures, to force a referendum.

Mayor Mel Wax argued last week that since 56 per cent voted for the waterfront site in last month's defeated $250,000 library bond measure, the waterfront site was the choice of the majority.

U.S. Raids Inside Haiphong Limits

Reds Hit 'Serious' Step-Up

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. Navy jets flew through missiles, antiaircraft fire and aerial mines today and bombed the North Vietnamese port city of Haiphong for the first time. The raid knocked out both of the city's power plants and plunged the port into darkness.

A spokesman said all raids within 10 miles of the cities of the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi and its port of Haiphong must have White House approval and that today's raid, half a mile from downtown Haiphong and carried out in two waves, had President Johnson's approval.

REDS UNHAPPY

Hanoi Radio called the attack an "extremely serious step of war escalation" and said five U.S. planes were shot down. A U.S. spokesman said no planes were shot down and that only one was damaged. He said it had nine holes in it from one of the surface-to-air (SAM) missiles fired at the raiders.

Although it was the first time the Americans have actually hit inside Haiphong, Adm. Roy Johnson, commander of the Pacific Fleet, said he did not consider it an escalation of the war.

"I don't consider this an escalation in any sense because we have hit power plants before," Johnson said.

The first raid on a power plant came last June 29 when U.S. Navy jets hit a plant two miles from the heart of Haiphong.

MILEAGES TOLD

Military headquarters in Saigon issued a terse communique which said the power plants were 1.1 miles northwest and 2.1 miles northeast of Haiphong. A military spokesman said the distance measured from the center of the city.

Hanoi Radio said residential as well as industrial sections of the city were struck and that American bombs fell inside and on the outskirts of the city. An earlier report told of dogfights over the city but the latest Hanoi charge said only that intense and accurate ground fire shot down five U.S. aircraft and damaged many others.

"The U.S. aggressors took a new, extremely serious step of war escalation by sending many waves of aircraft to make frenzied raids on a number of densely populated quarters and industrial establishments inside and on the outskirts of the Haiphong Port City," the broadcast said.

An American spokesman said the raid was carried out in clear flying weather and that

Soviet Pledges Help For Hanoi

BERLIN (UPI)— Soviet Communist Party Leader Leonid Brezhnev today promised Vietnamese Communists "direct and active political, economic and military help."

In a speech at the Carl Zeiss factory in Jena, Brezhnev accused American leaders of lying about their efforts to make peace in Vietnam.

"Food, fuel, raw materials, vehicles, munitions and arms of all kinds are flowing in an unbroken stream to Vietnam from the Soviet Union, the German Democratic Republic (East Germany) and other socialist states" he said.

Strawberry Annex In Motion Again

Tiburon's all-peninsula annexation proposal (also known as the "Strawberry pie") came to life again today with announcement by an Eagle Rock resident that an annexation petition will be presented to the Tiburon City Council Monday night.

David M. Dooley of 27 Eagle Rock Road said he is chairman of the Eagle Rock Committee of Ten, formed to push the annexation.

The area proposed to be added to Marin's newest city would include all land on the Tiburon Peninsula east of Highway 101 and south of Corte Madera.

This totals approximately 3.6 square miles. It would thus double the present land area of the City of Tiburon, which has an area of 13.8 square miles but with 10.2 square miles under water, said City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose.

Included would be the Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center, the sales tax plum (or strawberry) which brought rival annexation petitions last year from Tiburon and Mill Valley and a short-lived Strawberry incorporation move.

The annexation idea has lain dormant since the Marin County Local Agency Commission last Nov. 10 gave Tiburon the go-ahead. Mill Valley had earlier withdrawn its petition in the face of opposition from residents of the area.

Dooley said the petition would call for annexation of all of the Tiburon peninsula not now within the city limits of Tiburon or Belvedere.

"We are supporting this move because we feel there will be no change of the tax situation and we will be closer to services such as police protection and planning, now provided by the county," he said.

There are 2,095 registered voters in the area, so an election would be required for the annexation.

When the Local Agency Formation Commission (with County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen dissenting) approved Tiburon's bid last November, it gave the city a year to complete the pro-

Adenauer's Mourners May Hold Summit

BONN (UPI) — President Johnson, French President Charles de Gaulle and other Western leaders who will attend Tuesday's funeral rites for former chancellor Konrad Adenauer will meet in an informal summit conference, West German government sources said today.

The funeral will bring together the greatest assemblage of world leaders since the November, 1963, funeral of President John F. Kennedy. It will be the first Johnson-de Gaulle meeting since that time. British Prime Minister Harold Wilson also will be here for the Adenauer rites.

They were expected to meet while atttending Bundestag memorial services here and the funeral at Cologne.

Their talks here were expected to deal with the troubled Western alliance which formed the final concern and political testament of Adenauer, West Germany's post-war leader who died Wednesday at 91.

There was no announced

No One Injured In Crash Landing

MANSTON, England (UPI)— A British Britannia airliner with 64 persons aboard crashlanded safely today at the end of a five-hour drama caused by a jammed undercarriage. A small fire broke out but was quickly extinguished.

The undercarriage of the turbo-prop airliner collapsed when the plane carrying important government scientists and workers came down on a foam-covered runway at Manston, a former U.S. Air Force base. The plane's landing gear had jammed on takeoff from London for Australia five hours earlier.

All the passengers and crew got off safely, a spokesman for the owners, British Eagle, reported.

Sun's Comeback In Marin Having Rain Competition

That lucky ol' sun is about to make a comeback, but it first may have to face stiff competition from a few scattered showers.

The Weather Bureau expects the showers — accompanied by a thunderstorm or two — will arrive over Marin tonight, dwindling away early tomorrow.

Skies tomorrow will be partly cloudy with temperatures expected to remain on the low side for this time of year, said the bureau.

San Rafael really played it cool overnight, with a low temperature reading of 38, about 10 degrees colder than the night before.

Looking at the rainy side, San Rafael had .06 of an inch in the 24 hours up to noon today, while other parts of the county reported light to moderate readings at 8 a.m.

Santa Venetia had .2 of an inch; Bolinas .19; Terra Linda .15; Sausalito .06, and Tamalpais Valley .02. Hamilton Air Force Base had a reading of .15 of an inch, bringing the total there so far this season to 43.43 inches.

Purge Fears Prod Fund Repeal Try

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shadow of suspicion that President Johnson might be tempted to try to purge some of his congressional critics in 1968 apparently is bolstering efforts to repeal the presidential election campaign financing law.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., trying to reverse the Senate's 48-42 vote for repeal a week ago, has come up with revisions of the act which permits citizens to check off $1 of their income taxes to be divided between the major parties.

ADDED TO BILL

The repealer was added to a tax bill which has been before the Senate nearly three weeks and must go back to the House — which hasn't voted on the campaign finance issue — before it can become law.

One of Long's new proposals would turn over control of the $30 million that could be raised for each party to the presidential nominee or to his agent instead of to the party organization.

Since Johnson can have the 1968 Democratic nomination for the asking, some opponents say privately the President would have the promise of funds, available after Sept. 1, 1968, with which to influence the earlier nomination of senatorial candidates.

FDR CITED

Some critics of Johnson's Vietnam policies fear the President might try, as Franklin D. Roosevelt did in 1938, to purge dissenters in party primaries.

Roosevelt didn't have much luck. But he didn't have the prospect of a $30-million campaign fund to help him oust his critics.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who managed his brother's presidential campaign in 1960, already has outlined to the Senate — without specifically mentioning the possibility of a presidential purge — how it could be done.

Kennedy agreed with Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., author of the repealer, that it was "extremely possible" that promises of future reimbursements could be used to defeat a senator who was "uncooperative."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said his GOP colleagues, who voted solidly for repeal, are not weakening. Gore said he had the promise of at least one Democratic switch for repeal.

Welfare Roll Hard To Cut, Aide Explains

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A new federal study of the 7.3 million Americans on welfare shows that only 50,000 stand any chance of becoming self-supporting within the next few years.

Joseph A. Califano, a top White House aide, told a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society, last night that "the question is no longer whether there should be handouts to the poor, but how to break the poverty cycle."

Califano said the survey, conducted to find out how many persons capable of working are on welfare, showed that only 50,000 males could possibly get off the roles "even if every program, public and private, were adequately staffed and efficiently run."

The study found that of the 7.3 million Americans on welfare, 2.1 million are over 65 with a median age of 72.

An additional 700,000 are either blind or so severely handicapped that they either can't work or their work potential is "extremely limited."

Some 3.5 million receiving welfare benefits are childran whose parents cannot support them. The remaining 1 million are the parents of these children, and only about 150,000 of the parents are fathers.

School Faces General Strike Over Firing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Catholic University of America today faced a general strike by students and faculty members in protest against the dismissal of a young theological professor who advocated liberalization of the church's stand on birth control.

The strike had already closed down the university's famed school of theology, and walkout sentiment was spreading rapidly across the rest of the sprawling campus of America's only national Catholic university.

It was triggered by the ouster of Rev. Charles E. Curran, 33, an assistant professor of moral theology. Fr. Curran told reporters that he was given no statement of the charges against him but was simply called into the rector's office Monday and told that the board of trustees had ordered him fired.

The board of trustees is headed by Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, and includes 33 ranking members of the U.S. hierarchy and 11 laymen. It met last week in Chicago.

Father Curran said his "doctrinal orthodoxy and personal integrity" had been endorsed by his faculty colleagues, who only recently unanimously approved his promotion to associate professor.

Dean Walter Schmitz and the 21 other members of the theology faculty unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that "We cannot and will not function unless and until Fr. Curran is reinstated.

"The academic freedom and security of every professor of this university is jeopardized," they said.

The 360 students of the theological school, including many priests and nuns, had walked out of classes early yesterday, several hours before the faculty went on strike.

The theological faculty appealed to teachers in other schools of the university to join the strike.

Newsmen Rap LBJ Tendency Of Managing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors said today that President Johnson was continuing "to hurt his image and his credibility by consistently trying to make the news sound or seem better than it is."

The committee made the charge in a report presented to the ASNE's annual convention, a three-day affair which opened here today with more than 500 of journalism's big names in attendance.

The report said that despite some "slight improvement in recent months," Johnson's news managing tendency was still apparent. "This tendency, although evident with respect to many kinds of news, is most damaging in connection with Vietnam," the committee said.

As the defendants started out of the courtroom, the judge noticed that several wore no shoes. The judge asked whether they wanted some shoes, to which one replied:

Pentagon Kills Navy 'Big Brother' Advice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has killed a Navy "big brother" directive, it was learned today.

The directive advised civilian employes to seek "wise and mature counsel" before linking up with persons or organizations of a political or civic nature.

A Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee became interested in the directive weeks ago, and raised questions about it.

The document was issued under the Navy's security program and was headed "suggested counsel to employes."

It said: "A number of our citizens unwittingly expose themselves to unfavorable or suspicious appraisal which they can and should avoid.

"This may take the form of an indiscreet remark; an unwise selection of friends or associates; membership in an organization whose true objectives are concealed behind a popular and innocuous title; attendance at and participation in the meetings and functions of such organizations even though not an official member; or any of numerous other clever means designed to attract support under false colors or serving to impress an individual with his own importance."

The Navy document did not specify to whom the employes should turn for the "wise and mature counsel." Presumably, such counsel was available from the Navy.

When asked what action it was taking, the Pentagon issued this terse statement: "The Department of Defense has taken action to cancel the directive, effective immediately."

Real Drinkers Cause Accidents

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)— Dr. Julian Walker of the California State Department of Public Health told a highway safety symposium yesterday that drunks, not social drinkers, cause most alcohol-aggravated traffic accidents.

He said "moral responsibility" campaigns typified by the "if you drive, don't drink" slogan, have little effect. The public should realize most wrecks involving alcohol are caused by alcoholics, he said.

Bernard H. Fox of the U.S. Public Health Service suggested a special license plate marker or window sticker be used to identify cars driven by convicted drunk drivers.

The private passenger car is used in 90 per cent of all vacation and recreation trips in the U.S.

$500 Fine On Quarters Theft

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Lee Bedgood, 32, of Pacifica, was fined $500 and placed on two years probation yesterday for smuggling $94 in quarters out of the U.S Mint here.

The sentence was imposed by U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter who said Bedgood had "an otherwise unblemished background" and was "hard-working."

The mint employe was accused of stealing the money by taping some of the quarters to his legs and hiding the rest in a tobacco pouch. He was arrested in February and pleaded guilty to theft charges.

California Doctors Again Urge New Abortion Law

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Legislation which would liberalize laws affecting therapeutic abortion received renewed support yesterday from the 23,000-member California Medical Association.

The group's new president, Dr. John G. Morrison of San Leandro, said the CMA has been urging broadened abortion laws since 1962.

"We believe the law should be broadened, taking into consideration the health of both the mother and the produce of conception," he told the CMA's 96th annual meeting at the Biltmore Hotel.

Dr. Morrison urged new legislation to "provide for proper medical control through established hospital staffs or component medical society committies."

Outgoing president James C. MacLaggen of San Diego said liberalized abortion laws were still "a highly emotional issue." But, the physician added, there is evidence "that for the good of the patient, existing laws are being broken daily."

Dr. MacLaggen agreed with Morrison that under broadened abortion laws, "no patient, no hospital or no physician would, or could, be pressured into such a therapeutic abortion."

Later, Paul D. Ward, executive director of the California Committee on Regional Medical Programs, announced a federally-financed program to give improved and more rapid medical treatment to persons suffering from heart diseases, cancer and strokes.

Ward said a supplementary grant of $1,099,968 had been announcee in Washington, D.C., Wednesday to begin the program, which is a joint venture of the CMA and the California Hospital Association.

Three Youths Take Purse From Woman

Three youths — the youngest 12 years old — Tuesday knocked down a woman visiting in Sausalito, took her purse containing $3, then successfully evaded a passerby who chased them, sheriff's officers disclosed today.

Deputies said Bernice M Jurus, 28, of Chicago, told them she got off a bus on Bridgeway in Sausalito about 5:35 p.m. She was walking toward an apartment house on Ebbtide Avenue, she said, when the trio confronted her.

One, described as about 12 years old and of slim build, grabbed for her purse, she said. Miss Jurus scuffled with him, the purse's handle broke, and she fell to the ground.

Her screams attracted a passer-by, who pursued the trio without success. The purse, minus the money, was later found in Marin City and turned over to officers by Nathaniel Coleman of 79 Cole Drive, Marin City, they said.

The other two youths were believed in their early teens.

Rec Directors Approve Senior Citizen Program

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District last night voted to launch a senior citizen program next month, prior to any assurance of county assistance.

The vote to start the $600 a year program the third week in May was 3-1, with Austin Gibbon dissenting and Anthony Marcelli absent.

Gibbon argued that the district would be committing itself to costs and a program that might have to be stopped in county supervisors do not agree to support the district in June, board chairman Norman Gurin reported.

Directors authorized hiring seven more part-time pool attendants, bringing to total summer staff to 12; voted free pool passes from Terra Linda firemen in good standing, and received 75 free passes to Candlestick Park for a June 19 Giants' Day game.

Old Film Points Up Many Issues

Members of the planning committee of the Marin Council of Civic Affairs last night saw a 10-year-old slide show entitled "Crisis in Marin," prepared by the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, and found that many of the housing problems highlighted then are still with us.

"It still seemed pretty current," MCCA Dir. Edward J. Neumeier Jr. declared.

The planning committee also received a report on the controversy last year over a proposed elderly housing development in Homestead Valley.

Cash Theft Reported

The thief took five silver dollars mounted on a plaque and $100 in other cash around the house. Entry was through a bedroom window.

schedule for a summit meeting. But the opportunity was there. And West German Chancellor Kurt-Georg Giesinger said last night he accepted an obligation to carry on Adenauer's work toward Western unity in a final deathbed meeting with "Der Alte."

Summit topics could include Johnson and Wilson's push for a treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons opposed by De Gaulle, Britain's bid for Common Market membership clouded by the Frenchman's past veto, the fate of the Kennedy round of tariff-cutting talks and the future of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) following French military withdrawal.

According to Kiesinger, Adenauer saw these and other problems endangering the Western unity he helped create. His political testament was a warning to his successors not to let disunity sweep away all that had been gained.

Adenauer warned repeatedly of the growing gulf between Europe and America and the weakening of European unity. Kiesinger said in a television tribute last night the topic came up during their last talk April 3 in Adenauer's hillside home four miles down the Rhine from the capital.

"In the last few days of his life, he was almost overwhelmed by his concern for the unity of Europe. He called me to his sickbed and once again most emphatically urged on me this great concern of his life."

Four days after the meeting, doctors put Adenauer in a bed he never left in life. After a week of fighting a condition described as "critical," he died peacefully in his sleep of grippe, bronchitis and the complications they wrought in his tough old system.

For Adenauer, the West Germans he led to prosperity from ruins and to world respect from international shame were doing the best they could. It was a Germanic version of the funeral given his friend Sir Winston Churchill.

Until Saturday his body was remaining in the three-storied Rhoendorf village house where he sought refuge when the Nazis drove him from his hometown of Cologne. Saturday his body will be laid in state in the chancellory where he reigned for 14 years.

Sunday night the body will be taken to Cologne's soaring Roman Catholic Cathedral, built to house the bones of the three Wise Men who searched out the Christ Child. After Tuesday's rites, a naval launch will carry him back up the Rhine to Rhoendorf for a final resting place beside his mother, father and two wives.

Truck Strike Tension Up In Chicago

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The threat of a nationwide trucking shutdown loomed anew today as negotiations deteriorated on a keystone Teamsters contract in the Chicago area.

The new crisis followed nightlong talks shepherded by federal mediators in an effort to solve the Chicago dispute, which could trigger a blowup of the new nationwide Teamster contract agreed to early last week.

The separate Chicago contracts, covering 56,000 Teamster workers and 6,000 members of an independent drivers union, have become the key to final agreement on the national contract.

International leaders of the Teamsters have held off approval of the national agreement for fear the Chicago settlement would be higher, making the national package unacceptable to the half million union members it would cover.

ceedings. Filing of a petition will be the first step.

Part of the area, including the shopping center, was sought by Mill Valley in an annexation petition filed last year. Then a group of Strawberry residents filed for incorporation, and Tiburon filed its bid to expand its boundaries to cover the whole peninsula. Mill Valley withdrew its application, however, and the incorporation move collapsed; so by the time the LAFC heard the matter, only the Tiburon application remained.

WAR

such conditions were chosen so pilots could aim their bombs visually and avoid civilian targets.

The Hanoi broadcast said three other American aircraft were shot down in other parts of North Vietnam but gave no details. It claimed two were shot down Wednesday in a series of dogfights in which the Americans reported downing one MIG and possibly destroying four others.

Other major Vietnam developments:

A military spokesman reported 147 Americans killed and 1,142 wounded in combat last week, a drop from the week before. The South Vietnamese lost 287 killed and 14 missing and other allies 21 killed and 91 wounded. Communist losses were 1,511 killed.

The Saigon government asked the International Control Commission (ICC) made up of Canada, India and Poland to return to the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and set up inspection stations to check reports of intensified aggressive activities by the Communists.

Ground fighting tapered off but 3 marines were killed and 22 wounded in a series of brief skirmishes below the DMZ. Two U.S. helicopters were shot down with a loss of five Americans killed and one injured.

Improvement Group Elects Officers

W. Remington Hodgson of 70 Oakridge Road, San Rafael, was elected president of the Los Ranchitos Improvement Association Monday by the board of directors.

Other new officers are Lou Agnew, vice President; Hosbrook Mitchell, treasurer; Mrs. Gimi John Sessi, secretary, and Robert Dunn and Robert Dermott, directors.

SEATO Favors U.S. Bombing Halt Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — The SEATO Foreign Ministers Council today supported the U.S. refusal to end the bombing of North Vietnam unless there is also a scaling down of military action by the Communist side in the Vietnamese war.

A communique issued by the council, concluding its 12th annual meeting, declared that "reciprocity is an essential element of any acceptable proposal for reduction in the fighting."

The seven-nation group — making up SEATO — the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization — France boycotted the conference — also issued a new warning against Communist dangers in the general area of Southeast Asia, saying:

"Communist aggression, both overt and by subversion, infiltration and terrorism, accompanied by vicious propaganda, remains a major threat to the peace and security of the area."

Program On Plant Disease Is Slated

Probably one of our oldest foods is soup—it has been the mainstay of man's diet since the beginning of time. The French are the most famous soupmakers. In France it is the custom to have the "soup pot" on the back of the stove—into this the French homemaker tosses odd bits of meats, fowl, gravy, vegetable water, etc. and concocts soups that are a pure pleasure to eat.

Library Committee Asks Larger Area For Service

If a new library is built in the Larkspur-Corte Madera area, it should be equipped to serve not only Larkspur and Corte Madera but also Kentfield, Kent Woodlands, Greenbrae and Ross.

That was the basis on which Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher, Larkspur librarian Helen S. Wilson, county librarian Virginia Keating and Mrs. Arthur M. Sestak of the Friends of the Larkspur Library agreed yesterday to discuss the service level of a library sponsored by the twin cities.

Usher suggested the service area, and the subcommittee of the committee to study joint library facilities for the two cities agreed to plan for an area population of 25,000.

They agreed the library should have two books for every person in the service area, and that films, records and microfilm would be considered only after the library has a full stock of books.

They agreed the book collection should include 35,000 titles, and that the library should try to acquire a minimum of 2,500 new titles each year, weeding about one per cent of its books each year. The also felt the library should subscribe to at least 150 periodicals, and should maintain a section of local history.

The library should be open 60 hours a week, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday, they decided.

Another meeting of the subcommittee was set for Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Cort Madera town hall.

Firemen Pull Crash Victim From Wreck

The northbound car skidded off a curve, knocked down a direction sign, jumped a cement island, crashed into the guard rail and flipped over, the California Highway Patrol reported. Larkspur firemen were called when patrolmen were unable to extricate Harvey. They used crowbars to force open the smashed door on the driver's side of the vehicle.

Harvey suffered face cuts and extensive head injuries. He was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital.

Town Meeting Leader Named

Mrs. John Barrows of the Central Marin League of Women Voters will be chairman of a panel discussion on city government and taxes at San Anselmo's town meeting April 29.

Other panelists will be Ralph Anderson, assistant to the director of the League of California Cities; Michael Wornum, Mill Valley city councilman, and Robert Heyer, vice president of Field Research Corp. and former chairman of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs.

Other panels will be held on schools, traffic, downtown, and recreation and parks. The meeting will be at Sir Francis Drake High School from 1 to 5 p.m.

Students Will Hear About Law Careers

Officers from various Marin County cities and the sheriff's department will present the story of law enforcement as a career next week at the Sonoma-Marin County Fairgrounds in Petaluma, sponsored by the Marin-Sonoma Guidance Center.

The project is aimed at showing high school and junior high school students of the two counties the aspects of various careers. There will be about 50 such booths, with the police booth under direction of Novato Police Chief Robert DiGrazia.

Health Center Joint Planning Held Necessary

The Marin Hospital District Board and county supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Thomas T. Storer agreed last night that joint meetings of the hospital board and supervisors are needed to decide on administration of the Community Mental Health Center.

Psychiatrists W. Reed Brockbank, Warren Vaughn and J. M. Stubblebine spoke on the trends in mental health centers across the nation. They noted that the centers aid community in treatment of patients.

They favored organization of centers under the auspices of a general hospital, but said such arrangements should not affect other mental health services already offered by the community.

Employees' Cars Looted Of Stereos

Two employees of Montgomery Ward and Co. in the Corte Madera Shopping Center reported auto stereos stolen from their cars, parked in the west shopping center parking lot between 5 and 9 p.m. yesterday, according to Corte Madera police.

Richard E. Karjewski of 1308 Leafwood Drive, Novato, reported a $46 stereo stolen and Elseiv Skarr of 71 Greenwood Way, Mill Valley, reported a $60 stereo stolen, police said.

Hub Home Looted Of Several Items

Irene Conriche of 153 Redwood Road, San Anselmo, told police yesterday that a television, a stereo, and some jewelry and liquor were taken from her home Wednesday night.

She found all doors and windows locked when she arrived home, so police felt the burglar may have had a key to her house.

Tam Unification Plan Meets Delay

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization Committee held off last night on calling another election on unification of the Tamalpais High School District area.

Members were faced with an opinion from the state attorney general's office that there must be an election by July 18, 1967, or five school districts will lost their unification bonus monies.

Committee members agreed, however, to have the deadline extended.

Not wanting to jeopardize the bonus monies, they agreed to hold a special meeting within two weeks if delaying tactics fail.

DEADLINE VIEW

Asst. County Supt. Robert Stannard said the board could meet the deadline if it calls the election within two weeks.

Districts where voters favored unification receive $15 per child per year as a bonus.

Stannard reported that bonus funds to the five districts for the 1967-68 school year will total $119,655. Mill Valley School District is to get $51,480; San Anselmo, $31,680; Fairfax, $15,630; Sausalito, $13,425 and Lagunitas, $7,440.

Mrs. John V. Binckley said "one way or another the bonus will be saved."

County counsels have differing interpretations of whether the two-year section of the law means an election must be held within two years of the previous election or within a two-year block of time. The Orange County School District Organization Committee has filed a suit in Superior Court for declaratory relief to get a clarification of the law. The Marin committee agreed to join the suit as a friend of the court.

The committee concurred with a proposal by the Sonoma County Committee on School District Organization for unification of school districts in the Petaluma High School District, including Laguna, Lincoln and Union School Districts which extend into Marin County. The Petaluma unification proposal was approved by the State Board of Education last Friday. Sonoma and Marin committee have agreed that if the unification passes residents of the old Burdell School portion of the Lincoln School District will have a chance to vote for unification with Novato Unified School District.

Committee members also agreed to discuss of seeking special legislation to maintain the status quo in Tomales High School District. The State Board of Education has consistently rejected proposals for overall unification of schools in the district.

Committee member Floyd D. Fisher was absent.

Bagley Calls Veneman Bill A Salvation

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman John G. Veneman's tax package, including withholding may be the basis for the fiscal salvation of the state and the new administration, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, declared last night at a Sacremento dinner.

He spoke at the Dante Club at a dinner sponsored by the Sacramento County Republican Central Committee.

"The Democratic controlled legislature is not above playing fiscal footsie with the governor's tax program," said Bagley. "It is for this reason that the Veneman package becomes important. . .

"Veneman's measure provides Governor Reagan with insurance against possible insolvency that could occur if an adequate, and legislatively acceptable, tax program cannot otherwise be put together."

A. F. Marcelli Takes Post With Board

A. F. Marcelli of 285 Orange Blossom Lane, Terra Linda, was elected to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night to succeed Dr. John Hamren of San Rafael, who resigned last month.

Marcelli, a member of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District Board, was elected by a 6-3 vote over John V. Holm of 19 Idlewood Drive, San Anselmo, who was nominated by the San Anselmo School District Board and supported by the Fairfax School District Board.

Marcelli is a past president of the Teacher-Parent Group at Bernard Hoffman School and a former member of the Finance Study Group in the Dixie School District. His name was submitted by Dorothy Brown, a member of the Dixie Board.

Marcelli will fill Hamren's unexpired term which will end November, 1968. He will be the second member of the 11-member committee from the First Supervisorial District, whereas Holm would have been the fourth member from the Second Supervisorial District.

A third nominee, Mrs. Samuel Crowell of 10 Dunfries Terrace, San Rafael, received no votes.

Two Marin Mayors On Defense Tour

Two Marin mayors, C. Paul Bettini of San Rafael and J. Wayne Womack of Novato, and Novato City Councilman Harley McAskill are on a four-day tour of Army Air Defense Command and North American Air Defense Command posts.

They were among a group of 12 civic leaders from the Bay Area who left from Hamilton Air Force Base Tuesday to visit Fort Bliss at El Paso, Tex., White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico, and Combat Operations Center of North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo. They are scheduled to return Saturday.

High School Students More 'Aware' Today

High school students of today are more aware of issues and events than those of a decade ago, according to Donald Kreps, Redwood High School principal.

While reporting on the school's educational program to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night, Kreps touched upon student awareness.

They are interested in civil rights, capital punishment and the viet Nam, "and much more aware of real problems" than students of a few years ago, he said. They are "very questioning, much more conscious of their rights, more militant and much more stimulating," he declared.

EXECUTION TALK

During last week's execution at San Quentin Prison, students didn't have their minds "on much else" so teachers used the occasion to discuss capital punishment, he reported.

During the Cuban missile crisis, "you could feel the tension at the school," Kreps said.

A committee member asked Kreps if he had a theory that would account for the "change in students."

Students now have more information available from press, radio and television and "this increase in communication has been a stimulus," he replied.

Kreps also noted that "teachers have changed, are much more militant and far better prepared," and that students entering high school are better prepared than they were 10 years ago.

SEX EDUCATION

On sex education, Kreps reported that Redwood High School will have an elective course in family life education this fall for seniors which will cover the field.

The school has touched upon sex education "as it relates to society" but has "no overall instructional program for all students," he said.

The problem is that very few teachers are qualified to handle such courses, he said.

On the use of narcotics the school has an instructional program including speakers and films and close liaison with doctors and law enforcement officers, he said. "We get the facts out."

GOP Fete Long On Decor, But Short On Profit

OAKLAND (UPI) — A spectacular Mardi Gras ball in Oakland last year for the Republican party grossed $58,000 but netted somewhere between $600 and minus $18,000, according to figures released this week.

The $150-a-couple fiasco has at least brought some benefit to the GOP, however. The party's central committee has put down new ground rules for such events as a result.

The ball was held in February, 1966, at the historic Hotel Oakland. The ball room was elaborately decorated and society bandleader Peter Duchin imported from New York.

But the figures announced this week that the decorations alone for the one-night event cost $37,000 and that the event yielded $600 with the books still not closed.

Funnel-Shaped Clouds A Rarity

The clouds, which had the appearance of a tornado, were well above the ground. One was over Travis Air Force Base 45 miles northeast of San Francisco.

German Language School Organized

A German language school for children 3 to 14 years old, conducted entirely in German, is being organized in Marin with classes scheduled to start in September.

Mrs. William E. Brennan of 21 Idalia Court, San Rafael, said classes will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturdays at Gallinas School with instruction by teachers from Marin schools.

Orchid Film Slated

A film on collecting orchids in Mexico, taken and narrated by David Alan Welisch of San Francisco, will be presented at today's public meeting of the Marin Orchid Society at 8 p.m. at Crocker-Citizens National Bank, Fairfax.

Plenty Of Shelled Peas Take A Spill

MELBOURNE (AP) — Five tons of shelled peas spilled from an overturned truck and spread 18 inches deep across the main Melbourne-Gee long road.

Traffic was blocked briefly.

Doubtful Fate Ahead For Record Tax Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The biggest tax increase in California history — $1.52 billion — faces a doubtful future today despite quick approval by an Assembly committee.

Endorsement by the Revenue and Taxation Committee yesterday was just a first step for the bill, opposed by Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan because it provides for withholding of state personal income taxes.

If the bill by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R - Modesto, becomes law, it would mean higher income, sales cigarette and corporation taxes for the state's 19 million residents.

Income taxes would go up $540 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Starting Oct. 1, personal income taxes would be deducted from paychecks.

The sales tax would rise from four cents to five cents, bringing in $325 million. Cigarette taxes, now three cents a pack, would go up a nickel, a $125 million money-maker for the state. Bank and corporation taxes would be increased by one per cent, raising another $92 million.

But big amounts of the new taxes would be funneled back to local governments. In the fiscal year beginning July 1, school district property taxes would be lowered $300 million.

In the following fiscal year, there would be another $300 million school tax cut, along with repeal of the tax which businessmen pay on their inventories and accounts receivable; an end to the property tax on house hold goods; and property tax refunds for the low-income elderly.

It all would amount to as much as $685 million in relief a year.

The net effect for an average married couple with two children owning a $20,000 home and making $10,000 a year would be a $32.20 tax increase. If the same couple's income was only $5,000, and their home worth $12,500 they would get a $10.67 tax cut. But if it were $25,000 a year and they lived in a $40,000 home they would have a $265.58 yearly tax increase.

Next stop for the bill is the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, where Chairman Robert W. Crown, D- Alameda, promised to take a long and cautious look.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, urged approval of the Veneman bill because it "is the only one movable — the only one alive." Democrats, he warned, might try to "short circuit" Reagan's bill.

Nationalism Held Strongest

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI)— Nationalism is the strongest force in Southeast Asia today and communism a mere technique, according to former U.S. Ambassador to Japan Edwin O. Reischauer.

In the first of two Edward Hanify Memorial Lectures at Holy Cross College last night, Reischauer characterized communism as "merely a technique by which some nationalists attempt to control a country."

Joint Rec Proposal Asked By Directors

The San Anselmo and Fairfax Recreation Commissions Tuesday night asked the two department directors and one commissioner from each city to prepare a proposal for combining some of the programs and facilities of the two departments.

After the proposal is approved by both commissions it will be submitted to the city council, according to Paul Brand, San Anselmo Commission chairman.

Chapter Hit By National

STANFORD (AP)—The Stanford University chapter of Kappa Sigma said today it has been suspended by the national fraternity.

Daniel Kirby, 20, chapter president, said tension has been building between the chapter and the national since a Negro student, Rafael B. Palacio, a junior history major from Los Angeles, was pledged two years ago.

Kirby, a junior from Sioux Falls, S.D., majoring in political science, said he was informed verbally of the suspension by Howard M. Leggett of Alamo, Contra Costa County, district grand master for Northern California.

Private Is Jaycee's Man Of Year

Mize, 21, a 1963 graduate of Tamalpais High School, received the eighth annual distinguished service award for his activities in the junior chamber, Mill Valley Lions Club and Mill Valley Youth Council. He also ran teen-age dances for several years to raise money to rebuild the community and youth center, site of last night's award dinner.

Mize, now a private in the Army, was honored in absentia because he is studying in the cooks' school at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The award is given a young man in Southern Marin "Who has demonstrated outstanding community service, leadership and business in the past year." Other nominees were Lanny Berry, special assistant to Tamalpais High School District, and Peter Tibbetts, manager of Southern Marin office of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Patrick declared that to be successful, "a man has to stand up and stick his neck out." Every man, he said, "wants to be a millionaire, and every man wants a Cadillac, not a Ford."

"The lamp of freedom burns low," he cautioned the audience of 40 men, "And it's up to each of us to see that it burns bright again."

Unruh Attacks Finance Office

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh attacked the State Finance Department last night, calling it a propaganda agency in Gov. Ronald Reagan's objection to withholding taxes.

Said Unruh to the California League of Women Voters:

"The administration suddenly found $63 million that it can lay its hands on. Now it says it won't have to go for withholding."

The powerful Democrat asserted that the money was found in "little cookie tins" by the same men who, he said, gave slanted advice to former Gov. Pat Brown's administration.

Beach Protection Bills Introduced

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., is backing two bills aimed at preventing a Torrey Canyon-like oil disaster from staining U.S. beaches.

One measure would permit the President to take action immediately, including destruction of the vessel, if a wreck threatened the navigational safety, marine resources or economy of a coastal area. The other would make shipowners criminally liable for negligence or accidental discharge of oil from their vessels.

No Opposition To Milk Price Boost

Marin County housewives will be paying more for milk in 45 days if requests for a hike in prices made yesterday by milk dealers in Santa Rosa are granted by the state.

The dealers asked a half-cent per quart, and a one-and-a-half-cent per half-gallon increase in the price of home deliveries at a hearing conducted by the Milk Stabilization Bureau of the State Department of Agriculture.

It would be the second increase since a similar raise was granted in January and would bring the base price for home deliveries to 27 and a half cents a quart, 54 cents a half-gallon, according to Louis C. Shafer, bureau chief.

Lawrence A. Maes, manager of the Northern California Milk Dealers Association, spoke in favor of the increase at the hearing in the Sonoma County supervisors' chamber. Also urging the increase were individual retail grocery store operators.

There was no representative of the State Office of Consumer Counsel, nor any private group speaking for consumers, reported Shafer. He said no opposition to the increase was offered at the hearing.

Maes also asked the bureau to grant retailers an added one per cent discount, bringing to a maximum 16 per cent the wholesale discount allowed grocery stores on orders of $120 or more.

The association manager also urged reducing the four zones in the Redwood District to three by combining Sonoma and Marin counties in one. Marin at present is a zone by itself.

Shafer said Maes argued that similarity in producing and marketing conditions favored administering the two as a single zone.

The bureau chief said a ruling on the requests could be expected in about 45 days.

County's Plan For A Morgue Still Indefinite

Marin County is seriously considering the establishment of a county morgue, but the former Mission City Meat Co. building on Irwin Street in San Rafael is just one possibility.

Supervisors might decide instead to build a structure, or they could work out a lease, County Administrator Alan Bruce said today.

San Rafael city councilmen Monday said they would hold a hearing on the Irwin Street proposal on May 1 if the county is serious.

Purchase of the building for $125,000 plus $15,000 to convert it to a morgue was proposed to supervisors by Coroner Donovan O. Cooke several weeks ago.

Supervisor were not overly enthusiastic, but asked Bruce to investigate the need for a morgue, find out how big a building would be needed and what it would cost. Meanwhile, they asked for the San Rafael City Council's opinion of the meat plant proposal.

Bruce said the earliest the board of supervisors could make a decision on any morgue proposal would be in mid-June, during budget sessions. His recommended budget includes $15,000 to cover a lease arrangement or hire an architect.

The unadopted capital improvement program released by county officials this week shows $130,000 for a morgue in fiscal 1969.

Park Bid Servicing Contract Is Delayed

Directors of Gallinas Village Community Services District Tuesday night received two informal bids on manitenance of the Descanso Way Park, but deferred action until May 11.

Garden Service of San Anselmo offered to maintain the park for $295 a month, and Santa Venetia Nurseryman Robert Tanem offered to do the job for $270 a month. Director John Miller reported.

School Question Night Is Slated

A "public information night" will be held May 1 at 8 p.m. by the Tamalpais High School District Board.

The meeting will be held in the Redwood High School Little Theater, Larkspur. Purpose is to answer questions about the district operation and about Redwood, Drake and Tam high schools, chairman William B. Lewis said.

Advance questions have been solicited by a postcard mailing from parents of students now enrolled. Others may send in advance questions by 5 p.m., April 26, to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle at the district office in Larkspur.

Quick Recovery Of Stolen Auto Made

Larry Leroy Behrens of 131 Birch Way, Santa Venetia, got his car back at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, a half-hour after reporting to San Rafael police that it had been stolen from in front of 706 Woodland Avenue.

Sheriff's deputies found the car abandoned in a driveway at 260 Tiburon Boulevard in Tiburon, its ignition wires ripped out and the air cleaner tossed on the ground.

MARCIA THURSTON
Study in Indonesia

Tam Senior Will Pioneer Indonesia Exchange Plan

Marcia Thurston, Tamalpais High School senior, has been selected by the International Christian Youth Exchange student program to study for a year in Indonesia.

Marcia, 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Doris T. Thurston, 25 Lincoln Avenue, Mill Valley, will be the first exchange student to go to Indonesia under the program.

To prepare for the year, she is studying Indonesian culture. A former neighbor who lectured there for a year is teaching her the official language, Bahasa Indonesian.

An "A" student at school, she was nominated for the program by Mill Valley Community Church, which will sponsor her trip. She is active in the Ad Hoc Committee of Concerned Students, which recently staged "Breakthrough Day."

Marcia was honored recently by El Marinero chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which awarded her a pin as an outstanding citizen.

She expects to leave for Indonesia in July.

Skid Injures Driver

Judi Carlene Selby, 20, of 284 Devon Drive, San Rafael, suffered head bruises at 9:30 p.m. yesterday when her car skidded into a guard rail on the North San Pedro Road off-ramp from Highway 101, California Highway Patrol reported. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Welfare, Government Fate To Be Discussed

Discussion of new trends in welfare and a talk on the future of county government are slated before members of the North Coast Counties Supervisors Association in Tiburon tomorrow.

The meeting, to begin at Tiburon Lodge at 9 a.m., will not be all business. The evening will be devoted to a boat trip to Candlestick Park to watch the Giant-Dodger baseball game.

Marin Supervisor William A. Gnoss, president of the North Coast Counties group, reported a panel discussion on new trends in welfare will begin at 10 a.m.

The panel includes Janice Gates, associate consultant on welfare with the state supervisors association, Ronald Barnes, director of social welfare in San Francisco, David Sweeney, director for Sonoma County, and Betty L. Presley, director for Marin.

Luncheon speaker will be Allan Temko, University of California professor, who will talk on "Will the County Government Last Much Longer?"

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, is slated to speak at 3 p.m.

Highway Needs Luncheon Slated

The California State Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a luncheon meeting to discuss highway needs in Marin County on May 12 at 12:15 p.m. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

Recommendations for highway development in the county formulated at the meeting will be forwarded to the State Division of Highways for consideration in the 1968-69 highway budget, according to the co-sponsoring San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

State public works and highway officials will report on highway projects in Marin. Reservations for the meeting, limited to 50 persons, are being taken through May 3 by Jack Alvarado, manager of the San Rafael chamber, 824 Fifth Avenue.

Treasurers—'From Way Back When'

Mrs. Alexander McAndrew, president of the board of directors of Sunny Hills, has donated the articles which date from early to middle of the 19th Century. These are from the collection of Mrs. McAndrew's aunt, Mrs. Spencer Brush of San Francisco, and consist of dresses, linens, beaded bags, sheet music, Chinese silk shawls, lingerie, trunks, originally the property of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank Brush, whose husband was Dr. Frank Brush, pastor of the Alameda Presbyterian Church. Dr. Brush was a member of the original board of advisers of Sunny Hills, from its founding until 1922.

Also in the collection are several fur coats and jackets and elaborate dresses which belonged to Mrs. Mary Cone Wheeler, and old-time Californian. Mrs. Wheeler's father was Joseph Cone, the uncle of Dr. Brush. Mr. Cone founded the town of Red Bluff in Tehama County, and erected there the hotel and bank, and also gave to the city its city park. Mr. Cone's biography was written by George Bancroft, noted California historian.

ALL DRESSED up in a gown of green brocade silk is Mrs. Boero. The gown was worn at the inauguration of President Rutherford B. Hayes in Washington in 1876. It has handmade buttons and a vest effect blouse of apricot colored satin.

ADMIRING ANOTHER ensemble from the trunk is Mrs. McAndrew who was given the collection by her aunt, Mrs. Spencer Brush of San Francisco. The collection also included linens, beaded bags, sheet music, Chinese silk shawls, lingerie.

California Rains Threaten Fruit And Vegetable Crops

Rains finally have fallen in the wheat belt. Wheat prices have dropped, easing the threat of higher prices for flour and bread this summer.

Rains also have fallen in California, and there the effects haven't been entirely helpful.

They have kept the bees from pollinating fruit trees, slowed the asparagus cutting, damaged the sweet cherries in San Joaquin Valley, washed away tomato seedings, and—a bit of cheer perhaps for small boys—interrupted the spinach harvest. A freeze caused heavy damage to apricots.

As the weather improves, there should be bigger supplies —and lower prices — for fresh fruits and vegetables. The outlook is good for celery, lettuce, snap beans, carrots, sweet corn, green peppers and green onions.

Bananas, apples, grapefruit and oranges are plentiful.

In the meat department, ham and beef prices have dropped again. Big supplies of other meats have helped keep beef prices down. There are much bigger supplies of pork, chickens and turkeys than last year.

Egg prices have dropped another 2 to 4 cents a dozen.

By MOLLY MARIN

A small family wedding at the bride's home in Belvedere is planned by Nancy Majors and Philip Stanley Voorheis. The ceremony will take place at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening with the Rev. Carl Howie of Calvary Presbyterian Church officiating.

Nancy is the daughter of Mrs. O. Cort Majors and the late Mr. Majors of Belvedere. Her future husband is the son of Mrs. I. W. Voorheis of Oakland and the late Mr. Voorheis.

Nancy was formerly married to Robert Gros, and resumed her maiden name when the marriage was dissolved.

The bride's close friend, Mrs. Richard McConnell of Tiburon, will be matron of honor. Russell B. Williams, the bridegroom's brother-in-law will be best man. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are coming from Palos Verde for the wedding.

Nancy was graduated from Pine Manor Junior College and attended the University of California, where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. She later received B.A. and M.A. degrees from San Francisco State College. She is doing practice teaching at Reed School in Tiburon and directs the Easter Seal Society recreation program for mentally and physically handicapped children in Marin.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Washington and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is division manager of Owens Glass Co. of Illinois with offices in San Mateo.

The couple will live in Nancy's home on the Belvedere Lagoon.

AMONG THE MARINITES on hand for the annual KQED black tie dinner telecast last night were the E. W. Bullards Jr. of Ross and Mrs. and Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of San Rafael.

Paul Y. Dunn Is Awarded Volunteer Of Year Honors

Mr. Dunn's volunteer work included membership on the board of the Marin Mental Health foundation, being treasurer of the Ross Psychiatric Clinic, on the executive board of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, and vice chairman of the special events committee of the United Bay Area Crudade.

He also served as training officer of the Camp Fire Girls in Marin and was an elder and Sunday School teacher in the Latter-Day Saints Church.

There are many examples of the type of unasked-for assistance that "Torchy," as he was called by his friends, often rendered. The staff at Boyd Museum like to remember him is his carpenter's apron with hammer and nails doing odd jobs that he observed needed doing, or bringing in a group of Boy Scouts to help him redecorate and panel the office. This type of personal giving was typical of his approach combined with his leadership and organizational abilities to make him so vital to Marin activities.

The Volnteer Bureau at the annual meeting traditionally honors its entire volunteer staff, this year numbering 18. The occasion also marked the bureau's third anniversary, the end of three years of service and growth from a Junior League project to new status of a United Bay Area Crusade agency.

New members named to the board were Mrs. Robert Eisenhauer, Mrs. Walter Foster, Mrs. Richard Jessup, Mrs. Robert L. Mault, Raymond Millard, Mrs. Adell Payton, Miss Gretchen Eden.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Had A Date With A Girl—And Can't Remember Anything That Happen

DEAR HELEN:

You may laugh at this or think I'm lying, but it's the honest truth. Last Friday I had a date with a girl and to be plain honest, I don't remember one blessed thing that happened. I wasn't drunk!

We went to a ball game, but the two hours after that my mind is a complete blank. This was the first time I had ever dated a girl and the first time I had even kissed one. I had lipstick on my face when I "came to" at home, so I guess I did.

How can I find out what happened without looking like a fool and asking her?

—FIFTEEN-YEAR OLD AMNESIA VICTIM

DEAR FIFTEEN:

Wow! Your girl must have been a knock-out!

Why ask what happened? Just ask for another date. If she accepts, well, one of these days you can laugh together about your "amnesia" — and she'll be highly flattered by it. If she turns you down, maybe you'd better write a note of explanation — and apology. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I dated a girl last summer, but she broke up with me when school started. I guess I was too slow for a fast girl, as I hear this year that the boys in her own grade won't go with her because of her reputation, so she dates older guys.

She has been very snobby to me, and tells other kids I'm a crum. I don't like her any more. So why is it, Helen, that I feel bad because the kids call her a you-know-what? Why does it make me sick to think of her as going bad? Should I try to help her? — BUD

DEAR BUD:

A decent guy hates to see a girl toss her reputation down the drain even though he no longer likes her a girl friend. She may not accept help from you, but there's no harm in letting her know you're there if she needs you. — H.

PERSONAL TO "ALL ALONE NOW": Your counselor is wiser than you think, and if you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I'll try to explain why. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Would you please tell girls the two things boys like least about them are: 1. Smoking, and 2 Vulgar language and swearing. —DON

DEAR DON:

They're told. According to my female letters, these two things are also what girls like least about boys.

So knock it off, kids! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am 14, and like a boy but can't talk to him because I get scared. I don't know if he likes me. Would it be all right to write to him, telling him how I feel? — MADLY IN LOVE.

DEAR M IN L:

A thousand times no! If you write crush-notes to a boy you scarcely know, he'll never stop running. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

The first year you "outgrow" Easter baskets and eggs, etc., you feel pretty low. You're kind of proud, you're out of the baby age, but still you feel like something is missing.

My mother knew just what to do about it — she always does. On Easter morning, there was a basket for me, along with the ones for the little kids. In it was a light lipstick, a little compact — and would you believe it: eye make-up (which I can only wear on special occasions).

Isn't that a lovely way to tell your daughter you don't mind that she is growing up? — DAUGHTER OF A WONDER MOM

DEAR DAUGHTER:

Certainly is. I hope other mothers will follow her example. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

BIDDING SILENTLY

Bidding with cards was explained in the Silent Auction rules poster at the Katherine Branson Silent Auction and luncheon held yesterday at the school in Ross. Admiring a cartful of flowers were, from left, Mesdames Andrew Cole, Huntley Bennett, Arthur Zimmerman, co-chairmen, and William Niccolls. The event was sponsored by the Branson Parents Club and Alumnae Association.

Don't Mix

Match paint types when you mix. Don't try to tint a latex paint with colors in oil. Use colors designed for latex instead. Ask your local dealer for advice on mixing and matching.

Fashion Creed—Smooth, Simple

"Clean, smooth, simple. That is my fashion creed." Terry Reno, top model says so. She urges teen-agers to take good care of their clothes. "You can buy the best and most expensive dresses, shoes, hats and bags, but if they are not kept clean or polished or ironed, only the wrinkles and spots will catch anyone's eye," she said.

Aids In Dampening

To dampen and iron articles when you're in a hurry, sprinkle them, roll tight in a dry towel, place in a warm—not hot—oven. By the time the iron is hot the clothes will be dampened evenly.

These Bonded Dacron/cotton knit dresses are ideal to accompany you about town in care-free comfort. Pink-buttercup-aqua

Shopping in the Village with Carol King and Pat Reynolds

Just a reminder that Mother's Day is right around "the calendar corner." You'll find beaucoup gift ideas for Mother at Village specialty shops. A nice treat for Mother could be the Fashion-Luncheons at The Cherish Inn. Styles and accessories from Village shops are shown each Wednesday at 12:30. Reservations are suggested, phone 388-4212.

Mother, Mom, Mama, Mommy and Ma will love a Mother's Day card from ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP. Junior shoppers will appreciate the selection here of small size gifts for small size allowances.

We've marked our calendars for May 5th-14th, the dates of the Oakland Flower Show. ALBERTA OF MARIN will be there to display her unique collection of miniature Oriental figurines and also maintain her popular commercial booth. Half price tickets for this show are on sale now at ALBERTA'S.

Don't miss the sale table at CAPRICORN BOOKS. Many collector's books here such as "This California" by Michael Bry (regularly $11.75, now $5.95) and "San Francisco" by Barnaby Conrad (regularly $8.50, now $5.95). All of these sale books are beautifully illustrated . . . other subjects include automobiles, wildlife and architecture.

DAILY LUNCHEON SPECIAL!

Shoppers and business men have found they don't have to break the family budget when they enjoy the daily special, hot luncheon at The HICK'RY PIT. For only $1.25 they can have home-style cooking when away from home. Combine this with an attractive, informal atmosphere and excellent service, and you've got yourself "a deal."

Wonderfully sunny colors for spring and summer at EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP. Ladies-in-waiting will be pleased with the easy-care fabrics too, since who wants to spend those important nine months ironing! Lots of separates here that can be coordinated almost indefinitely for an "extensive wardrobe" look.

FU'S ART STUDIO

Seems that framing a picture is just as much an art as painting one, so it only makes sense to have framing done by artists. This is the service we've found at FU'S ART STUDIO. They use the finest materials available to complement their custom design frames, and the results are outstanding.

HAPPY HOUSE

Two happily newsworthy items from HAPPY HOUSE this week. They now have a bridal registry for their handsome cookware, serving pieces and cutlery. (Glancing at our hodge-podge of pots and pans, we give this service an A+ rating.) And, thank heavens, Harriet . . . HAPPY HOUSE offers an honest-to-goodness professional knife sharpening service. Not only knives, but pinking shears, scissors, etc. that are brought in before Thursday will be ready by late Thursday afternoon.

Note to Fido and Fifi: If your coat is just a frightful mess and you simply can't do a thing with it, don't fret, dear doggie. Try MUTTS OF MARIN grooming department.

Here's some news from THE DAISYBUG that could start a "back to the books" movement. From April 22nd through 29th anyone with a valid student card from high school or college will receive a 10% discount on anything in the store. (I'm pretty sure they mean a current student card, so all you overgrown sophomores relax.) Just to whet your shopping appetite, THE DAISYBUG will toss an all Villager and Ladybug fashion show on Saturday the 22nd at The Cherish Inn . . . show time is 1 P.M.

Excellent stock of office supplies at IDEAL STATIONERS. And you needn't be a tycoon to qualify for their delivery service . . . just phone 383-2600 to place your order.

KUBLAI KHAN is the perfect spot for smallish banquets and parties. You might keep this in mind when planning a festive family outing in Mother's honor on "her day" next month. You can be sure the KUBLAI KHAN menu (Chinese, Polynesian & American cuisine) will please every member of your party.

Discussing watches with VILLAGE JEWELERS the other day. They pointed out their Caravelle line by Bulova as an example of a modestly priced watch that has a jeweled movement like its high class relatives. These Caravelle watches in both men's and women's styles start at $10.95. There is a good looking lady's model with four different colored interchangeable straps.

If you have ever shopped for smart looking clothes in larger sizes you know this can be a frustrating and depressing experience. Not so at CONTESSA ANGELA OF ROMA. This shop carries an extensive collection of two and three piece imported Italian knits in "16 and up" sizes. And if you don't see just the color you want, CONTESSA will be glad to order it for you.

When we tell you that L'ENTREE has a complete catering service we mean just that. Not only will they whip-up fabulous foodstuffs, but will supply you with glassware, china, linens, chairs, etc. Whether you plan a modest size cocktail-buffet or a great and grand reception, L'ENTREE'S catering guarantees your party's success.

Found the perfect underpinning for sweaters and springtime knits at THE HOUR GLASS. This is The Sweater Bra by Perma-Lift. The lightly contoured, seamless cup is of Dacron (polyester) . . . back and sides are nylon. Good design . . . good thinking there, gang.

Two Marin Children Place Second In Poster Contest

Two Marin school children have placed second on the Northern California competition of the national children's Dental Health Week poster contest.

Winners, who were announced yesterday at the dental auxiliary convention concluding in San Francisco, are David Gilbert, a second grader at Gallinas School and Anne Cooper, a seventh grade student at Vallecito School, both of San Rafael.

They were the Marin winners at the competition held in February marking Dental Health Week and sponsored by the Marin Auxiliary to the Northern California Dental Association. Judges of the Marin contest were Mrs. Hazel Torries, chief administrator at the College of Marin Dental Assisting School; Dr. Tom Mullan, dental health chairman of the Marin Dental Society; and Mrs. Maggie Leitner, artist and wife of a Marin dentist.

Primitive Prints Big This Spring

Primitive prints are big fashion this spring. Use an exotic print for a long, flowing caftan, and you have a winner as a beach cover-up or at-home gown. Textile designers are emphasizing the bright, hot colors and native designs of Old and New World primitive tribes. A fun way to make your caftan: fashion it from beach towels. Just sew up the sides, leaving room for armholes and an opening for the neck on top. Then slit the front and insert a 20-inch zipper.

Coco Leads The Attack—

By ANDREW SAIWYN
United Press International

PARIS (UPI) — When Chanel speaks, the rest of the fashion world listens, and often argues.

Gabrielle (Coco) Chanel, a fashion influence world-wide for more than half a century, sounds off to reporters about so-called "high fashion"—in other words, fashion that the rest of the industry follows.

Miss Chanel, at 83, charges that high fashion in France is on the way out. . . the male designers are at fault.

"High fashion is in the hands of men who do not like women and only dream of making them look ridiculous," says the woman who is one of the all-time great influences on feminine fashions.

Miss Chanel attacks among other current modes the mini-skirt. She says that once upon a time women "once they reached the age of 40 . . . traded youth for grace and mystery. This was an evolution that left them intact.

"Now, they try to stand up to the young, using ridiculous weapons. They only need a bow in their hair and a school satchel on their back."

The sting of the attack, carried prominently in all French newspapers, was felt at the very foundations of Parisian haute couture.

"Miss Chanel is an admirable woman," said couturier Marc Bohan, of the house of Dior. "We have the deepest respect for her, but she is a bit older than most of us and naturally she reacts differently. . .

"Why should one be against the mini-skirt if the mini-skirt is pretty and worn well?"

Said Pierre Cardini, "In the world of fashion, each couturier has his own ideas. Miss Chanel charges that courturiers are inspiring themselves from architecture, and she is not altogether wrong. But this does not prevent women from remaining feminine. Personally I abhor women wearing trousers.

Stockings Add

As if the controversy she launched were not enough, Miss Chanel did not stop at the mini-skirt.

"Men are getting dressed like women and women like men," she said, "and this is leading to a destruction of love," she said.

"Now no one is satisfied with what one's got. Before the war I had never heard of complexes and depressions," she added.

"Then," she said in one interview, "we were sentimental. It was perhaps stupid but it filled life and it was much much better.

"In those days a woman was compared to a flower or perhaps to a sausage but now I would be callsed a 'locomotive' because I am not "ye ye" and I don't feel like doing the jerk at Regine's. This just makes me feel sick."

To give the new generation an idea of what life was like in her days, Coco Chanel has agreed to let her life be portrayed on the stage and screen. American producer Frederick Brisson, says that a musical called "Coco," written by Alan Jay Lerner, will open on Broadway in the fall.

DRAMA REVIEW

By KARL BARRON

SAN CARLOS — Last night's performance of "Carousel" at the Circle Star Theater was a very special one, as star John Raitt explained in a curtain speech. It was the 23rd anniversary of the night Raitt opened on Broadway in the Rodgers-Hammerstein adaptation of Molnar's "Liliom."

Raitt, playing approximately his one thousandth performance, seems to have lost not an ounce of verve and energy. The show is picked up and carried along by his fine voice and easy acting in the role of Billy Bigelow, the carousel barker who marries sweet, simple Julie Jordan, and only after death is able to atone for his brutal treatment of her.

HOLDS UP WELL

The lovely, familiar melodies of Richard Rodgers hold up as well. "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "If I Loved You," "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "Carousel Waltz" all seem as fresh as though we too, had not heard them a thousand times.

Riatt related an anecdote of singer Mel Torme telling Rodgers that he had seen it nine times and it still made him weep. It is indeed a tear jerker, but has many happy moments for balance.

David Tihmar has directed this production with great fluidity of movement, yet manages to retain clarity throughout. There areseveral dance numbers well choreographed by Zoya Leporska, topped by the second act ballet performed by Louise, Billy's daughter. Linda Kaye Henning is outstanding in the role, both as dancer and actress.

Linda Michele as Julie has great moments, although both her singing and acting are uneven. I would prefer her with a less Hollywoodian wig. The platinum mountain she wears makes it difficult to accept the tender simplicity of the character.

The top comedy role of Enoch Snow, who wants to make a fortune canning sardines, is dashed off zestfully by Robert Miller Driscoll, whose tenor voice is a delight. (Could this character have been based on the chowder Snows?)

GOOD SUPPORT

Maureen Bailey's pert Carrie, Shirley Chambers' raucuos Mrs. Mullins, and Ned Romero's underplayed villain all add to the show's worth. Jack Good does a fine job as the Starkeeper, while Katherine Hilgenberg lends her operatic soprano to the role of Nettie Fowler. Deserving special mention for her dancing is Michele Bernath.

Musical director Lawrence Brown handles both accompaniment and featured orchestral portions well, and Hal Shafer has designed set pieces which impart a late nineteenth century flavor. Costumes by Berman's of Hollywood are colorful but seem just a bit too new and clean at times.

"Carousel," the first of Circle Star's new series, will play nightly except Monday, with Saturday and Sunday matinees, through April 30.

During World War II, the Presidio of San Francisco was the headquarters at which the successful attacks on the Aleutian Islands of Attu and Kiska were planned.

SEMINARIANS READY CANTATA

Golden Gate Baptist Seminary students enact a scene from dramatized version of Dubois's cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," which they will present at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Broadus Chapel at the seminary. Elwyn Gunn, a student at the seminary, did the dramatization and is director. In role of Christ is Gene Royal, a student from Fort Worth, Tex.

Poet Ciardi Criticizes Educators

Poet John Ciardi picked a bone with educators last night, speaking to a College of Marin concert series audience on "How is a Poem?"

"Why do they take in so rich an audience for poetry and then ruin it" in adolescence demanded that author of "I Met a Man," a book of poems for beginning readers.

Ciardi warned that "a lot of 19th Century sentiments" in poetry "make a boy uneasy," and urged teachers to take care with what they give classes to read. He lashed out at the common question of "what does it mean?" and stressed "the paraphrase is not the poem."

"I'd rather be confused by Shakespeare than clarified by Norman Vincent Peale," he declared.

A good poem is a combination of words outdoing the sum and form of the parts and often is easy to memorize, Ciardi said. It "begins in delight" for its creator and "ends in wisdom" for its reader, but eschews the epitaph that "he sold his birthright for a pot of message," Ciardi explained.

Dominican Student Art Exhibit Slated

An exhibition of paintings, drawings and prints by graduating seniors of Dominican College will be shown at the San Marco Art Gallery, on the campus, April 27 through May 26.

The art works, which demonstrate difficult techniques, were selected by Magda Chambers, chairman of the art department, and Masatoyo Kishi, art instructor. Refreshments will be served from 2 to 4 p.m. on the opening day.

Annual Art Shows Merge

Plans for an expanded Bay Area-wide art show for the 22nd annual Marin Art and Garden Fair, June 30 through July 4, have been announced by Mrs. Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager, and Fred Herschleb, chairman, Marin Society of Artists fair committee.

For the first time, the fair will combine the traditionally separate Marin Society of Artists and county art shows into a single exhibition in the Frances Young Gallery, Mrs. McCoy said. Entry is open to artists in the nine Bay Area Counties.

One cash award will be made in each category: Watercolor, $100; oil and mixed media, $100; graphics, $50; sculpture, $100; weaving and ceramics, including glass, $50; jewelry and art metal, $50. An additional $100 will be given for Best-in-Show. Merit ribbons will also be awarded.

According to Herschleb, all work must be original, must have been done within the previous 24 months, and must not have been shown in an earlier Marin Art and Garden Fair.

Teachers, Parents To Give Melodrama

"Love Rides the Rails," a melodrama, will be presented tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo by the Red Hill Intermediate School Parents Club.

Tom Perry of Ross will direct a cast of teachers and parents. Proceeds will go toward building an amphitheater at Red Hill School.

Professor Builds Flying Saucer In His Own Garage

The craft designed by the 30-year-old instructor at the University of California's Davis campus is not intended for outer space travel. It's the aviator's version of the Volkswagen.

The first public flight of the saucer, which has a diameter of 14 feet, was scheduled today at the Davis University airport. It climaxes 5 1-2 years of work.

The saucer, still in the experimental stage, was expected to make its test flight at a height of three feet. Moller said the craft goes "about as fast as my tetherman can run."

The reason for the limited altitude is simple enough: Moller is not a licensed pilot and, besides, flying saucers have not been certified by the Federal Aviation Agency as legal aircraft.

A man must run alongside the one-man craft with a tether rope just in case Moler needs help controlling the craft.

The saucer is still subject to control difficulties during high winds but Moller said additional research made possible development of a second, two-man saucer with most of the wind problems eliminated.

Moller, a Canadian-born aerodynamics professor, believes some flying saucers come from outer space. But he built his in his garage with help from graduate students at the university.

Moller is close-mouthed about the design and details of the saucer. He said he wants to maintain control of the development of the saucer and not be "wiped out" by the money and manpower available to the aviation industry.

But he has high hopes for the craft both as an alternative to the automobile in avoiding congested freeways and as an improvement on helicopters in war zones such as Vietnam.

The saucer which has a 150-mile-an-hour potential speed, Moller said, could fly at an altitude of 5,000 feet but could easily set down at any gas station. He said the round shape is ideal for vertical landing and lifting.

Researcher To Testify For Coppolino

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — A research biochemist who used radioactivity to trace succinylcholine in the bodies of rats took the stand for the defense today in the drug murder trial of Dr. Carl Coppolino.

The judge ordered morning recess before the biochemist could disclose his findings.

Yesterday, the jury heard the father of the dead woman explain how he learned, on Aug. 28, 1965, that his daughter had died in her sleep.

Dr. Carmelo Musetto of Boonton, N.J., said that Coppolino told him, "I reached over to put my arm around her and felt that she was cold. Then I turned on the light and saw that she was dead."

Musetto said that when the body was returned to New Jersey for burial he learned from a funeral director there had been no autopsy. But he said he made no effort to have one performed until he was told the death was being investigated.

Pair Serious From Injuries In Plane Crash

PASO ROBLES (AP) — A New York attorney and his son, a California banker, were in serious condition today from injuries suffered in a light plane crash.

Doctors said Harold T. Garrity, 61, of Chappagua, N.Y., and his son, James, 29, of Los Gatos, both suffered chest injuries. Their two-engine Beechcraft crashed in Red Hills east of Paso Robles.

The son, an assistant bank manager at San Jose, said he was piloting the plane from Palm Springs to San Jose when ice began forming on the wings and one engine failed. He pancaked the plane in the hills.

They were rescued by a Navy helicopter and taken to Paso Robles War Memorial Hospital.

$50,000 Fall Suit Is Filed

A 12-year-old student is seeking $50,000 damages for injuries allegedly suffered in a fall from a playground swing at Sleepy Hollow School last June 10.

In a suit filed yesterday on behalf of Victoria Lynn Bollinger by her mother, Mrs. Vida Lea Norton of 31 Oak Springs Drive, San Anselmo, the girl charges San Anselmo School District with negligent maintenance of the swing.

Hallinan Takes Heaven Case To Supreme Court

Belvedere attorney Vincent Hallinan, trying to overturn the will of an insurance executive who left three-fourths of his $200,000 estate to the church, has taken the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Hallinan contends that the Roman Catholic Church perpetrated a fraud by promising David F. Supple, who died in 1961, relief from purgatory in exchange for money. Lower courts, in rejecting the suit, have countered that inquiry of the truth or falsity of religious beliefs would be unconstitutional.

In briefs filed with the Supreme Court Tuesday, Hallinan termed belief in heaven, hell or purgatory "childish superstitions." Hallinan is representing his son Terrence, who bought an interest in the case when a Corte Madera grandnephew of Supple, who was excluded from the will, died.

Fitness Class Set

A new women's physical fitness class offering exercises, hiking and bicycle riding will start Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Mill Valley Community and Youth Center. The eight-week series of one-hour classes is to be taught by John Barber. It is sponsored by the parks and recreation department.

Summer Term Set By School

Marin Country Day School, Corte Madera, will conduct a summer program for children from the first through seventh grades from June 19-July 29.

As part of the program, pupils will participate in archaeological exploration and survey of an Indian mound in Sonoma County.

Marinites Named To Dean's List

They are John P. Klapperich, 201 Center Street, Harold E. Looper, 61 Canal Street, and Jack H. Nielsen, 159 Novato Street, all of San Rafael; Paul M. Brady, 17 Tyler Street; Novato; Lawrence W. Cunha, 35 Juanita Way, Mill Valley; Mildred Moore, 14 Burgess Street, Marin City, and David F. Von Bima, 1408 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo.

Lack Of Policy In School Bus Accidents Upsets Safety Panel

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The Marin County Safety Commission was disturbed today to find a lack of policy by the county schools office on the handling of school bus accidents, noting that a child injured in such an accident was nearly taken to the County Health Department for treatment.

Dr. Michael Scholl, county medical officer and a member of the safety commission, said some "common sense pills" might be in order.

Injured Monday morning when a small bus, driven by Ruth Edna Scozzafana, 37, of San Rafael went in a ditch at 2120 Centro East Street in Tiburon, was John Sandler, 10, of Novato. He had a bump on his head and seemed inclined to go to sleep, reported Mrs. Leslie Wider who is Mrs. Scozzafana's supervisor. She said the child was directed to the public health department to see if the emergency ward at Marin General Hospital would take him for treatment.

Mrs. Wider, driving the child in a radio-equipped car, was directed back to the hospital. Before reaching the health office in downtown San Rafael. The child was treated at the hospital for the injury.

Dr. Scholl informed Mrs. Wider that the emergency ward will never refuse treatment. The commission urged Mrs. Wider to set down policies on all accidents.

The Monday accident was not officially before the commission today, but was discussed before, during and after discussion of two other accidents involving a county school bus driven by Mrs. Lillian J. Bregante.

The commission noted that reports of both accidents were incomplete, with neither having a diagram and one not including date of the accident.

"We've had this problem with the schools department before," Commissioner Martin E. Nelson said before the hearing began.

"It's inconceivable to me that these people, dealing with children, do not know the proper procedure," commissioner Wallace Chipman declared.

The commission ruled that the accident of Jan. 17, when Mrs. Bregante backed out of an intersection at Diablo Avenue and Highway 101 in Novato where she had been stopped by a stalled car in front of her, was not really an accident. The bus tapped the bumper of a small car behind her. The commission ruled it a "preventable incident."

The other accident was on March 13 when a car pulling from a parking space on Fourth Street in San Rafael near the entrance to Miracle Mile scraped the rear of the school bus. Mrs. Bregante said the other driver said it was her fault and left the scene. Damage was minor to the bus, but more serious to the other car, she said.

Neither accident was reported to police.

The commission said reports must be made, even when it is just a minor bumper tap.

The commission ruled the March 13 accident non-preventable.

In other action the commission ruled preventable an accident March 14 when agricultural inspector Jack W. Schrock backed a county truck into a parked car on Crescent Road in Corte Madera.

The commission commended the sheriff's department for having no lost-time accidents last month.

Radio, Cash Stolen

A radio and $3 to $4 in coins were stolen yesterday afternoon from the residence of Robert Villa, 12A Lincoln Street, San Rafael, while he was absent for about an hour, police reported today.

Langendorf Park Rites Set May 20

Sausalito Recreation Commission last night set dedication of Langendorf Park for May 20 at 11 a.m., reported chairman Elmo V. Maggiora.

The park at the upper end of Easterby Street was developed last year at a cost of $10,000. Dedication has been stalled by rain.

Commissioners approved contruction by city crews of two horseshoe pits at South View Park at a cost of $750 for equipment and materials. Players will have to provide their own horseshoes.

An operation and maintenance budget totaling $2,872 for fiscal 1968 was reviewed, Maggiora said, and a special meeting set May 8 at 8 p.m. in his home at 509 Spring Street to review a capital expenditure budget.

Monthly meeting of the commission was advanced one day because the city council and planning commission will meet today at 8 p.m. in city hall to review the proposed general waterfront plan.

Clean-Up Drive Help Is Asked

Almonte Improvement Club directors last night asked homeowners in the community to participate in the annual clean-up campaign, reported board president Herbert E. Davis.

The voluntary campaign is aimed at clean-up of gardens and rubbish, he said, and at touch-up of paint where necessary.

Directors also appealed to residents not to block narrow streets by parking on the street, Davis said.

Tot Hit By Cycle

Three-year-old Kathleen Marie Dooley, of 107 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a fractured left leg suffered yesterday when she was hit by a motorcycle driven by Kenneth S. Lehrer, 18, of 150 Manor Drive, Mill Valley. The accident happened near her home, police said, when she darted into the street.

4-H Club Members Preparing For Fair

Four-H Club members of central Marin are preparing for the 14th annual 4-H Fair to be held May 6 at the Rancho Nicasio picnic grounds.

The fair will start with raising of the colors at 10 a.m. There will be exhibits of dairy and beef cattle, rabbits and poultry, woodworking, wildlife and forestry projects, home furnishings, clothing, and food preparation and canning.

Four-H Club girls will also put on a fashion show. They will model the clothes they have made for themselves.

There will be a plant booth for gardener fanciers, a "white elephant" booth, and game booths for children.

A chicken barbecue will be served. In addition, hot dogs, homemade cakes and pies will be sold.

Downed Power Pole Injures Patrolmen

Two police officers, investigating a traffic accident on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Ross General Hospital, escaped with minor injuries today when a pickup truck hit a guy wire from a fallen power pole.

Edna Belle Meredith, 52, of 30 Carlson Avenue, San Anselmo, whose car set off the bizarre set of accidentsl declined treatment for minor injuries.

The CHP reported Mrs. Meredith's car skidded off the wet road at 1:30 a.m., shearing the power pole off at its base.

While the two officers were waiting at the scene for a tow truck, the patrol reported, a pickup truck driven by James J. Colli, 66, of Olema, struck a guy wire which had fallen across the road. The wire jerked the pole upward, felling the two men.

The accident did not interrupt power service, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. reported.

Human Happiness Film Set Monday

A brief film and slide show on "fundamental aspects of human happiness" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday in supervisors' chambers at Civic Center by Steen Schellenberg, financial planning consultant of San Rafael.

The greater part of the two-hour program will be devoted to audience discussion of points raised in the explanatory narration accompanying the film and slides, according to Schellenberg.

Home Burglarized

A burglar yesterday stole money, jewelry and a camera valued at a total of $204 from the residence of Louis Geffen, 73 Oak Avenue, San Rafael, police reported today. The thief entered between 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. and stole two rings, two wristwatches, coins and currency, cufflinks and tie clips.

Rapids Dunk Lewis-Clark Explorers

GREER, Ida. — Two members of a modern Lewis and Clark expedition, Fred Tower of Sausalito and Bruce Markey of Alturas, were dunked in Clearwater River rapids today about five miles upstream from this north Idaho community.

Soaked but unhurt when their canoe capsized, the youths righted it, changed clothing and continued on their way. A second canoe, manned by Gerald L. Everson of Los Altos and Ron Hainline of Grants Pass, Ore., negotiated the rapids safely.

The four all students at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, are attempting to retrace the route of the original Lewis and Clark expedition into the Northwest about 160 years ago. The stunt is part of their school's 100th anniversary observance.

The modern-day explorers hope to paddle down the Clearwater to Lewiston by the weekend, then continue down the Snake and Columbia rivers to Portland.

Youth Missing From Tiburon

March Slocum, 17-year-old son of Mrs. Ethel Slocum of 1 Acacia Court, Tiburon, has been missing from home since Friday evening.

Mrs. Slocum reported the boy's disappearance to Tiburon sheriff's deputies yesterday. He was still missing today.

The mother said her son had grown long hair and talked about joining the "hippies" in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury district.

He was described as six feet tall, weighing 190 pounds, with long brown hair. He was wearing black jeans, a light blue shirt, beige boots and a green corduroy jacket when last seen.

Permit Taken For Teen Dance Center

Two young men have taken out an application for a permit to open a teen-age dance hall in the empty Safeway store on San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo, according to Public Works Dir. Charles R. Leitzell.

The application has not been returned yet so Leitzell did not have the names of the two. Inquiries have also been made about using the empty building for a restaurant and bar or for a bowling alley, he said.

Hub Rec Members Approve Budget

The San Anselmo Recreation Commission Tuesday night approved a recreation budget of $90,843, almost twice the size of this year's budget, for submission to the city council.

This year's budget for recreation totaled $47,269. The budget recommended by the commission includes $28,500 in capital improvements at the ball park and memorial park, and an initial payment of $8,000 for a recreation center.

Conditional Use Permit Is Granted

The Sausalito City Council did not deny Mrs. Bunty Mordant a conditional use permit for conversion of the Gate Theater into shops and a restaurant, as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The council after expressing unanimous objection Tuesday to the project was advised by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan that a public hearing would have to be held if the council declined to accept earlier planning commission approval. A hearing was set for May 16.

Twitchell's Win Marks Board Return

Glen E. Twitchell of Lagunitas, who was elected to the Lagunitas School District Board Tuesday, will serve his second term as a trustee.

Twitchell was elected to a four-year term in 1961, but didn't seek re-election in 1965. In yesterday's school board election story, the Independent-Journal inadvertently omitted Twitchell from a list of former trustees who were returned to office.

Reagan Signs Permit For Utility Merger

Special legislation to permit merger on July 1 of Bolinas and Bolinas Beach Public Utility districts has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan, Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks reported today.

Under state law, applications for such mergers must be on file with the Secretary of State by Jan 1 to take place in the same fiscal year. Without the special bill, the merger, approved by voters in February, could not have occurred until July 1, 1968.

Pacific Tel Wins Chance For Hikes On Old Rulings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific Telephone Co. won a chance yesterday to seek changes in 12 operating and investment cost determinations made by the State Public Utilities Commission in 1964 and 1966 rate decisions.

By a 4-1 vote, the commission rejected a PUC staff recommendation that the 12 cost rulings be banned from consideration in hearings on Pacific Telephone's new request for rate increases amounting to $181 million a year.

Several cities and consumer organizations backed the PUC staff stand at the opening of hearings on the new increase request. They contended the State Supreme Court had upheld the previous PUC decisions.

Among the questions opened for review will be the fees Pacific Telephone pays to American Telephone and Telegraph Co., Pacific's major stockholder.

Peter Mitchell, commission president who announced the 4-1 action, said each issue on investment and operating cost offered by the company would be judged on its merits as it was presented.

Span Sessions Set

Two committees of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will meet at the Administration Building at the bridge toll plaza tomorrow. The building and operating committee will beet at 10:30 a.m. and the legislation committee at 11 a.m.

EUREKA (AP) — Two Russian fishing trawlers were six miles off the Northern California coast last night and under the eye of the Coast Guard.

The 150-foot-long vessels flew red flags, men at Blunt's Reef Lightship on Cape Mendocino reported. The Coast Guard said the ships were not violating U.S. laws.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Sometimes 'Take It Easy' Can Be Too-Powerful Prescription

VAN DELLEN

"Take it easy" is common medical advice, but it is inane unless given individual consideration and directed at those activities that aggravate or prolong an illness. It may mean less physical activity, getting an assistant, avoiding stressful situations or resigning from the P-TA or fund-raising groups.

The busy executive, slave-driving foreman, and the professional person are hard to slow up after a severe heart attack or stroke. These people have so many irons in the fire, deadlines to meet, and decisions to make that it is difficult to know where to begin.

Some go overboard on the advice such as the Chicago housewife who was told to take it easy because of nervousness and hypertension. "I do so little now that life is becoming monotonous. I work less than three hours a day and not hard enough to raise a sweat."

THIS WOMAN should take it easy on taking it easy. She has time on her hands and needs to use more imagination in her leisure activities.

Work never killed anyone but over-fatigue and frustration might. No harm will come from being busy and besides, activity helps dissipate energy that might be channeled into self-pity.

Energy expended in work, play, and mental activity must not go beyond the tangible benefits obtained. Adjustments must be made when what we are doing interferes with our health and happiness.

THERE IS always an easier way to do things in order to combat overfatigue. This is what most physicians mean when they advise a patient to take it easy.

I am not advocating shorter working hours or implying that work is a curse. We have abolished slavery and outlawed the sweatshop but something will "pop" unless we banish the monotony that comes from too much time on our hands.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ABDOMINAL PAIN

Mrs. T.F.G. writes: Is pain from appendicitis always on the right side?

REPLY

No. Initially pain is located in the middle of the abdomen but as the infection localizes, distress moves to the right in 99 cases out of 100. Exceptions occur when the organs are reversed (situs inversus), should the organ rupture and pus gravitate to the left side, or if the appendix is unusually long or points toward the back.

NERVOUSNESS AND NEURITIS

REPLY

No, because nervousness is an emotional disturbance and is not related to the peripheral nerves that involve the arms and legs. Neuritis is inflammation of one of these structures.

IMPROVED OUTLOOK

REPLY

The chance of cure with streptomycin, PAS, or the isoniazids is much greater today than in the past.

CORD POLYPS

Mrs. G. writes: Will vocal cord polyps regrow after removal?

REPLY

SHREDS

REPLY

Not unless the urine also contains pus cells, which would indicate infection.

Age No Worry To Jane Russell

SINGAPORE (AP) — "I could not care less about the passing of time or aging," says actress Jane Russell.

"I do look back sometimes," said Miss Russell, 45, on her arrival yesterday with her singing trio. "I look forward too."

Talking about her impending divorce from her husband of 24 years, Robert Waterfield, she said, "If a married couple cannot be happy together they should seek divorce. You can say we are not happy anymore."

She told reporters "of course" she would marry again.

Gas Powered Cars Defended

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Because motor makers will beat the smog problem, the electric car will not replace gasoline-powered cars, declares the president of Standard Oil Co. of California.

"The gasoline-powered engine is not hopelessly doomed," J.E. Gosline told the Independent Oil and Gas Producers of California last night.

He said current electric car performance is only slightly above golf cart level. He said electric cars are "subject to safety as well as economic and technical problems."

90-Year-Old Paint Job Is In Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The city awarded a $1,540 contract yesterday for painting its 90-year-old cable car barn.

One provision of the contract is that when the job is finished, the place should look like it did in 1878.

Police Crack Down Hard On Louisville Marchers

The arrests apparently removed doubts about the city's action on its temporary ban against night marches by the demonstrators. Earlier yesterday, a federal judge rejected a petition on behalf of the demonstrators to remove the case from state to U.S. District Court.

Police twice fired tear-gas pellets into a crowd of more than 700 hecklers, at times forcing them two blocks away from demonstrators.

A police captain said the hecklers appeared angrier than during other of the almost nightly demonstrations. Police arrested a total of 113 persons including some hecklers for throwing rocks, scuffling with police or failing to obey orders to move out.

As much as 20 pounds of pull is required to pluck an orange from its trees, the Riverside Citrus Research Center reports.

Property Taxes Carrying Load

Property taxes in Marin County next year will cover 40.8 per cent of the total proposed county budget of $28,374,617, according to figures announced today by Auditor-controller Michael Mitchell.

Federal and state aid will contribute 33.4 per cent of the cost; charges for services, 5 per cent; unincorporated sales taxes 1.5 per cent, other sources, 19.3 per cent.

In the current fiscal year, Marin led all other counties in the state in percentage of property tax requirement with 418 per cent of the total budget being supported by property tax.

Film On Greenbelt

"Greenbelt, USA," a film about fire-resistant plants for fire protection, will be presented by Asst. County Fire Chief Stan Rowan tomorrow at 8 p.m. to Muir Woods Park Improvement Association in the clubhouse on Ridge Avenue.

Sellout For Warriors—76ers Game

Having demolished the specter of a shutout, the San Francisco Warriors tonight battle to square accounts with the Philadelphia 76ers in their final National Basketball Association playoff series.

"It was a personal thing for us to fight back," declared 6-foot 11-inch Nate Thurmond.

"Boston took only one game from the 76ers and as a matter of pride we want to do better than the Celtics, perhaps even win the championship, which is possible now."

Thurmond proved the strong tower in the Warriors 130 - 124 triumph over the 76ers at the Cow Palace Tuesday night after the Eastern champs had won the first two games in Philadelphia.

Warrior shooting came to life and Coach Bill Sharman hopes his club maintains its collective shooting eye before the capacity throng at the Cow Palace tonight. Game time is 8:30.

Coach Alex Hannum of Philadelphia, on the other hand, adjusted defenses to avoid repetition of the 55 points by Rick Barry and 28 by Jim King which riddled the 76ers in the third game.

Yesterday all reserved seats were sold with only a few grandstand ducats remaining to go on sale at noon today. That assured a crowd of 15,000.

Commenting on the victory, Sharman said, "That was the first game in which we shot well. We just weren't hitting in Philadelphia."

The Warriors connected on 45.3 per cent of their shots from the floor while the 76ers hit 43.1 per cent.

Barry added, "We hope to even it tonight. Out fast break was working because we were able to rebound with the 76ers."

Thurmond picked off 25 rebounds to 26 for 7-foot 1-inch Wilt Chamberlain. Barry picked off an even dozen, third high for the game as San Francisco had a total of 83 to 68 for the visitors. On Sunday in Philadelphia, the Warriors were out-rebounded by 18.

"I don't think we played as well as we are capable," said Hannum of the initial outing at the Cow Palace where the Warriors are undefeated this season.

Although they play most of their home games at Civic Auditorium, where there'll be closed circuit television of the game tonight, the Warriors played one exhibition and three regular season games at the Cow Palace.

They also have beaten Los Angeles and St. Louis there in playoff games.

Swimming Parents Deserve Pat On Back

TANKS A LOT—If you have Age Group swimmers in your castle I feel for you, Bunky. I also admire your fortitude.

Your little aquanuts practice six days a week and you must arrange your lives around their damp sport. Meals, for example, must not interfere with training sessions and you find yourself eating in shifts (and other garb). "I feel like a short order cook," one aquamom told me.

DURING THE SUMMER your kids must be in the pool by 6:30 a. m. for two hours of work. Another session is scheduled in the late afternoon. As dedicated Age Group swimmers wouldn't miss a practice or meet, your family vacations, jobs, dental appointments and, yes, even birthday parties are scheduled around stopwatches and butterfly strokes. "But, Mommie, TOMORROW'S my birthday." "Shaddup. Tomorrow Junior's swimming in Redding. We just rescheduled your birthday for next week."

Swimming Is A Year-'Round Grind

This is a year-'round grind, but it tapers off during the winter. School interferes with practices so they are cut down to one a day. But the youngsters also do roadwork and weightlifting to keep conditioned. And the bedroom door in every swimming home is bedecked with two lengths of surgical tubing so kids can flex their arms. Don't open the door too fast, Pop, or you'll slingshot Junior right through the wall.

SUMMER WEEKENDS are wrapped around meets in such exotic places as Redding, Sacramento, Modesto and Greenbrae. Usually the whole fam damily tags along, so the motel and meal bills pile up by the end of the summer.

AAU age groups range from 10 and under (some start as early as 6) through 17. And a curious and funny thing occurs in the young female ranks. They go like miniature Ann Curtises through the 11-12 age group and then—plop—there are more dropouts than the Italian Army under fire. You see, when the little cupcakes approach high school age they suddenly detest the thought of stringy hair and discover boys and parties and things like that and, well, practice takes up SO much time.

ON THE OTHER HAND, boys get serious about sports at that 13-14 age. Psychiatrists have an answer for this, but it escapes me at the moment.

400 AAU Swimmers In Marin County

There are approximately 400 registered Amateur Athletic Union age group swimmers in Marin County, including as many as five in one family.

AN AAU MEET requires the services of more than 100 adults, including referees, clerks, timers, judges, recorders, statisticians. Thus, all meets have a guaranteed audience. Throw in the mothers and fathers and you've got a standing room only crowd.

If you'd like to see a typical AAU meet in action, visit Bon Air Recreation Center in Greenbrae Saturday and Sunday. (If you're down by the pool, drop in.) The Marin Swim Championship will make its fourth annual splash there with a whopping entry list of nearly 600 swimmers from throughout Northern California.

THERE WILL BE some great young natators in action. But don't get too excited over their victories and records. Kids who spend hundreds of hours a year practicing one thing OUGHT to be good at it. A polite round of applause will do.

Save your cheers for the parents. Now, there are the REAL champions.

Clay Says He Won't Go In Army

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay said today he will not wear an Army uniform "under any circumstances."

Clay said that it would be a denunciation of his Muslim religion.

"No, I am not going 10,000 miles from here to help murder and kill and burn another poor people simply to help continue the domination of white slave masters over the darker people the world over," he told a news conference.

Clay said that he had been warned to take such a stand would cost his prestige and millions of dollars.

NO SELLOUT

"But if I remain silent and put on the uniform and went along, this would be an ugly sellout to my people and no matter what it costs me, whether jail or my life, I will not disgrace my religion, my people or myself."

He said that to do anything else would make him a "tool to enslave those who are fighting for justice, equality and freedom."

Asked if he would take a non-combatant role in the armed services, he replied: "No sir."

Clay said earlier he would refuse to take the oath of induction when he was called April 28.

A draft board spokesman said if this happens, Clay would be required to sign a paper stating that he had refused and the matter then would be turned over to the district attorney's office for action.

LONG FIGHT

Clay has fought long and unsuccessfully in the court to avoid the draft, claiming that he is exempt because he is a Black Muslim minister.

Originally, he was to be called up in Louisville but had the case transferred to Texas on grounds that it was now his business residence.

During the conference, Clay also was asked what effect possible imprisonment might have on his heavyweight title.

"Even if I am jailed for three years I can remain in condition, if I can get good food," he said.

Arnie Picked To Capture Dallas Open

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)— Arnold Palmer is on the way to his greatest year in golf, money-wise at least, which explains why no one else was even mentioned when the favorite was established in the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open.

The tournament, with Palmer an entry for the first time in six years, started today over the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club Course, where Palmer showed he was still winging merrily on when he fired a two-under-par 68 in the pro-amateur yesterday.

Palmer has played in 10 of the 13 tournaments this year and placed fourth or better in seven of them. He has won two—Los Angeles and Tucson. More important he has won $81,285, of which $73,273 is official money.

Billy Casper was considered a most serious challenger and Frank Beard, who played some hot golf to beat Palmer in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, was also highly regarded.

It is the finest field Dallas has had, the course is in top shape and hopes are strong that the weather will be just the opposite of last year. Then rains dogged the tournament, causing rounds to be postponed.

REMEMBER 1951?

Giants Started Season Like Pennant Winners

Losing six straight and with a 1-7 record, the San Francisco Giants are off to the worst start for the club since it was in New York in 1951 and dropped 11 straight and 12 of its first 14 games.

That year the Giants won the National League pennant, in a playoff against Brooklyn's Dodgers.

Yet last place in the National League, even at this early date holds no solace, and the Giants' ace pitcher Juan Marichal has gone down to defeat three times, half his entire loss total last season.

The hard hitting St. Louis Cardinals, undefeated to date, whipped San Francisco 7-5 in Candlestick Park last night, the third time this year they have upended the club figured to be among the top pennant contenders.

Marichal went out after 3 1-3 innings. Each Cardinal in the batting order had hit safely against him except Orlando Cepeda. He had given up five earned runs and boosted his ERA to 6.39.

There were boos when the $100,000 hurler came out, perhaps because he had held out until the waning days of spring training in a dispute over salary.

"Every time I threw the ball, they hit it," Maricahl mused. "I feel good and the weather didn't bother me. They weren't booing Herman Franks for taking me out. When you win, you're great."

Tim McCarver belted a three-run homer in the first inning and Jukian Javier hit one over the fence with a mate aboard off reliever Joe Gibbon in the fifth. Four singles had brought two runs in the fourth before Franks took Marichall out.

Willie Mays didn't see action as he continues to nurse a pulled hamstring muscle.

"Maybe he'll play Thursday," said Franks. "I don't know. I don't know how he feels."

Brighest spot for the Giants were two solo home runs by Ken Henderson, who's playing center field while Mays is out. The second one sent southpaw Larry Jaster to the showers in the eighth, but the lefty still recorded his second triumph of the campaign.

Another southpaw, Alvin Jackson, faced the Giants and Bob Bolin today and it looked like a parade of portside hurlers were lining up to try and extend the losing streak.

Little New Zealander Is A Hero In Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Little Dave McKenzie of New Zealand was hailed as a giant killer and a top Olympic contender today after a record-smashing triumph over the Japanese in the 71st Boston Athletic Association Marathon.

The 5-foot-4, 120-pound McKenzie crushed Japanese hopes for a third straight BAA triumph, breezing to victory in 2 hours, 15 minutes and 45 seconds yesterday.

McKenzie helped set a blistering pace for 18 miles and then pulled away as he headed into the first of three hills. Yutaka Aoki tried to make up ground on the third, known as Heartbreak Hill, and actually closed to within 30 yards.

The bid for the lead took so much out of Aoki that Tom Laris, 26-year-old former Ivy League two-mile champion at Dartmouth, overtook him ofr second place in 2:16.48.

Aoki hung on for third in 2:17.17, while Louis Castagnola, a Washington electronics engineer, finished fourth in 2:17.48, and Italian champion Antonio Ambu took fifth in 2:18.04.

Prep All-Star Game Is Off

Third annual North-South Marin County High School All-Star football game, scheduled Aug. 28 at Kentfield, has been canceled due to a National Collegiate Athletic Association technicality, the sponsoring Ross Valley Kiwanis Club announced today.

NCAA sanction of the game was withdrawn, Kiwanis Chairman Jack Camiccia announced, "because our letter of application did not reach them by the March 19 deadline. Our application was postmarked March 19, but it did not reach them until March 20."

NCAA approval is necessary because athletes who play in non-sanctioned all-star contests automatically lose one year of college eligibility, Camiccia explained.

"We made several appeals to the NCAA, but they stood fast on their rule," the chairman added.

The game was to match the outstanding senior football players in the nine Marin high schools. A sellout in its first two years, the game has raised more than $5,000 for Kiwanis youth benefits.

Torrid Braves Win Fifth Straight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Atlanta slugger, who led the National League with 44 home runs last year but dipped to a .279 batting mark — lowest in his career — blasted a pair of homers last night, powering the torrid Braves to a 4-1 victory over Houston.

"I'm going back to my old style of hitting, to get a better batting average," the .316 lifetime hitter said before signing a two-year contract last winter at $100,000 per-season. "I wasn't too concerned about batting for an average last year because I had made up my mind to lead the league in homers."

MAKING FRIENDS

"There's no better way of making friends when you move into new territory than hitting the ball over the fence," Aaron added, explaining he went for the long ball in 1966 to help boost fan interest during the Braves' first year at Atlanta.

The 33-year-old outfielder's first two 1967 homers lifted his career total to 444, No. 10 on the all-time list, while sending his early-season batting average up to .321.

The homers also provided the winning margin as the Braves rolled to their fifth straight victory after an opening string of three losses.

St. Louis' streaking Cardinals overpowered San Francisco 7-5 for their sixth victory in six starts and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 3-2 on Ron Hunt's run-scoring double in the 10th. The Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game was rained out.

OFF GIUSTI

Dave Giusti, Houston's starter, gave up both Aaron homers and was touched for another run in the fourth when Mack Jones doubled, took third on an error and scored on a force-play grounder. A walk, Rico Carty's double and Mike de la Hoz' infield hit gave the Braves an insurance run in the eighth.

Winner Ken Johnson allowed only four hits before giving way to Ramon Hernandez in the seventh. Ed Mathews singled the Astros' run across in the sixth.

Ron Hunt broke up the Dodgers-Reds duel with a run-scoring double in the 10th — his fourth hit in five trips. Gene Michael led off the 10th with a double and Hunt, who had scored the first two Los Angeles runs, delivered the winning hit one out later.

Tommy Harper homered for Cincinnati in the sixth and the Reds tied it in the seventh when Tommy Helms singled, stole second and raced home on John Edwards' single.

Little Ron Pugh: Mr. Indispensable

By GARY TISCHLER

It's a big five-syllable tag they usually put on the fullback who's eaten up 900 yards of turf for you, the 7-1 guy who makes you happy just by showing up, and the fast-ball stopper who can walk on the mound and bail you out of trouble with one pitch.

PAUL SAGUES

We'd like to put the tag on somebody no pro scout has ever heard of, who never graced a four-column sports picture, who never even made the box score in a 100-40 game.

All he does is walk in the shadow of the big fellas and picks up the pieces, the equipment and balls, ties the shoes, binds the wounds, keeps the score and statistics, makes sure the footballs and basketballs are not running out of air and acts like a human dynamo.

WE'RE TALKING about a manager-statistician, in particular, Ron Pugh of Novato High School, who has been doing this sort of thing in three sports for the past three years.

"HE'S A GREAT little manager," Scott said. "He keeps the books, takes care of the equipment. He's very thorough and professional. He helps out with my athletic budget. He's there every time you need him."

Ron, who is only five feet tall and weighs slightly under 100 pounds, hopes to be a trainer in college and possibly in professional sports.

His thoroughness as a statistician, even in the wake of an all-losing basketball season at Novato when some might say "the heck with it," was amazing.

HE COULD PROBABLY tell you the brand name of the official's whistle, the number of shots missed during warmups and the mispronunciations by the yell leaders, if any. Win or lose, Pugh is a walking score book.

So, although they hand out the bouquets on the editorial page, here's one on the sports page to Ron Pugh, manager-statistician extraordinary. Novato High School's athletic department will miss him when he is graduated this year.

If swimming meets were won strictly on first places, with depth counting nothing, Drake wouldn't lose a meet. As it is, the Pirates have lost only one, none in Marin County Athletic League competition. And the big four have really made thei presence felt.

Between them, the fab four have won 52 events, lost only two. Sagues and Skaer are undefeated, with Sagues swimming two events a meet. Girvin and Edmonds have lost once each and they also swim two events each.

IN ADDITION, they bring out the record books at every meet in which they are swimming. Edmonds, Sagues and Girvin have set at least one school record each, with Girvin rewriting the 100-yard backstroke mark three times this year, in addition to setting a new 200-yard individual medley mark. Sagues has broken the mark for the 100 free style and Edmonds broke the 200 free style record twice.

The big test for the Pirates comes tomorrow when they tackle Terra Linda. Both teams are tied for the league lead with 4-0 records.

IT PAYS TO double play at Redwood.

The twin killings are cropping up at what could be a record rate for the Giants this year.

In 12 games, the Giants, with the combination of shortstop Ken Johnson, second baseman Jim Scovil and first baseman Jack Fitzhenry, have come up with 12 double plays, five in three MCAL games.

The best Redwood double play output was 16 in 1962 when Bob Scovil, Jim's older brother, was playing second base. Would you believe coincidence?

Like Days Of Old: Yanks Lead League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was an old combination back at work in the American League standings today.

The New York Yankees were in first place again, put there on a shutout by slick Whitey Ford.

It's been 2½ years — if you don't count opening day when nobody else played — since the Yankees had nine teams below them.

Last season, when they finished 10th, the Yanks never made it over the .500 mark and Ford, plagued with a circulatory problem in his left shoulder, managed just two victories.

But he was the oldtime Whitey against the Chicago White Sox yesterday, allowing just seven singles for a 3-0 victory. It was his 45th career shutout and his first since Aug. 5, 1965 when the victims were, ironically, the White Sox and yesterday's loser, Tommy John.

When he retired the last man, Ford, attempting a comeback after his second shoulder operation, jumped off the mound in joy. It was like those pictures of pitchers who've just won World Series games. You remember World Series games. Ford used to work in them in the good old days.

Elsewhere in the American league yesterday, rookie Red Carew drove in the winning run with a ninth-inning single as Minnesota and Dean Chance defeated Baltimore 3-2. Three home runs powered Cleveland to a 4-1 victory over Kansas City. Washington's doubleheader at Boston was rained out.

Ford was delighted with his performance. "It's been a long time hasn't it?" he said, grinning.

The ace left-hander, who ran into Boston rookie Bill Rohr's one-hitter in his first start this season, said he was bothered somewhat by Chicago's 49 degree temperature.

"My fingers began to feel the cold after six innings and I couldn't use my breaking stuff. I went mostly to the fast ball and the sinker."

The Yankees picked up a run off John in the second on Charley Smith's single, two walks and a sacrifice fly by John Kennedy. Smith's sacrifice fly and a single by Joe Pepitone drove in two more in the third following an error by Chicago's Tom McCraw.

The Twins knocked off the Orioles with a strong pitching performance by Chance, who allowed just five hits and struck out 10.

Carew, a rookie second baseman, broke the game up with a one-out, bases loaded single against Stu Miller in the ninth. The hit scored Ted Uhlaender, running for Harmon Killebrew, who had opened the inning with a single. Killebrew also hit his first homer of the year earlier in the game.

Max Alvis, Duke Sims and Chuck Hinton all hit home runs for the Indians against Kansas City and Sonny Siebert, with late inning help from Bob Allen, picked up his first victory.

San Rafael, Redwood Win Marin League Net Matches

Prevailing weather conditions made way for two Marin County Athletic League tennis matches yesterday, but MCAL baseball teams remained stymied by the unfavorable conditions.

San Rafael's netmen romped to their second straight league victory as they blanked Marin Catholic, 5-0, at San Rafael; and Redwood squeezed by Sir Francis Drake's Pirates, 3-2, to increase its loop record to 2-1, at Redwood. Drake now owns a 1-2 won-lost mark in MCAL competition.

Redwood's track team yesterday downed Crestmoor and El Camino in a triangular meet at San Bruno, with Greg Sullivan's record shattering performance in the two mile run, 10:04.5, and Dave Howell's three second place finishes highlighting the action for the victors. Howell clocked 15.7 in the 120 high hurdles; 20.7 in the 180 low hurdles (and lost by a tenth of a second in both races), in addition to making his best long jump of the year, 20-6¾.

SOUR NOTES: Novato vs. Tamalpais in golf competition has been postponed until Friday (Novato's linksters were to meet Redwood today at Indian Valley.) And in baseball activity, the Marin Catholic vs. Terra Linda game — rained out Tuesday — was to be played today; while Redwood at Tamalpais and San Rafael at Novato has been postponed until next Wednesday due to wet grounds.

Additionally, College of Marin's tennis team was forced to cancel a match with San Mateo yesterday, but the Tar racket men were to square off with Santa Rosa today, 2 p.m. at Santa Rosa. They travel to Rocklin tomorrow for an encounter with Sierra, also 2 o'clock.

The Marin netters, perched atop the standings with a 4-9 Golden Valley Conference record, have twice been forced to postpone matches with co-leader Shasta, 4-0, due to the weather man's inability to bring sunshine to the bounty county.

Zealand Championship the last two years, charged through driving sleet and rain to trim 48 seconds from the 26-mile, 385-yard course record set by Morio Shigematsu in leading a 1-2-3-5-6 Japanese finish in 1965. Japan swept the first four places with newcomers last year.

VERY COLD

"It was very cold and my calf muscles got very stiff, but I was not overly tired at the finish," McKenzie said. "The hills didn't bother me. I just wanted to stay out in front."

"We didn't expect to be beaten," Aoki said. "We had heard of McKenzie, but we didn't realize how strong he was until we saw him run."

Tooru Terasawa, who helped the Japanese run opposition into the ground as coach before he settled for a third place finish in 1966, said he and his three running partners this year were bothered by the cold, rain and strong winds, as well as a record-setting early pace.

Terasawa said he and his three countrymen had hoped to pass McKenzie on Heartbreak Hill.

TOO STRONG

"When he was so strong going down the hill, we realized we couldn't make it," Terasawa said.

Andy Boychuk, the Canadian national champion, finished sixth in 2:18.7, with Japan's Takashi Inoue seventh in 2:20.41, and Terasawa eighth in 2:21.17. Danny MFcadzien of the British Royal Navy was ninth in 2:26.6, and Finnish champ Kalevi Ihaski 10th in 2:27.2.

Asked about 1968 Olympic hopes, McKenzie said the Games are "too far off to think about right now." However, he obviously is looking forward to a crack at Japan's best, including Shigematsu, now in training for the gold medal test in Mexico.

STEVENS

Some folks take the high road to Africa for a trophy pair of tusks, or India for el tigre, or to Alaska for a polar bear or a giant brownie. But there are sportsmen who look for and find trophy black bass in such places as Lake Berryessa.

Just to prove it can be done, one of East Bay's mightiest anglers, along with his nine-year-old son went to the Putah Creek Marina last Saturday to join battle with a trophy black bass. Therein lies a true tale of a man against the elements and a big fish.

IT HAPPENED this way:

Mel Toponce and his son, Mark, braved the cold rain and wet, wet clothes to prove the adage: "Nothing ventured, nothing gained." Hooking a "Purple Eel" lure to his 8½ foot fly rod, our hero teased a true lunker blackie into sampling the ability of Mel Toponce to hook, play and eventually land a large fish on a light, 8-pound line. A light nudge at the artificial on the part of the bass, a quick snatch of the light rod to the vertical to set the hook, and the battle was on.

Long minutes, each packed with 60 seconds of thrills, ensued. Like a desperate tug-of-war, first the fish would gain a few yards of line, than Mel would retaliate with yards of line.

Now, understand, Mel Toponce is no tyro at fishing. He knew he had a big fish on his line, but he also knew that unless he played it just right, he'd never get the chance to see his opponent, hence the game of give and take with his hookup, slowly but surely gaining line.

AFTER ABOUT 30 thrill-packed minutes, the fisherman won out, his prize came belly up close enough to the boat to allow the net to engulf him in it. Mel heaved a huge sigh and gazed in admiration at the largest black bass ever to be taken out of the Putah Creek Marina, and perhaps the largest at any time in any part of the lake — a solid, 10-pound beauty.

Mel's son, an experienced angler in his own right, caught two nice blackies on the trip, also. Mark now has a mark to shoot at.

THE REPORT FROM Ben Shintaku of the 60 Main Bait Shop in Isleton sent an exciting report of increased activity with large and medium sized stripers. Ben writes: "It seems even the stripers are cooperating in pre-Rio Vista Bass Derby. Despite the bad weather, derby waters in Rio Vista Bay, from Decker Island to the second tower, saw action that ranged from good to excellent.

Lloyd Korth, of Pirate's Lair, and Ed Wilson of the Band W boats, said striper fishing was fair to good at San Andreas Shoal and Lower Mokelumne below Hiway bridge (Hiway 12). Fish up to 31 pounds were taken, all on bait.

THE CLIFF HOUSE let out 34 boats in two days which accounted for 79 bass to 24 pounds; Uncle Bob's spot reported 24 boats out for the two days with a catch of 87 bass to 36 pounds. At Bryan's place 26 boats in the two days came back with 60 fish to 28 pounds. So if the weather calms down, the 1967 Rio Vista Derby should be a huge success.

BIFF BUFF

Cardinals Are Hitting At .335 Clip

Five St. Louis Cardinals have hit safely in all six games they've played this season.

So Tim McCarver, who isn't in the quintet, belted a three-run homer last night as the undefeated Red Birds handed the San Francisco Giants their sixth straight defeat, this time 7-5.

Through the six games, St. Louis batters, including the pitchers, are belting at a .335 clip.

"Everyone deserves credit the way we've been going," declared McCarver, the catcher who starred at the bat in the World Series won by the Cards in 1964.

HIGH HOPES

"The way we've been going, we keep picking each other up and I hope we keep doing it. I was just happy I could do it in this game. They've been picking me up enough."

McCarver slammed the first pitch to him from Giant ace Juan Marichal in the first inning and sent it over the right field fence, scoring Curt Flood and Roger Maris.

Marichal, who won a $100,000 contract after a 25-6 season in 1966, lasted just 3 1-3 innings and wound up with his third setback against no victories. The Cards had beaten him 6-0 in St. Louis.

"I never had hit a home run off Marichal before," McCarver admitted. "I really don't know what the pitch was...it looked like a screwball, but it wasn't where he wanted it."

Curt Flood, Roger Maris, Orlando Cepeda, Phil Gagliano and Julian Javier each collected at least one hit so all have hit safely in every Cardinal game.

SECOND HOMER

Second baseman Javie belted a two-run homer, his second round tripper in as many games, and also had a pair of singles in four trips to the plate. Each Cardinal, except Cepeda, hit safely off Marichal. Cepeda singled off reliever Joe Gibbon in the fifth.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst commented, "Seven runs in each ball game will be all right. We've been hitting since the start of spring training and I just hope it keeps up."

Now Here' Some Real Devotion

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — How's this for devotion?

When his oar broke during a high school regatta yesterday, Bob Tucker of Cardinal O'Hara High School realized he was just extra weight in his team's racing shell.

So, despite chilling 50 degree temperatures, Tucker jumped out of the shell into the Schuylkill River, where he was later fished out safely.

Today is Thursday, April 20, the 110th day of 1967 with 255 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full stage. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars, Venus and Jupiter.

Born on this day in 1894 was movie comedian Harold Lloyd.

On this day in history:

In 1889, Adolf Hitler was born in Austria.

In 1926, a picturegram of a blank check sent from London to New York by RCA Radiophoto was honored and cashed. It marked the first time a bank honored a check not actually in its possession.

A thought for the day — French novelist Anatole France once said: "To know nothing at all, to imagine is everything."

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Keep Tight Rein On Gifts, Or Lose Your Bridge Suit

Boys often celebrate April 1 by tying a string to a wallet placed on the sidewalk. Not original, but very satisfactory.

TRUMP RETURN

East won the first trick with the queen of hearts, noting that West had led from a four-card suit. This meant that South also had started with four worthless hearts. A trump return was clearly called for.

In all but a handful of cases East returned the deuce of diamonds at the second trick. It was a good idea, but not good enough.

LOW DIAMOND

Since South had no doubt about the location of the queen of diamonds he let the low diamond ride around to dummy's jack.

Declarer got to his hand with the ace of spades, ruffed a heart in dummy and discarded a heart on the king of spades.

Declarer then ruffed a club, drew trumps with the ace and king and then conceded one heart trick. It was astonishing, but South made five diamonds doubled against East's 21 points in high cards.

BEST RETURN

East can defeat the contract by returning the queen of diamonds instead of a low diamond at the second trick. South is delighted to capture the queen of diamonds with the king, but his joy is short lived.

South clears the ace of spades out of the way and then can ruff a heart with the jack of diamonds. Unfortunately, this allows East to win a trump trick with the ten of diamonds.

SAVE TRICK

South can save the trump trick by leading a trump to dummy's jack after he has cashed the ace of spades. But then East will eventually get two more heart tricks. East defeats the contract either way.

Partner opens with 2 no trumps, and the next player passes.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three spades.

There is no need to jump, since partner is forced to bid again if you bid three of any suit. If partner has three spades he will raise your suit; if he denies three spades by bidding three notrump, you will bid four clubs. Game at a black suit should be safer than game at notrump.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Changing Of Issues Means Better Gains

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "We are in our 40s with five young children. We have $20,000 in savings and own Allied Chemical; Celanese; Corn Products; Crown Zellerbach; RCA; California Standard. We're saving several thousand dollars a year but our small business may not continue and we'd like to provide for our children. What changes should we make?" — L.D.

A. I am very glad to try to help a couple like yourselves, who are working to bring up a fine family. You have a good list of stocks, though some are better situated for income than for capital enhancement, which is probably your objective.

Allied Chemical is fortunate in having as president John T. Connor, former Secretary of Commerce and head of Merck & Company. Like some other chemicals, Allied has shown little growth and less appreciation over the past decade and — for your purpose — I suggest exchanging this stock for Sterling Drug.

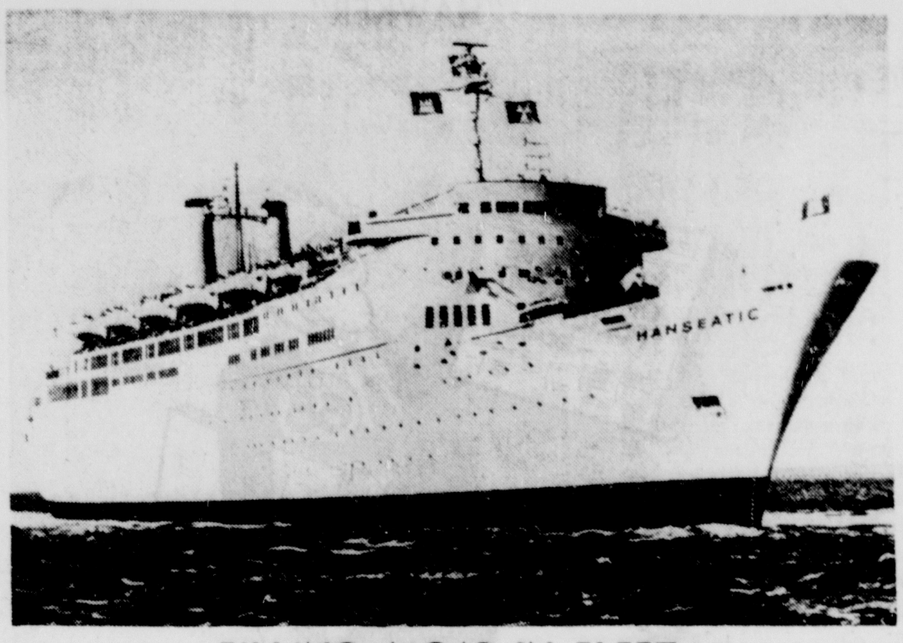
Celanese is down sharply in price because of lower synthetic fiber prices but I believe the shares should now be retained. Your other holdings seem satisfactory and I suggest no further changes.

Q. "I am holding $400 in Pan American 4½ per cent convertible debentures due in 1984. Should I sell or hold?" — I.K.

A. Your Pan Am. debentures are quoted around 225 which is just about their conversion value. At this level their current return is too low to afford any protection against price decline — if the stock for which they are exchangeable sells lower. They will move closely with the common which — like other airline issues — is quite volatile. If you can sustain considerable market risk and a low yield I would hold the debentures for their long-term option on a growth situation. Otherwise, I would switch into a better-yielding, less volatile stock such as Texaco.



FILLING A GAP IN FLEET

The Hanseatic, the giant German luxury passenger liner which burned in New York's harbor a few months ago, is being replaced sooner than expected. The German line, Deutsche Atlantik, has purchased the liner Shalom from Israel's Zim shipping firm and has recommissioned it for voyages until the Hanseatic's real replacement, the Hamburg, is ready for its maiden voyage in 1969. Another Market Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed moderately higher today posting its sixth straight daily advance.

The market rose at the start then sagged into irregularity as traders did their usual Thursday evening up. Stocks showed no disposition to retreat any further and the list gradually recovered.

Du Pont bolstered the averages with a gain of about 3. Up about a point were Caterpillar, Alcoa, Homestake, U.S. Smelting and General Foods.

IBM was unchanged and Xerox rose more than 2.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Portland Architect Firm Opens An Office In Novato

A new architectural office—Frank A. Rommel and Associates—has been opened in the Page Construction Co. building at 834 Vallejo Avenue, Novato.

This is the first branch of a firm headquartered in Portland. Among its projects in this area have been the new Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building to go up in Novato and the Wells Fargo Bank building scheduled for Vacaville. Manager in Novato is Nicholis Ferzacca, of San Rafael, who had his own office in Tiburon for a number of years and recently has been working for Hoytt Enterprises.

Ferzacca's territory will include all of Marin County, San Francisca and probably Sonoma County.

TWO NEW OPERATORS have taken over the Texaco station at 1115 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, and this is now known as Ivo and Edoardo's Texaco.

Shareowner Crowd Shifts May Mean Expanded Market

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The shift in the center of shareowner population, once between Boston and Philadelphia but now on a steady course to the interior, could provoke the New York Stock Exchange into setting up trading floors around the country.

This idea of following the shareowner crowd is not planned for the immediate future nor is it projected, but the possibility is dismissed by exchange officials.

Technology, however, could lead also to changes in trading patterns, now unforeseen, that might even eliminate any need for multiple offices, or even for a floor anywhere. In their basic pattern, trading floors are, perhaps by necessity, little advanced from fish auction markets.

As the 175th anniversary of the exchange approaches next month, it must consider moves to accommodate itself to shifting population pressures, just as the pressure of heavy trading forced a move from the original tontine coffee house site in 1793.

One of the big disadvantages of a single exchange floor in New York is the clock, which closes the exchange at 3:30 p.m. EST when it is only 12:30 on the Pacific Coast and breakfast time in Hawaii.

A West Coast trader who wishes to catch the New York opening must be dressed, have eaten and traveled to his office by 7 a.m., a schedule that evokes wonder but little sympathy in the east.

Easterners and their work habits are tradition-bound, thoroughly scheduled, rather fussy. It would be too great a job to ask them to observe a trading day of, say, 11:30 to 5.

The alternatives also are complicated, not the least of the problems being the presence of thriving stock exchanges in cities such as Chicago and San Francisco, which must be considered possibilities for any new floor.

Nevertheless, the problems of shifting population must be considered. Already California has taken the shareowner lead from New York, showing 2.5 million shareowners in 1965 to 2.4 million for New York.

Share ownership has risen everywhere, but the shifts in shareowner population are conclusively westward and southward.

Firm Discipline Instills Respect For Authority

The action of the Dixie School District trustees last week in backing up a school principal for disciplining students who had committed vandalism was heartwarming.

The trustees ruled that Principal William B. Van Winkle had followed district policy in disciplining 15 pupils at Lucas Valley School.

As an expression of confidence in the princinpal, the trustees also decided to continue the policy of giving principals full authority in handling of school discipline.

Failure of the trustees to give their school principal a strong vote of confidence could have had a deleterious effect on school discipline throughout the county.

The modern trend in the disciplining of young people in schools, homes and on the streets has been toward leniency — giving young people free expression, with a minimum of restraint.

In certain cases, leniency and tolerance may be effective in the upbringing of children. But in other cases, the trend toward leniency has gone so far that some of the young rebels defy authority and thumb their noses at those who try to impose discipline. Law enforcement agencies report many instances when a surly young violator turns on authority with the statement: "You can't touch me; I'm a minor."

Much of this attitude could have been forestalled by firm discipline at home and in schools during the preteen years. Respect for parents, teachers and duly constituted authority, developed during those formative years, would have carried over into the teens and adulthood.

The Lucas Valley School principal's action in ordering pupils who defaced school property to clean up the mess was the type of discipline that youth can understand and will long remember.

Each problem of school discipline that arises hereafter will be handled on its merits by the administrators and boards of trustees of the district. Cruel and inhuman punishment certainly should not be tolerated. But when disciplinary action is just, as was the case in Dixie, we trust that trustees and parents will back up their principals with the same forthrightness.

Politicians Caught By Surprise By Romney's Stand On Vietnam

LOS ANGELES — Everywhere I have been on this reporting trip across the country, politicians in both parties express surprise at the thrust of Gov. George Romney's Vietnam speech.

They are surprised not by his stand in support of U. S. policy but by the unconventional boldness with which he made it clear that he would take Vietnam entirely out of the 1968 Presidential campaign if he gets the Republican nomination.

Republicans have been counting on the Vietnam war as a kind of unearned dividend which could only help the GOP wrest the White House from President Johnson next year.

Republicans have been convinced that, regardless of what other issues might develop, Vietnam would overlay everything else and inevitably contribute to a Republican victory.

AND NOW comes Romney in his Hartford speech which clearly rests on the unexpected proposition that the opposite is the truth. The implications of this speech are in keeping with these two propositions:

That as a campaign issue Vietnam will be a liability to the Republicans, not an asset, because it will enable the President to distract attention from domestic shortcomings where he will be more vulnerable to GOP attack.

That the Republicans will have a far better chance of defeating Johnson by concentrating wholly on internal economic issues, like keeping down the cost of living, where the polls continue to show the Administration weakest.

I DOUBT that Romney set out to devise a subtle political strategy. My guess is that Romney did not deliberately plan to remove Vietnam as a campaign issue if nominated, but that when he found that this was the consequence of the position it was natural for him to take, he quickly saw that it was good politics.

Because the different stories reporting the Hartford speech understandably stressed different angles, it is possible that the extent to which Romney supported Johnson policy has not come fully into focus. But he backed the Administration's conduct of the war at every crucial point:

He supported the continued bombing of the North in the same terms as the President — that to fail to do so is to let down our own troops.

HE OPPOSED major escalation of the war in a "let's get it over with" mood by saying frankly to the hawks that this "simplistic" solution is "tempting but wrong."

He served notice that under his leadership the Republican Party will not allow itself to be a party to a "peace at any price" maneuver either in frustration or to win an election. Richard Nixon had warned that, unless Johnson stepped up the war, the Republicans might be tempted to settle on Hanoi's terms. Romney said never under any circumstances.

IF I UNDERSTAND Administration policy, this is exactly the way the President plans to continue to conduct the war and conduct the peace. While Romney leaves open the possibility of criticizing the Administration on tactics, there is no significant area for partisan debate.

I FIND that to many Republicans this seems a bold and sudden course for Romney to take. But it may well prove to be an exceedingly shrewd move. It makes it unlikely that Johnson can find any way to turn Vietnam against the Republicans and it would enable Romney to campaign on the issues where he might be strongest and Johnson weakest.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There are still a few of us that believe in giving credit where credit is due. Hence our bitter disappointment over your decision to by-pass the story of McGraw-Hill employees financially adopting two orphan children over seas.

Good coverage on this story could have resulted in other companies following suit to offer their help to needy children. Good publicity is a great inducement to share in good fortune with others not so fortunate, and an appropriate article in your paper could have been of great value and benefit to others.

Marin County needs words of praise right now for reassurance that we do have fine, well intentioned people working hard for a better life; not just for themselves, but for others as well.

We appreciate the interview that Mr. Newell gave us, but we did expect a nicer, more complete article written on our project.

Action Needed To Halt Deaths

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Ten o'clock passed almost unnoticed in my English class. There were only two of us who realized it was the hour of execution, and we just stared at each other wondering what was right. The other girl belongs to a group that sent a telegram to Governor Reagan which read:

"Thou Shalt Not Kill . . . Stop."

I think that telegram should have been sent to all Californians, not just the Governor. When will people recognize the fact that they must change unjust laws? They can't allow unjust laws to remain and expect their officials to disobey them.

If you are against capital punishment, don't wait until another man is sentenced to the gas chamber and then start campaigning against it. Act now to change the law so this situation won't arise again.

We Californians must realize that California law is our responsibility. We cannot ask the governor or any other official to break laws on the basis of humanitarianism. We must instead make our laws human.

Failure To Vote Proves Costly

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the April 10 election Mrs. Anita Strom, an incumbent, was defeated for re-election to the San Rafael Board of Education. There appear to have been several reasons.

1. Her organization, of which I was the titular head, failed to "get out the vote" for her. I am convinced that she has several thousand supporters who simply failed to vote, because (a) they thought she would win anyway, (b) they were too tired to go to the polls, or (c) they were deterred by the rain. In one phrase, "voter apathy."

2. Her opponents ran an undercover campaign against her (not for themselves) consisting of propaganda based on old accusations long ago disproven, new accusations with no truth behind them. This cost some votes, but thinking people really didn't heed. It would have been insignificant if more thinking people had got to the polls.

3. Mrs. Strom took a firm and clearly stated stand for her principles, while her opponents mouthed platitudes and avoided issues. In fact, they could not oppose her sound principles, and even began to adopt some as their own toward the end of the campaign. Apparently, many voters don't like to know what they are voting for. ("VOTE 1-2-3"!!!)

Well, the voters will get what they deserve; both those who voted for Mrs. Strom's opponents, and those who failed to deliver their vote in her support. They are getting a Board increasingly deferent to the vocal special interests, the more active group of educators who are intent on selling our youth the doctrines of Socialism. They are getting a board much less responsive to the wishes of the citizens, parents and taxpayers, one which abdicates more and more of its authority — derived from the citizens — to the self-interested pressure groups.

Asylum Living Sounds Absurd

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding the letter from James M. Bouchard, Corte Madera, in the April 14 Independent-Journal:

Mr. Bouchard states he knows people who "have themselves committed by doing crazy things, then live it up in an asylum." This action seems to have something to do with waiting for pension checks to amount to $650, then paying an attorney's fees of $75 to "spring them" from the asylum. Mr Bouchard further states "these people" take this action more than once.

I have never heard of this extraordinary procedure which, of course, does not deny its existence. However I have heard of and seen the asylums where "these people live it up." My only comment would be that "these people" must be out of their minds and have chosen to live in exactly the place they belong.

Please, assure Mr. Bouchard that this is my personal opinion and not meant as an ipsedixit. *

Principal Shows His Principles

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How about that William B. Van Winkle . . . a principal with principles!! It is heartening to know that there is at least one left who is ready and willing to fight for his convictions.

As taxpayers (over one half of our rather formidable tax bill is for schools . . . and we have NO children), would like to express our thanks to Principal, Van Winkle for his firm stand on vandalism at his school.

We would also like to compliment those parents, who, after second thoughts, went along with Principal Van Winkle and his very fair punishment of their youngsters. We feel that those parents showed real love and sincere concern for their children . . . enough to pocket their own feelings and to think first of building a good character for their youngsters.

Air Base Resident Condemns Phil Drath

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wonder if Drath really thinks people believe only good will took him to a communist enemy to aid them. If he wants to be a humanitarian, he can find plenty of poverty stricken people in his own country and among our allies.

Our American men are dying for this country in Vietnam, so that our children won't have to fight communism here at home. That is being a patriot. I can think of a lot of names for Drath and among them are not words such as patriot or humanitarian. He is the disgrace of our country and those like him.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

SENSE OF DUTY IN SPITE OF SON'S DEATH

The sobbing of a mother in a Baltimore court caught the attention of a deputy sheriff.

So he questioned the 51-year-old mother of four who had been summoned as a witness in a larceny case.

The woman revealed that just before leaving home for the court, she had been notified that her only son had been killed in Vietnam.

She had come anyway, she said, because she felt it was her civic duty. In deference to her, the judge postponed the case indefinitely.

Few people would take their responsibilities as citizens so much to heart as did this unusual mother. Her willingness to put aside personal grief to fulfill a legal obligation is little short of heroic.

But God expects you to make a conscientious effort to meet your responsibilties in upholding high standards in government, education and other community affairs. This applies even when it means sacrifice of comfort, time or convenience.

"Blessed are they who observe justice, who do righteousness at all times."
(Psalm 106:3)

SACRAMENTO SCENE

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Most of the headlines in California's liquor industry these days are made by the topless waitresses but some continuing basic struggles within the industry have considerably more significance than the extent to which the bosoms of the barmaids are covered.

One of the prime ones is whether the artificial monopoly on the number of package store licenses should be relaxed. There are bills in on most of the touchy subjects and anything could happen but probably won't.

TO ADD TO the perennial nervousness of the liquor industry this year is the prime prospect of a tax increase. Gov. Ronald Reagan caught the industry a bit off balance when he proposed that the tax on distilled spirits be boosted by 75 cents per gallon — to $2.25. Most had expected the added tax would be only 50 cents.

Elements of the package store fraternity have let it be known that they would support a "reasonable" tax increase but they feel the 75-cent bounce is not reasonable. They have indicated they would settle for 50 cents. If the governor's strategy was to announce plans for a whole loaf and then settle for a half, maybe it will pay off.

OF COURSE, the major tax plan opposing Reagan's — the $1.15 billion program espoused by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R-Modesto, chairman of the assembly revenue and taxation committee — does not call for any increase in the liquor tax. Veneman reasoned that there's not enough money involved to go to the trouble of raising the tax.

The tax increases proposed by Reagan, Veneman and others generally would hit the consumer — directly on such things as sales tax, cigarette tax and personal income tax, and indirectly on bank and corporation taxes. It might be assumed that the liquor tax increase — amounting to 15 cents per fifth — also might be passed along to the consumer.

But this might not be so automatic as it appears. Under California's Fair Trade Act — which was upheld as constitutional by the state Supreme Court just last December — distillers or brand owners set a minimum retail price on hard liquor. The Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control enforces sales at these minimum prices.

IN NEIGHBORING Nevada, where prices of many items such as canned goods are higher than in California, the price of liquor is lower. On some name brands, the difference may be as much as $1 per quart.

Those who complain that the price of liquor in California is kept artificially high by the fair trade law may feel the industry should absorb the 15-cent tax, if it's enacted.

James O. Reimel, who used to be director of ABC but now works for the California Retail Liquor Dealers Institute, the package store group, said this couldn't be the case. Reimel said the California stores are working on such a narrow margin now they wouldn't be able to absorb the tax boost.

AS FOR the state-fixed monopoly on liquor licenses, Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-Atherton, has introduced a bill to relax it. Dolwig's bill would permit transfer of licenses from one county to another.

Off-sale licenses are limited to one for each 2,500 residents in a county. In counties where this quota is not met, the number of new licenses issued in any year may not exceed 10 per cent of the number of existing licenses, or 25, whichever is smaller.

Dolwig's plan would permit licenses in such counties as San Francisco, where there are too many, to be transferred to such counties as Orange, where there are so few that the going price on the market for the $6,000 licenses is upwards of $50,000. Dolwig is bucking a strong lobby for the present licensees who want the status quo.

NO ONE is holding his breath until a law change.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

OLD-TIME baseball great Hank Greenberg tells this story on himself. Pitcher Dizzy Dean, who had handled Hank with consummate ease in a previous World Series, got careless in an all-star game and fed him his favorite pitch —a high, inside, fast ball. Hank pickled it for a line triple. Back in the dugout, Manager Frisch fumed, "I told you not to give Greenberg a fat pitch like that." "Shucks," explained Dizzy Dean, "I jes' got curious. I was beginning to think he couldn't hit nuthin'!"

THERE'S A challenging item buried in the text of this year's report by the Georgia Game and Fish Commission. It reads. "One of our hunters was shot, though not seriously, this spring when another hunter mistook him for a squirrel."

IT TAKES a lot to upset a true English cockney lady these days. Consider the one who didn't budge one inch out of the way when a full-grown lion, escaped from the zoo, tore past her one morning. As it disappeared around the corner, she remarked calmly to a friend, "Blimey, you don't see many of THEM about nowadays!"

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Teacher Corps Now Gaining Acceptance

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The controversial National Teachers Corps is gaining surprising support in Congress less than a year after its stormy beginning.

Launched in 1966 as an experimental program to improve education in city slums and depressed rural areas, this Great Society project appears to be on the way to winning permanent approval.

Surveys by Democratic leaders indicate that a majority of the House and Senate favor expanding the corps and keeping it operation until 1970.

A SIGNIFICANT sign of this was the administration's success in removing the program from the experimental stage.

The House Education and Labor Committee, which had evinced many misgivings in launching the corps, overwhelmingly voted $46 million to continue it through 1969. Of this amount $21 million can be spent during the coming fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee did cut the amount proposed for the coming fiscal year. The president had recommended $36 million. The committee reduced that to $21 million, but left the door open to authorize the other $15 million later in the session.

If this prediction is borne out, the corps will be able to more than double its size — now 1,213 teachers and teacher-interns.

ORGANIZED IN teams, the teachers are working in 275 schools in 111 districts. The interns, who make up two-thirds of the corps, work under the guidance of the experienced teachers.

The interns spend part of a week in an elementary or secondary school which has requested their services, and the remaining time studying in a university for a master's degree.

The teachers are paid the same as other teachers, while the interns receive a beginner's scale. Under an amendment approved by the House Education Committee, interns could receive either this pay or $75 a week, plus $15 for each dependent.

SCHOOLS BECOME eligible for corps teams if a "significant number" of children are from families with less than $3,000 income, or if 50 per cent of the enrollment receives aid to dependent children.

In its report the House Committee states the teachers corps is producing a number of "desirable side effects."

By placing teachers in slums, the program is attracting numerous young people who want to work with the poor but would not have gone into teaching. Many were planning to join the Peace Corps.

THE COMMITTEE also found that "the teachers corps program is generating new insights into what constitutes an effective teacher preparation program. University training centers have developed special programs, courses and curriculums geared to the needs of neglected schools in their areas."

Deans of educational schools and presidents of universities told the committee they view the corps as a means of testing new teaching concepts.

AS AN "experimental program," the committee recommended that corps teams be assigned to migrant groups to conduct classes as they move about.

Words Every American Wife Must Get Weary Of Hearing

"What would you like for our wedding anniversary, Jane? Something useful like a new can opener?"

"You may think money grows on trees but it doesn't."

"Hey, Mom, where's my blue sport shirt? It has to be somewheres."

"Why is it always my turn to have to take out the garbage?"

"Yeah, it tastes okay. But, of course, nobody can cook that dish quite like my mother could."

"I WAS CLEANING out my desk and came across some of your old love letters, Jane. Gosh, we certainly were nutty in those days, weren't we?"

"What do you do with yourself all day, just sit around and watch soap operas on television?"

"I know I promised to take you out some night this week. But can't we make it some night next week instead?"

"Hey, Mom, have you seen my plaid skirt? It has to be somewheres."

"MY GREAT grandmother traveled west in a covered wagon without an electric dishwasher. My grandmother raised 10 children on a farm without an electric dishwasher. My mother never asked my father for an electric dishwasher. So why should you mind getting a few soapsuds on your hands?"

"What do we need a new rug for? We've only had this one 23 years, and it still looks as good as new — except for the worn spots."

"WHILE YOU'RE UP, honey, would you mind going to the refrigerator and get me a can of beer? And while you're at it, how about making me a sandwich? Be sure and butter both pieces of the bread. Yeah, and don't forget the mustard."

"Hey, Mom, where's my pink blouse? It has to be somewheres."

"Gee, I wonder what is would be like to be single again. I've been married so long I don't even remember."

"I JUST MET up with an old war buddy, so I guess I'll miss the 5:57 train. If I miss the 6:43, be sure and meet the 7:39. And if I'm not on that, I'll be on the 8:52 — for sure."

"Don't tell me we're having odessa mismash hash for dinner, Jane. That's exactly what I had for lunch."

"Hey, Mom...!"

"Hey, Mom...!"

"HEY, MOM . . . !"

Clark Kerr's Martyrdom Raises Lowly Teachers' Social Status

Until the martyrdom of Dr. Clark Kerr, most of us were unaware of the sweatshop conditions under which our schoolteachers labor; that their pay is a mere pittance, barely enough to keep body and soul alive and maintain a strong lobby in every legislature, state or national.

THE WORST OF IT is, as these lobbies point out, that the educator could earn far more in any other field. When Kerr lost his $45,000 job as president of the University of California, which he had turned from a one-room schoolhouse into a modern Athens, it was predicted he would be snapped up by industry or some Eastern college at twice that stipend.

Undoubtedly such offers were made, but Kerr's dedication is such that he preferred to return to UC as a lowly professor at a mere $30,000. Money doesn't matter to the truly dedicated.

AS A YOUNGSTER, I realized nothing of the sacrifices involved in teaching. Occasionally, like the other kids, I brought my teacher an apple before a tough exam. But now that the wailing has made me realize that was probably the only lunch she could afford. I am sorry I didn't think to slip in an occasional sandwich, too.

Though we liked our teachers well enough, our own code never accepted them as full equals nor gave them the status our parents did. We might give our somewhat oversized drawing teacher our seat in the subway or bus, but none of us would have dreamed of marrying her. That was taboo.

Nor did that prejudice fade entirely even when I grew older. At any rate, I met a cute trick one night at a party and had a swell time till I discovered she taught first grade. Naturally, that scared the heck out of me, although she didn't look in the least like any of the teachers I had had.

BUT IN THOSE days I lived dangerously and recklessly called her up for another date. And then another one—even though I had meanwhile gathered that her father and her uncle were university professors. That cinched it — I knew Nothing Serious could develop.

But I hated to think of this culturally disadvantaged chick doomed to an academic ghetto, her life burdened with professorial teas when she wasn't explaining to indignant parents why Johnny got only a B in math.

SO I WRESTLED with my conscience — and lost. I felt it my duty to save her from a Fate Worse Than Death by making the Supreme Sacrifice and offering her wedding bells.

Naturally, maidenly modesty forbade her snapping up the offer — and it also happened a couple of other noble souls were equally intent on rescuing her. But about the tenth time I pointed out the advantages of marrying a writer, she signed on the dotted line.

All these years, I must say, she has been properly grateful whenever I have reminded her she might have been a starving schoolteacher but for my intervention. On these occasions, she usually bows three times and walks backward out of the room.

BUT THE OTHER day, she just said "Oh yeah?" and, without bowing even once, handed me a clipping from the local Los Angeles paper. It told of the death of a retired public school kindergarten teacher who had left an estate of over $100,000 — a $30,000 home and the rest in government bonds accumulated in a lifetime of saving.

Obviously, I pointed out, there must be some explanation. Everybody knows who knows anything that no teacher can save a dime out of her meager salary. The lady probably did some moonlighting as a plumber after school hours. Or maybe she acted as a CIA agent.

"OH, SURE," said the Little Woman. "And how did it happen that when we were married, shortly after the 1929 crash, you couldn't afford to take me to the movies; while my father, a starving college professor who was neither a plumber nor a CIA agent, took his wife to Europe?"

The next time I see the local head of the American Federation of Teachers (who moans even louder than Kerr), I hope to get the real answers.

BUT MEANWHILE, things aren't so hot. Now it's the Little Woman who tells of her sacrifice — and I'm the one who bows low and walks backward.

Asphalt Supply Drawing Slated

Marin County supervisors yesterday authorized a drawing to decide which of four oil companies should get the contract next fiscal year on supplying asphalt for county roads.

The four firms submitted identical bids ranging rfom $20 to $25.90 per ton, according to grade. Bids of the firms, Douglas, Shell and Union Oil companies and Chevron Asphalt Co., were referred to the U.S. Attorney General's office for investigation of possible price fixing, Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows reported.

County purchasing agent John F. Hettrich will schedule the drawing, which must be held in public.

Going On A Picnic? If So Report It

Udall's department reported today that 80,514,000 individuals went on picnics in 1965, making it the most popular form of what government people term an "outdoor recreation experience."

Walkers and swimmers were evenly matched that year. The Census Bureau, which did the survey work for the Department of the Interior, found 67,801,000 in each category.

But 1.03 billion walks were taken, while the number of swims swum was only 970 million.

The report has figures to show how many people were bicycling, fishing, camping, riding and doing the other things people do outdoors for fun, with 1960 figures for comparisons.

The trend, the survey said, is a sudden spurt in outdoor activity. The number of "experiences" jumped 51 per cent between 1960 and 1965.

No County Funding For Road Beauty

Directors of Terra Linda Community Services District Tuesday night learned that no funds are included in next year's county budget proposal for landscaping the north side of Las Gallinas Road, but requests by directors for three boulevard stop signs along the route probably can be granted.

A Golden Gate Park Envisioned For Marin

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen told members of the Conservation Council of Marin last night he envisioned a vast park between San Rafael and Novato.

Kettenhofen saw economic incentive as the means to create the park. He proposed a system of bonuses for developers, allowing higher density construction on built-up areas when developers dedicate 90 to 95 per cent of the area to open space.

Kettenhofen told the council, meeting at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, that the St. Vincent's School land and the properties of Anthony Silveira and the Smith brothers might be developed like Marincello with dedication of 92 per cent of the area to open space.

This would provide a park on the scale of Golden Gate Park between Highway 101 and the Bay, he said.

Kettenhofen said Marin, which is planning for a population of 800,000 in 50 years, will be sandwiched between large population centers in San Francisco and Sonoma County. Taxes, bond issues and donations cannot produce enough money to save the landscape against such population pressures, he said.

"I know that the cause of conservation would be better served by assuming a much higher population rather than a lower one as conservationists are prone to do today," he said.

The first flag to wave over the San Francisco Peninsula, that of King Carlos III of Spain, was raised at the Presidio of San Francisco in 1776.

Judge Grants Fouts' Divorce

Interlocutory decrees of divorce to Robert O. Fouts, 45, television and radio sports announcer, and his wife, Carolyn, 44, were granted in Marin Superior Court yesterday following court trial before Judge Samuel W. Gardiner.

The couple, of 1 Tappan Court, Sleepy Hollow, had sued each other on grounds of cruelty. Judge Gardiner gave Mrs. Fouts custody of two minor children, and ordered Fouts to pay her $500 monthly alimony and child support.

The Foutes wed July 14, 1943, in Sacramento and separated March 16, 1965.

New Tract Group Elects Officer Slate

Directors of the newly created San Rafael Park Civic Association, dedicated to improvement of the new tract in Lucas Valley, last night named San Rafael insurance man William McLachlin of 99 Lucas Park Drive as president.

Named vice president was William E. Lange; treasurer, Ricardo A. Ratti, and secretary, Mrs. Lea Nixon.

The board set $4 annual membership dues and set up committees to study specific problems, Mrs. Nixon reported today.

Lange and Thomas Taylor were named to study the San Rafael master plan and condominiums planned on the east side of San Rafael Park; Arthur T. Lang was named to study water tanks proposed on the south side of the tract and drainage; Lange will study Las Gallinas Road landscaping and the entrance to the tract; James Ryan, the possibility of a traffic signal at the entrance. Ratti was named chairman of the membership committee, with Mrs. Jane Westerlund and Mrs. Gladys Chew as member.

Directors will meet next at 8 p.m. May 1 at McLachlin's home.

Expert On Quakes To Speak Tuesday

John H. Healy, a geophysicist with the United States Department of Interior National Center for Earthquake Research at Menlo Park, will speak on the national program in earthquake research Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall at the College of Marin.

Healy will speak on a new national research program to lessen the inpact of a major earthquake.
